THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT
Copyright by The Baltimore Sun and reprinted in The Republican by permission

Goldwater Rings The Bell
The direct charge by Senator Goldwater, of Arizona, that the Democratic party has been taken over by the organized labor bosses (particularly of the CIO) and that an unprecedentedly large "slush fund" exists for use in the 1956 election has created some heated and violent denials and equally violent repetitions. But there isn't anything very new about either the charges or the facts. They have been presented in this space many times.

For nearly twenty years now the labor control of the Democratic party has been established and recognized, though not advertised, by every posted politician and observer in the country. The new thing is that at this late date the Republicans should accept the situation and proclaim it. Heretofore they have ignored it, which was a mistake. Partly this was through cowardice and partly through stupidity. Republican candidates for Congress and for the higher offices quailed before the threats of the labor propagandists, and in the districts and states made foolish and futile efforts to placate the labor bosses. The Democrats, first through Roosevelt and later through Truman, gave them legislation, patronage, recognition and influence such as they never dreamed of before.

Puffed up by this sort of treatment and with consistent White House support for everything they wanted, it is not surprising the labor bosses began to believe they could run the country. Actually, they are in position—and have been for at least sixteen years—where the Democrats cannot nominate candidates for either President, Vice President, or in the larger states governor, without getting their approval. Twice in that time candidates for Vice President have been directed by the President to get in hand to these labor bosses to "clean" their nominations. Three years ago Senator Barkley, of Kentucky, after he had been blessed by Mr. Truman, was turned down by them. He says so himself. Three years ago their power seemed such that they compelled Mr. Adlai Stevenson, whom they were supporting, to make a humiliating flip-flop on the Taft-Hartley Act. Few more degrading things have been done by a presidential candidate.

The further-steady combination, untidily, expensively and enthusiastically supported Mr. Stevenson in the ensuing campaign. General Eisenhower refused to yield to the ridiculous pressures to call the Taft-Hartley Act a "slave labor law." The result was that, like Senator Taft in Ohio two years before, he overwhelmed the labor bosses! In their strongholds, demonstrating to the country that they do not control the rank and file of organized labor. Statisticians who have examined the figures in both the Taft and Eisenhower campaigns assert that fully 40 percent of the labor vote did not follow its leaders.

Now with the AFL and the CIO finally amalgamated, they are preparing for another great effort to gain control of the Government. Eight months ahead of the national conventions they have made it clear that they will support the Democratic candidate—and there isn't a single Democratic aspirant—Stevenson, Harriman, Kefauver, or any other—who does not recognize that support as indispensable either to nomination or election. There is nothing unique in this state of affairs. There has been slight disguise of the labor-boss domination in the Democratic party since 1936. There is practically no question that the tendency and desire of these labor bosses is to take the country in an extreme socialist direction. Particularly is this true of Mr. Walter Reuther, whose socialistic background and record were strikingly presented by Representative Clare Hoffman, of Michigan, in an impressive speech in Congress last August.

Twice the country has definitely shown that it does not want to be taken in a socialist direction nor to live under a labor-boss government. The vituperative denials, denunciations and defiance now issuing from the labor spokesmen should surprise no one—and affect no one. There isn't anything for them to do except deny calling Senator Goldwater a liar and a liar does not make him so. The far-fung, unprecedentedly expansive political activities and ambitions of the labor bosses should be brought out in the open and kept there. Senator Goldwater has done a courageous and useful act in boldly calling attention to a very menacing situation. The wisest thing his party can do is face the facts and draw the issue. Opposition to these arrogant name-calling, strike-fostering labor bosses does not mean opposition to organized labor—nor to the "right to strike." It does mean a healthy unwillingness to have them run the country. A great many union men do not want that either.

Tips Given on How To Mail For Xmas

Some tips on how to mail for Christmas were given out this week by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, who urged that mail patrons start planning now to shop early and mail early for the holiday season.

An illustrated pamphlet "Packaging and Wrapping Parcels for Mailing," may be obtained free which is considered helpful in making the Christmas mail burden easier. It describes type and sizes of cartons best suited for shipping and lists hints that will help with special Christmas mailing problems.

Mr. Summerfield urged that mailers pick strong containers in good condition, and that they be wrapped in heavy brown paper and tied with string twice. He cautioned against use of flimsy wrapping paper and sticky adhesive materials alone to keep the package intact.

Addresses should be printed in ink or typed with return address in upper left hand corner of parcel. Books may be sent at a special low rate of postage but mailers may not enclose other articles with books at this rate. He advised patrons to register valuable packages. He also suggested the certified mail service which provides certain advantages of registered mail at less cost. Checks, saving bonds and gift certificates may be sent by certified mail.

Helpful Spirit Needed

There have been times when citizens were asked for cash contributions for some worthy project, like the hospital, library, football bleachers or whatnot.

At the present time there is a similar worthy project, but it won't require any cash outlay. And yet, the cooperation of some 50 or 75 persons is vitally needed.

The town of Oakland and the County Commissioners are combining their interest in a flood control plan for Oakland. Much preliminary work has already been done with a plan decided upon to build seven retaining dams that would hold back water during flash floods and prevent widespread damage to the Oakland business district.

The requirement for these 50 to 75 people is to agree to easements upon portions of their property so that dams may be built. The dams are so planned that a minimum of land is needed. They are planned so that the properties are still usable except in time of high water, in which case they could not be usable anyway. They are planned so that crops may continue to be grown in the area. They are planned so that grass may be planted and trees may be planted.

Unless the easements are granted it will be impossible to construct the dams and Oakland will be left to the mercy of the elements, as in previous years, Oakland has had two disastrous floods within a year's time. It stands to reason that it will have more if these retaining dams are not built. When Oakland's businesses are harmed the entire economy of the county is hurt.

There are possibilities that the federal government will provide a percentage of the funds necessary to construct these dams, but the acquisition of all easements is a responsibility of the city and the county, and there are no funds for such work.

We are hopeful that these property owners will see the vital need of this flood control program and will readily consent to allowing these dams to be built where the soil conservation engineers have determined are the proper spots.

By doing this they will have contributed to the welfare of the community just as surely as those who are always contributing cash to various causes. And they will be contributing to the total advancement of the area in a very worthwhile manner.

Second School Bus Inspection Is Set

The second inspection for all county school buses will be conducted Monday and Tuesday, November 21 and 22. As required by law, all school buses are inspected three times annually.

Inspection of buses includes a thorough check on their mechanical condition. Brakes, steering, signal lights, doors, first aid kits, etc., are checked. Bus contractors are required to make all recommended repairs promptly after each inspection. Buses are also checked for age and general condition and recommendations for new equipment are made each year by the School Board.

Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools, said he felt the buses were giving very fine transportation service and pointed out that problems of school transportation were more difficult in this county than anywhere in the state. Each day the 90 school buses of the county travel approximately 4,000 miles with one-fourth of this transportation on dirt roads. He said every effort had been made by the School Board to provide the best transportation schedule possible for the school children of the county. He noted over forty changes made in bus routes during the summer in order to provide better transportation accommodations.

He also noted that transportation was one of the most costly items in the school budget, amounting to $270,000 annually.

He explained that school bus contractors were paid on the basis of a formula established by the state department of education. A daily driver's pay of $6.00 plus fuel.

ASC Elections Set For November 21st

The annual election of ASC community committeemen will be conducted on Monday, November 21, it was announced by H. Robert DeWitt, chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

Three community committeemen and two alternates will be elected in each of the sixteen communities in the county. Ten or more candidates have been nominated for each community by an election board consisting of three farmers living in the community. The person receiving the highest number of votes will be elected chairman, the second highest will be vice chairman.

Mr. DeWitt said the election would be carried out largely by mail, with ballots being mailed to farmers on November 10. Any farmer who does not receive a ballot by mail may secure one at the county ASC office in Oakland, located in the Oakland Hardware and Furniture company building on or before November 21. Ballots are to be returned to the ASC office by November 21, if delivered in person, or must be postmarked by this date.

A meeting will be held at the county ASC office on Wednesday, November 30, to elect a county committee for 1956. The chairman of each community committee will represent his community as a delegate at this meeting.

Community committeemen will assist the county committee in carrying out the agricultural conservation program, acreage allotment and marketing quota programs, the soil program, other price support programs, and any other programs which are assigned to it by the Secretary of Agriculture or the Congress.

Polio Vaccine Schedule Set Up

Immunization Program For Second Shots To Start In Schools Today

The program of immunizing school children against polio will be resumed in this county today, it was announced by Dr. Arthur Jones, county health officer. All of the children who received their first shot in the spring are eligible for the second of the series in this program, Dr. Jones said. He also added that all children who were eligible last spring but didn't get their initial shot, can receive their first immunization at this time.

Immunization shots were given this spring to around 1,000 first and second graders, but the second shot was not given, pending further study and testing.

Dr. Jones announced the following schedule for giving the shots: Thursday, November 10, 9 a. m. Accident and Bittering; 1:30 p. m. Friendsville.

Monday, November 14, 9 a. m. Loch Lynn and Deer Park; 10:30 a. m. Mt. Lake Park; 1:30 p. m. St. Peter's; 2:30 p. m. Crellin.

Tuesday, November 15, 9 a. m. Grantsville, Finzel, Johnson and Yoder; 1:30 p. m. Swanton, North Glade and Mt. Zion.

Thursday, November 17, 9 a. m. Bloomington; 10:30 a. m. Kitzmiller.

Friday, November 18, 9 a. m. Oakland Elementary; 1 p. m. Red House. Assisting in the program will be the same persons who helped in the spring program.

The health department announced it hoped in the near future to offer immunization to all school children who have not been immunized formerly. Dr. Jones said that up to the present time only a small percentage had called on their family physician to administer the serum.

An inspection of the records shows that paralysis was greatly reduced among those having the one shot, and that cases were negligible where two shots had been received, according to Dr. Jones.

IMPA Group Meets With Treasurer

A group of county teachers met Wednesday, November 2 in the Court House with Joseph H. Welch, county treasurer, and Dwight L. Stover, attorney to the County Commissioners and former attorney to the treasurer.

The purpose was to gain information concerning the duties of the treasurer, source and expenditure of tax funds, and other facts pertinent to the finances of the county. Mrs. Daisy Beachy served as spokesman.

This was the second in a series of studies of county government being made by the teachers who are enrolled in the Institute on Maryland Public Affairs. The first interview was with the County Commissioners.

Future discussion periods will be held with representatives from the County Roads department, the Board of Education, the Judiciary department and the county delegates to the state assembly.

The group is confining its study to the government of the county with objectives of becoming better informed citizens of their communities.

Citizens Request New Elementary School at Oakland

A group of some twenty-five parents of children of the Oakland Elementary school appeared before the Garrett County Board of Education on Tuesday to request immediate action toward the building of a new elementary school. Conditions in the old annex building where pupils in the fifth and sixth grades are housed were cited as being totally unfit for modern school purposes, and it was pointed out that the building had been condemned for school use years ago.

The committee declared it was unsanitary, unsafe, lacks adequate facilities for a modern educational program and is unimproving in every respect. The School Board agreed with the committee in its condemnation. It then outlined its plan for building a new structure on the rear of the present high school grounds near the Little League diamond, to accommodate all pupils in grades 4, 5 and 6 in Oakland, Crellin and Loch Lynn areas. The plan also calls for a complete renovation of the Center street school for primary children in the Oakland and Mt. Lake Park areas and for maintenance of primary schools in the recently renovated buildings at Loch Lynn and Crellin.

The cost estimate of a new 12-room building with modern facilities for the upper grades is approximately $300,000.

Members of the Board said that this matter had been discussed fully with the Board of County Commissioners, but both boards felt that no move for financing should be made until after the legislature meets in February. School construction legislation is slated for introduction at this time, which it passed, would make it possible to build not only the Oakland elementary school but enable other urgent improvements to be made as well, it was stated. Arrest Seven Boys on Vandalism Charge

Seven high school boys were arrested yesterday after it was learned they had been turning over school bus stops and in a number of cases practically destroying them.

After consultation with the States Attorney Stephen R. Pagenhardt, and Sheriff Paul W. Fisher, it was determined that the youths would be organized into two work crews and that on Saturday they would be sent out to re-set and repair the bus stops.

In recent weeks there has been quite a bit of vandalism in this vicinity, a number of the school bus stops being rolled down hills and demolishing them to such an extent that they were not usable by the bus children.

Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools, said each bus stop cost in the neighborhood of $80, and that the county had 300 or more of them, with an investment of some $25,000.

The State's Attorney said the bus stops in the northern end of the county had not been damaged.

Officials are also investigating the probability that the same group of students might have been responsible for demolishing and destroying a number of mail boxes in recent weeks.

To Address BPW Club

Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools, will be the principal speaker at the monthly meeting of the Garrett County Business and Professional Women's club at the William-James hotel this evening, November 10.

The program is in keeping with observance of National Education Week.

Two High Schools Fully Accredited

Both Southern and Northern High schools have been fully accredited by the Middle States Association for the accreditation of secondary schools. It was announced this week Word to that effect was received Monday of this week, following completion of the study of the reports of the school survey made at both schools last February.

Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools, said the report was very gratifying to school officials of the county and should establish confidence on the part of parents and pupils in the work their schools are doing.

The full accreditation of the two high schools should qualify them to rate among the best in their size in the state and area, it was stated.

Mr. Hawkins also pointed out that to keep them that way and to constantly seek avenues for further improvement should be a constant challenge for the principals, teachers and patrons of the two schools.

Recommends Group For Oscar Award

The Finzel Parent-Teacher association is being recommended for an "Oscar" from the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers by Mrs. Kermit Glatfelter, state rural service chairman. "Oscars" are given in recognition for outstanding merit, and are written about in the Maryland Parent-Teacher bulletin.

Mrs. Glatfelter declared that this rural P.T.A.'s work has been outstanding and meets the high standards and objectives of Parent-Teacher aims and purposes. She pointed out that last year 15 out of 17 families regularly attended monthly meetings. Every parent but one visited the school at some time during the year. Listed as achievements were improvement in P.T.A. procedures, outstanding cooperation, between home and school, poise and self-confidence among members who had previously been onlookers, ability to discuss pertinent questions and good fellowship.

Mrs. Glatfelter said this organization is functioning on the same high standards again this year. The Finzel school is one of the few remaining one-room schools in the county. Mrs. Elizabeth Layman has been teacher for several years. Julius Michael is president of the P.T.A.

Garrett county Republican women will take part in a "Thank You, Mr. President" women's fund raising program for the 1956 campaign on Tuesday, November 15.

The governor will give the keynote speech at a meeting in Baltimore on that day which will launch the program throughout the state.

Maryland has been chosen as the pilot state, spearheading the nationwide grass roots appeal for 1956 campaign funds. Maryland's goal is 10,000 new contributors averaging $5 per contribution and plans call for conclusion of the fund-raising on November 22.

Definite plans for Garrett county's participation are to be made later this week.

Grantsville Tops Blood Donor Quota

The people of Grantsville went over their blood donor quota yesterday when the Johnstown Bloodmobile unit stopped there for its regularly scheduled visit.

The area provided 102 pints of blood. The quota set was 85, but the people had decided that they would make an earnest effort to obtain 100 pints.

The statistics showed that 102 persons were scheduled, 85 of them keeping their appointments. There were 24 walk-ins and ten persons were rejected. There were 45 first time donors.

Mrs. Robert Davis was local chairman in charge of the program and she had a number of helpers under her direction.

The next bloodmobile visit to this county will be on January 18 when it will come to Oakland.

Odoriferous Time Was Had By All!

Two skunks provided some diversion for the merchants of Second street on Monday, and the result was that an odoriferous time was had by all.

The pair of skunks, apparently wanting to enjoy a warmer atmosphere entered the basement window under the Goulder store sometime Sunday night. When their presence was discovered Monday morning, Mt. Top Rifle Team member Carroll E. Miller undertook to get rid of the animals, which he subsequently did, but not before the place was completely odorized.

It made the occupants of several buildings along Second street "very unhappy," to say the least.

Speaker's Bureau For School Program Being Formed Here

Under the direction of the Maryland State Teachers' Association and the Maryland Parents and Teachers' Organization, a speaker's bureau is being organized in each county of the State for the purpose of acquainting all P.T.A. groups and Civic organizations with the facts relative to school legislation to be introduced in the Legislature in February. The speaker's bureau for this county is being organized by the Garrett County Council of Parents and Teachers and the Garrett County Teachers' Association of which John Wolf and Paul Muha are the respective presidents. Any P.T.A. or Civic group desiring a program on school legislation may contact either of the above mentioned organization heads, and arrangements will be made for a speaker.

Legislation to be introduced involves: Money for building improvements, a higher teacher salary scale, more funds for Driver Education, more funds for Public Libraries, increase in appropriation for teachers' colleges.

Garrett County shares heavily in school equalization funds, and thereby profits to a greater degree than many counties as the State appropriation for school needs increases. Senate Bill 340, which passed the legislature last year with but one dissenting vote, but was vetoed by the Governor, will be submitted for approval again early in February. A three-fifths majority in both houses will be necessary to pass this Bill over the Governor's veto.

This bill if passed would provide $10 per pupil annually from State funds to be used to finance school construction. All counties share on (Continued on Page Two)

The garages were completed in late fall. In the spring of 1954 construction work began once again at the armory, and this time it was the broad building which was to house locker rooms, orderly room, lounges and the class room.

It was well on its way to completion by late fall and the work was finally completed in the summer of 1955 including landscaping and beautification of the exterior.

The local company has been three time winner of the Battalion Honor company award in the past six years and has received many other awards during its years of advancement.

Oakland firemen brought an inhalator to the home and revived the pair and Dr. A. E. Mance was called. Both girls soon recovered and, apparently, are as healthy as ever.

ers come from West Virginia and Pennsylvania. Very few come from the colleges and universities of the State. When Garrett County can offer its teachers salaries that are more favorable than those offered in our neighboring States, it is much easier to fill vacancies with well trained, competent people. Mr. Hawkins said, such was the case last summer when one-half of the new people employed had Master's degrees. The importance of the good teacher cannot be over-emphasized, he pointed out, and added that it would take good salaries "if we are to secure the kind of teachers in the future that all children should have."

State Trapper Operates Line

State Trapper James Beal, of Finzel, is running a trapline of 130 miles in this county with the idea of raising predatory animals. His specialty is red and gray fox.

The program under which Beal operates is carried out under the Game Management Department with Ernest Ogden of Frostburg, state game technician, in charge.

Beal visits each of 10 sets which stretch from Kever Ridge south on route 219 to Oakland, then to Herrington Manor, Swallow Falls, Sang Run, the West Virginia state line near Craneville, back to Accident, then to Bittinger, and ending up near Grantsville. A set is a prepared trap.

The purpose of the trapping, according to Beal, is to reduce the fox population in order to give small game such as rabbit, squirrel, pheasant, grouse and quail a better chance to multiply.

In the eight years he has been trapping for the state all over Maryland, Beal estimates that the fox population has been reduced at least 50 percent.

Beal took 281 foxes in 1954, with the largest year's catch being 362. In October his catch was 50. His largest day's catch to date has been 13. He has been trapping for over 25 years on a part time basis. Several years ago he caught a large wildcat on Big Savage mountain that stood at least 18 inches high.

New Herbicides Aid Pastureland

In rebuilding low-quality pastures, one effective method is to begin by killing persistent native grasses with herbicides, reports Dr. Paul W. Santelmann, University of Maryland weed control specialist. The land can then be prepared for reseeding by disking two or three times. This makes an erosion-resistant seedbed for rough or steep land.

Dr. Santelmann cites some new research findings that make this method more practical.

New Jersey experiment station and USDA scientists have tested two economical new herbicides for this purpose, and found that they will kill dicotyledonous grasses, but not other weeds and brush. The herbicides are Dalapon (2, 4-dichloro-phenoxy acid) and ATA (3-amino-1, 2, 4-triazole).

Six to eight pounds of Dalapon or four to eight pounds of ATA per acre, applied one month before fall seeding or applied in November before spring seeding, cleared the way for successful seedbed preparation and seeding of new grasses and legumes. A mixture of two pounds of Dalapon and four pounds of ATA was found to be even more effective.

The School Board has requested the State for special "hardship payments" as bonuses for dirt road mileage. Hawkins said the Board felt that mileage payments for dirt road mileage was inadequate, but no approval has been received from this request up to the present.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1955

Senate Cloakroom

By J. GLENN BEALL
United States Senator from Maryland

My office has just received a re-routed letter which originally was addressed as follows:

"Hon. J. Glenn Beall
"White House
"Washington, D. C."

Like most persons trying to serve the public, I would like to believe that such slips of the pen reflect the enthusiastic confidence of some constituent.

I'll concede, however, that this particular mistake can probably be traced to the less inspiring fact that the letter-writer has not yet visited me personally in the Senate Office Building and is therefore a little confused about the locations of Federal accommodations.

Genuine Hospitality

The incident was good for a laugh, but it was also an important reminder that my office—like the State itself—should do everything possible to convince people that offers of hospitality in Maryland are genuine.

In my personal dealings, I have stressed the sincerity of my "Welcome" by maintaining an open-door policy at all times.

Various sections of our State do likewise on a community basis, but their invitations to visitors are sometimes lost in transit or overlooked.

Secret Glory

In Garrett County, for instance, the citizens recently discovered that word of their widely publicized Autumn Glory had somehow failed to reach the ears of a prominent Washington writer until this year.

The situation was revealed when the man, after making a belated tour of the color-drenched county, described his new find as "one of Maryland's best kept secrets."

And what did he think of the area?

"The scenery," he wrote, "was among the 'most breath-taking' in the eastern half of the continent."

Shangri-La

Encouraged by such reactions, the Western Marylanders have announced that they will "keep plugging at every opportunity" to let everybody know about their mountain Shangri-La.

That's the kind of promotion we like.

We like it for the vacation areas in the west of Maryland, for the historic attractions in the center and north, for the beaches of the Eastern Shore, and for the hunting and fishing regions in the southern parts.

We also like to see the same kind of spirited advertising employed to boost our industrial and transportation facilities.

I'll discuss this matter with you further within the next few weeks, particularly in reference to certain projects in Baltimore and their connection with the rest of the State.

I SEE BY THE DAILIES

The public's income took another big jump in September reaching a record annual rate of 307½ billion dollars.

University of Maryland president said he would close up fraternity houses if necessary to enforce school's no-drinking regulations.

Heiter Case Is Concluded in Court

An Allegany County Circuit court jury last Thursday returned a verdict for the defendant in a damage suit filed originally in Garrett county over the sale of two heifers in 1951. The jury deliberated only a few minutes.

As a result of the jury verdict, Wayne Friend, formerly of this county, now of Baltimore, is out the $300 he originally received for the heifers. The suit for $1,000 was docketed in the Garrett County Circuit court against Leah M. Beitzel, administratrix of the estate of Jacob C. Beitzel.

Beitzel's widow contended that Jack Savage, operator of the Friend Stockyard, had been directed by Friend to get the heifers to take to the stockyard to sell. Savage substantiated this testimony. Friend denied he had authorized the sale. A check for $238.40 was sent to Friend by the Stockyards, but he never cashed the check and it was still outstanding when Savage made an assignment for his creditors. Friend had contended that the heifers were worth more than the amount of the check received.

At last Thursday's trial Chief Judge George Henderson presided. Friend was represented by Attorney Edward J. Ryan and Mrs. Beitzel's attorneys were E. Ray Jones of Oakland and W. Earle Cohey of Cumberland.

Listen Americans!

BY GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College

The famous McGuffey Readers are coming back. They are the textbooks, first published more than a century ago, that were widely credited with building the sound intellectual foundations and the strong moral fiber of several succeeding generations of Americans. Modern McGuffey Readers, embracing the great moral teachings of the original textbooks, are now being published and offered to schools throughout the nation. This is another encouraging sign, among many, that the education profession today is awakening to the challenges of a world in crisis.

The future strength of America, even with the great political and economic system that has been established, must depend upon the moral and intellectual assets that are being educated into the minds and hearts of our youth today. Any people without these assets would be weak and would permit the gradual decay of the principles on which the American way of life is founded. In a sense, the American way is a system of governmental and economic virtues which stem from the best characteristics of a God-fearing mankind.

The story of George Washington and the cherry tree—giving great stature to the virtue of honesty—became an American classic through the McGuffey Readers. Other stories from a long list of authors and from many lands found their first (and lasting) fame in the McGuffey series. The textbooks were called "eclectic" readers to emphasize that their content represented the best lessons drawn from many cultures.

The authors of the new McGuffey Readers are: Ullin W. Leavell, professor of Education and Director of the McGuffey Reading Clinic, University of Virginia; Mary Louise Friebele, author of children's books; and Tracie Cushman, former classroom teacher, Grand Rapids public schools. The American Book Company, New York, San Francisco, etc., is the publisher. The books are called, "The Golden Rule Series—the Modern McGuffey Readers."

Sponsors of the series are Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Palmer, of Texarkana, Ark.-Tex., ardent McGuffey disciples. Mr. Palmer is the widely known publisher of a number of metropolitan daily newspapers; and he has other business interests. He is known for his philanthropies and for his special interest in education. The Palmer Foundation was established "to foster and promote through the public schools and otherwise those basic principles of morality which are common to all civilized races and religions, best exemplified in the Golden Rule; and to promote American patriotism."

Sgt. VanSickle, a member of Company F of the 5th Infantry Division's 11th Regiment, entered the Army in January, 1951.

Specialist Third Class Roy Handwork, son of Mrs. Ernest Handwork, Jennings, recently took part in a field training exercise held by the 11th Infantry Division in Germany.

other improvements include a school for the blind, Johnson, Aviston area, two high school auditoriums, and the renovation of the school building at Friendsville and Grantsville.

Members of the Board expressed appreciation of the interest on the part of local parents and further expressed the hope that they would not relinquish their fight for this new improvement until it became a reality.

Meeting with the group at the regular meeting of the Board were members of the Board of County Commissioners, Senator Clifford Friend and members of the County delegation, Kermit Giffels, Harry Edwards and Jesse J. Ashby.

The County Commissioners, Senator and Delegates met later to study together the complete program.

Report was made on sale of stoves amounting to $225, money to be used for school maintenance.

A ruling on requests from P-T-A groups to permit playing of Bingo was that the matter of playing Bingo would be left up to individual associations with understanding no games of chance other than Bingo were to be played at any time and that Bingo was not to be played for money.

Preliminary plans from the architect for the two-room addition at Red House were studied and approved. Plans are to be advertised in December.

Resignation of James Cain, a Grantsville teacher, was accepted and Pasco C. Bail was appointed to replace him. A leave of absence was granted to Mrs. Chasley Miller, Friendsville teacher.

The Board met with Andrew Goehring to work out arrangements to dispose of his late C. C. Goehring and turn route over to Carroll DeWitt. The DeWitt route will be consolidated with that of Jonas Berch and Mrs. Cora

"Our Growing Edge"

Our Public Schools

This week is American Education Week, when our attention is drawn in a special way to our schools. We are urged to visit them, meet with our children's teachers and see first hand, the classroom teaching being done. Our response to this invitation can give us a better understanding of our schools and their many problems.

In the November issue of the Maryland Parent-Teacher Bulletin, William Gould, of Lebanon, Ore., dedicates a poem to all of our public schools everywhere. I thought it worth passing on to my readers.

Our Public Schools

Our schools are the place where democracy grows. From the depth of our freedom's rich soil.

Where the wealthy and poor, and the humble and great Find their place in our play and our toil.

Where the child from the hill with the home big and fine Meets the child from the lane's rugged end.

Where work time and play time and lunch at noon Make all children both neighbor and friend.

Where each with their talents, their gifts and their skills Meets the challenge of life's rugged games.

Each finding a place for their eyes and wills, For their country and selves, making names.

Where prejudice vanishes and hates fade away From the school ground where children are freed.

Where no barrier of language, or color, or race, Find a place to take root and make seed.

With the hope of our country and mankind at stake In our quest for a just living plan. Our schools are the answer to problems world-wide, On which rest survival of man.

Discuss Industry Possibilities at City Council Meeting

The importance of having some industry or industries locate in Oakland was discussed at some length Monday night by the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland at its regular meeting.

The council will write letters to a number of officials asking their assistance. These officials include the United States senators, Congressman, the governor, and others.

Other Routine Business

Other routine business was conducted by the Mayor and Council. It contributed $150 to the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce for use in adding Christmas decorations this year. It agreed to make Fourth street 28 feet wide instead of 24 as originally planned. The work on this highway will not be completed until next spring.

It decided to place two additional parking meters in the vicinity of the Manhattan hotel. It increased the monthly payment to Ed Tasker for garbage removal from $325 to $350. Mr. Tasker pointed out that he collects garbage from 600 residences and that he spends two and one-half days each week in this work, and at times uses two trucks and three men to assist.

"Family Recreation" was the topic presented by Mrs. Robert Gifford at the meeting of the Homemakers club Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Robert Buckel.

She stated that "the person who knows nothing but work may be compared to soil which has had everything taken out of it and nothing put back in, and by family group recreation you are helping to build well-adjusted individuals and a happy family."

Texas Visitors Here

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Breuneman and son Gene, Amarillo, Texas, have spent a two weeks' vacation with Mr. Breuneman's mother, Mrs. Bility, of road maintenance, the council agreed that the town did not desire to take over this road.

It runs from Third to Fourth on Crook street, and follows Fourth street out to the end of the corporation line. The road will be included in the county system since the state notified the county that the stretch would be eliminated from the state roads system.

The following permits were granted: to the Acorn Associates to erect an illuminated sign over the sidewalk at their property on Liberty street; to the C. and A. Gas company to dig a hole on Liberty street to tie in a gas service line that supplies the B and O railroad, and to open a trench across Arch street in the town of Oakland.

New Ski Slopes Are Ready For Season

Two new skiing slopes, one in Tucker county and the other in Preston county, are awaiting snow-fall to get into business.

Edward S. Filler, Thomas, W. Va., chairman of the Blackwater Civic association's ski cooperation committee, reported that a 1,420-foot rope tow and a small warming hut will be available at Weiss Knob, about one mile from the Cabin Mountain ski slope in the Canaan Valley. Robert T. Barton III, Richmond, Va., has been developing the area.

The Preston county slope is on Gregg Knob, one of the highest peaks in that county, located about seven miles north of Terra Alta off the Cranesville road. Three Morgantown men, John Garlow, Wayne W. Bowen and Roy Williamson, are developing the area.

Gregg Knob is almost 3,300 feet high but the slope will be only

1,000 feet with two ski tows of 500 feet each built end to end.

Southern Ends Season With Win

Defeats Terra Alta Team 26 to 0 last Friday Afternoon at Terra Alta

Southern High's Highlanders, starting an all-senior eleven, closed out their 1955 football season at Terra Alta last Friday afternoon by defeating Terra Alta High school 26 to 0 in a game which was postponed from October 14.

The triumph was the third against four losses and a tie for Coach Jim DeMoss' cohorts who completely dominated play in the game. Terra Alta never offensively penetrated Southern territory during the game.

Halfback Fred Colaw tossed a 19-yard aerial to Toby Colaw in the second quarter to open Southern's scoring attack. In the third period End Dan Garrett caught a nine-yard pass from Toby Colaw on the Terra Alta four yard line and went into the end zone for the second Highlander score. Toby Colaw added the point from placement to give Southern a 13-0 lead.

In the final quarter Southern scored a pair of touchdowns when Bill Deckman plunged over from the three, and a few minutes later Charles Mason smashed through tackle from the five. Toby Colaw added the extra point following Deckman's scoring effort.

Grantsville Mine Recently Inspected

The U. S. Bureau of Mines released a coal-mine inspection report for the Shaw mine, Grantsville Coal Company, Grantsville, in which 34 violations of the Federal Mine Safety Code are cited.

The 3-man mine averaged 7 tons of coal daily when reinspected recently by T. J. Ward.

The Federal inspector warned against firing permissable explosives in a non-permissable manner with fuses and caps, improper storage of explosives, and stenching borchholes with fine coal. He also urged that mechanical means be provided to give positive ventilation underground and other ventilation betterments.

Ward also proposed many haulage and electrical betterments and that an alternate escapeway be provided.

Recent improvements included providing suitable containers for explosives, clearing combustible material away from the mine entrance, and the wearing of special protective motorcycle white on duty at the mine.

Four children in Beckley, W. Va., were killed by motor fumes.

Mt. Top Gunners Win Second Match

Mountain Top edged Fort Hill 111 to 110 in the Western Maryland League's second smallbore rifle contest fired Sunday afternoon at the Bowman's Addition and Oakland ranges. Hercules won over LaVale by a forfeit.

Carroll Miller and G. L. Porter's 281 at Oakland led the Mountain Toppers in their six point conquest of Fort Hill.

The three-position 22 caliber match was fired at 50 feet distance. The third match of the schedule will be shot next Sunday. The scores of the Mt. Toppers from the sitting, kneeling and standing positions: C. E. Miller, 85, 88, total 281; G. L. Porter, 99, 96, 86, 281; D. L. Helling, 95, 98, 87, 280; A. A. Harvey, Jr., 99, 95, 75, 269. Also firing was C. Calloun, with a total of 264.

N. O. White led the Fort Hill gunners with 281. Western Big Three urged Israel and Egypt to accept United Nations peace plan aimed at averting new clashes on disputed frontier. The like in the cost of news-print was termed "not justified" by Congressmen.

"I'LL BE GLAD TO"

When they want an angel food cake for the church bazaar, Mrs. Turner is apt to be asked to bake it. She almost always responds to such requests with a simple, "I'll be glad to."

If you ask people about Mrs. Turner, they will tell you that she is one of the happiest women in town. Yet not so long ago she was feeling pretty sorry for herself. Life seemed such a humdrum affair. As an accomplished musician, she had had dreams of the concert stage, but marriage and children had changed all that. Somehow it didn't seem fair!

Then one Sunday, a friend persuaded her to go to church. The sermon happened to be about the ingredients that make a full and happy life. The things the minister said struck home, and the next Sunday she found herself back in church again. Then one Sunday Mr. Turner went along, and next, the youngsters.

Now Mrs. Turner is still "just a housewife," but she is dissatisfied with her role? Look at her face, and see for yourself! It took the Church to show her that she already possessed all the tools needed for fulfillment and happiness, if she would but use them. Now, she does.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, no democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The Golden Rule

Lesson for November 13, 1955

LIVING is an art, not a science. Jesus did not come to give us a heavily rule-book. On the other hand he did not live and die merely to provide us with tickets to heaven. For others, as for himself, he felt the tremendous importance, here and now, of this present life. He left behind him not rules but general broad principles for living in this world as sons and daughters of the Most High God. Jesus' principles were not the stuffy sort of thing that only philosophers can understand. His disciples, we know, were all men of limited education, the plainest of plain people. If Jesus had tried any theological riddledog on them, it would have gone clear over their heads. What he said could have carved on short tombstones, written on a postcard—any one sentence of his teachings. The one church has nicknamed the "Golden Rule"—short, sharp, and in Jesus' own view very important—is alone worth long study.

"It's Too Hard"

Luke's version of the Golden Rule (6:31) is clear enough: "As you wish that men would do to you, do so to them." Words of one syllable, but what words! It is saddening to see how many efforts have been made to by-pass this Golden Rule. One kind of by-passers will tell you this is much too hard. Some very religious people have fancied that Jesus did not mean this for here-and-now, but only for some "Beautiful life of Somewhere," sometime after Judgment Day. Other religious people have said that Jesus really meant to say, "You can't possibly do this," don't you feel ashamed?" Now we can be sure of two things. One is, that Jesus was to say the least of it a man of common sense, an honest man.

And honest men do not deliberately tell their friends to do what they know is impossible.

"It's Too Easy"

An opposite way of by-passing the Golden Rule is to think it is too easy—that it is just a nice-sounding bit of advice that is not only easy to do but which won't do much good. For example, a little girl craves for candy. The mother thinks: What would I want her to do for me? Why, I'd want her to do as I say. So I'll do as she says—give her the candy. (And make her sick, of course.) Or again, a wife's birthday is coming along. Husband thinks: What would I want for my birthday? New power saw, of course. So he gets his wife a power saw, which she certainly does not want. . . . No, the Golden Rule is not so easy as all that. It calls for imagination, for a wide vision, for a Christian spirit. It is indeed all too easy—for fools and knaves. But Jesus assumed that his friends were neither knaves nor fools. The Golden Rule is something to save any one the trouble of thinking. It simply points out the direction in which our actions and decisions ought to go. It often means, not—What does this person want me to do, now? but—What will this person at last wish I had done for him? In other words, if we are to apply the Golden Rule we have to look at it in the light of eternity.

"It Won't Work"

Another way of by-passing the Golden Rule is to say simply that it won't work. "It is a lovely ideal," the world would be much pleasanter to live in, for all of us, if we could live by it; but we can't, so let's get on with the practical business of dog-eat-dog, every man for himself and the devil take the hindmost." Again let us remember that if Jesus had not lived by his own rule, every listener would have known him for a hypocrite and the Golden Rule would have perished in a blast of cynical laughter. It worked in Nazareth, it worked in the carpenter shop. To bring it down to our own times in America, and to take the hardest of applications of the Golden Rule—loving your enemies. Will it work? Well, who are today the leaders in the War of the 1960's who are most widely and gratefully remembered on both sides of what once was a battle line? Lincoln and Lee, beyond much doubt. And these two men who most undeniably loved their enemies. The Golden Rule, in a life devoted to God and man, will work.

Congressman De Witt S. Hyde - 6th District, Maryland

"Hire the Older Worker Week" proclaimed by the District of Columbia Commissioners for the week beginning November 14, forcibly calls attention to the problems faced by the "mature" worker. A paradox of our times is marked by the extraordinary advances made in providing pensions and old age benefits for our people coupled with the difficulty older persons have in finding suitable jobs.

Our health, social and employment programs, unfortunately, are geared to an outdated span of years. More of us today live beyond legal retirement age in better health and cheerfulness than ever before. We need no statistics from the Census Bureau to prove our point; we see the growing number of "older" people on every side.

When we objectively view the problems created by social programs planned for a shorter effective life span, we see the necessity for adjustments that meet the realities of present day living.

The federal government, through the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare and the Department of Labor, is working on programs to help not only the older people find employment that will benefit themselves, but also the communities in which they live. Recently a federal hiring policy was altered in the right direction when the maximum age for employment was raised to seventy. State and local governments, too, are doing their share in working out effective programs for the older citizen.

Private industry is seeking ways of making its pension plans flexible.

But see how clean new NO-NOX leaves the plate at right. Now—in your own new 1956 car—see how clean-burning NO-NOX can give you more miles per gallon in the short-trip, stop-and-go driving you do most.

Gulfride Select works clean

Here's why: Most conventional oils are refined only to the stage shown in A. But New Gulfride Select is further refined by the Alchor Process—removing up to 15% more of the carbon-formers, in B... C contains the new super-refined oil that gives you more miles per quart because it has natural viscosity (body)—contains no artificial thickeners that break down in service.

Egg Grower To Get Egg Trophy

Mrs. V. L. DeWitt, route 2, Deer Park, will receive one of the first Champion Egg producer trophies to be awarded in the United States, Victor L. Koenig, executive secretary of the Liv-Lane Poultry Management association, has announced.

The Champion Egg Producer award goes to owners of flocks which reach a 12 months' production record of 250 or more eggs per hen housed. Mrs. DeWitt's 12 months' score was 250.7 eggs per hen housed.

With about 250 other farmers and poultrymen in several Eastern states, Mrs. DeWitt has been a co-operator in a program started last season. Its purpose is to give farmers who keep poultry some of the benefits that dairy men have derived from their DHIA's. The program differs from ordinary systems of farm record keeping in that the co-operators send each month's records to a hatchery at Doylestown, Pa. The records are analyzed and each cooperator gets back a monthly report showing how the performance of his flock compares with the performance of other flocks of the same age and breeding.

Congressional Viewpoint

Sen. John Marshall Butler

In The Balance

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are Life, Liberty, and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed."

It was thus that the great American tradition was begun. Here was the acknowledgment that man as a creature of God possesses a dignity which distinguishes him from the animal creation. He alone is endowed with the power of reason.

It has been upon this philosophy that our American institutions have been built. By our continued adherence to these fundamental truths, we are at the same time the envy of those who would destroy us and the hope of all men who cherish liberty.

Today we behold a world divided not merely by geographical boundaries but also by antagonistic philosophies. One is based upon man's dignity as a human being; the other upon atheistic communism. The latter, as its name discloses, denies the very existence of God. With equal fervor, it regards man as a mere slave, a pawn existing for the State. By false promises it degrades man's mind. It fosters dissension and creates turmoil. It first enslaves the mind of man and then by force and fear it destroys his liberty of action.

In an atmosphere of confusion, created by the false prophets of communism, the half-truths and the beguiling platitudes of their propaganda find so ready an acceptance by the unwary. In carrying out their program they are bound by no morality, for they recognize no moral law. Thus they lie, deceive, and by every diabolical tactic and device they penetrate, infiltrate and seek to capture and dominate man's every legitimate organization and institution.

There are many among us, however, who fail utterly to comprehend the magnitude of the menace or the proximity of the danger occasioned by the continual penetration of communists and those who do their bidding. To them, I say it should require no extended argument, at this late date, to demonstrate that the problem of communistic infiltration and domination of our free institutions poses a constant threat to the maintenance of our hard won liberty. The present countervailing smiles of the Russians are but a continuing evidence of this menace, and should be dealt with accordingly.

Seven varieties of evergreens have been made available for Garrett, Allegany, Washington, and Frederick counties by State Forester H. C. Buckingham.

Trees designated for Western Maryland by the state forester include 550,000 red pines, 375,000 white pines, 157,000 white spruce, 150,000 Scotch pine, 50,000 Norway spruce, 22,000 loblolly pines and 4,000 tulip poplars.

More than half of the trees will go to Garrett county, scheduled to receive $19,000. The trees are for reforestation purposes only and will not be given away in lots of less than 1,000 trees. Johnson observed that it takes about 1,000 trees to reforest an acre. These trees have grown from seedlings at the State Forest tree nursery at Harman, in Anne Arundel county.

Landowners interested in acquiring some of the trees should submit their applications to Johnson's office in the Court House, Cumberland, so they will be assured of having them when they want to plant them. Most of the planting is expected to be done next spring.

More Than a Prank . .

The up-ending of thirty to fifty school bus stations in recent weeks by a crowd of high school students is really more than just a minor prank. It is an out and out case of vandalism and ceases to be amusing when one realizes that many bus pupils would have no protection against the weather if this condition continued.

This thoughtlessness on the part of these young people becomes even more outrageous when it is known that some of those who were responsible for this were members of the football squad. When one doesn't learn real sportsmanship while playing football, basketball, or any kind of sport, the real purpose behind the sports program is nullified by such actions. One would naturally feel that enough energy would have been used up in the daily practice sessions that the students would feel no need of having to take on any added activity, especially the kind that leads to serious trouble.

These bus stations are used by the very young as well as the older students and should the weather have turned cold suddenly there would be a very real danger from frostbite among these very young, if there were no place to shelter them while waiting for the bus to arrive.

Add to these reasons the fact that each bus station costs around $80 and that the county has an investment of around $25,000 just in these bus stops alone, and the action of these boys becomes even more unnecessary and entirely out of keeping.

It gives one a sad feeling to know that the vandalism was not confined to just the seven who were caught, but that several other groups were involved. We hope that all of them now realize the seriousness of their destruction, will discontinue their trips, and turn to more constructive things. The punishment of making them replace all stations no doubt will have the desired effect.

Each person involved should have a feeling of shame in having been a participant, which only a change in attitude can erase.

Girl Scouts Plan 'Fly-Up' Ceremony

The Oakland Girl Scouts will have eight members but will gain nine in the annual fly-up ceremonies scheduled for next Sunday afternoon, November 20, at 2:30 p. m., at the Moose recreation hall on Third Street.

First class and curved bar awards will be made by Miss Helen Zellers, national field staff member from Washington, D. C. Those listed to receive their curved bars are Patricia Campbell, out of doors; Brenda DeBerry, homemaking; Connie Evans, homemaking; Jane Hant, the Arts; Carol Sue Hardesty, Margaret James and Patricia Powers, all homemaking.

Those who will receive their first class badges will be Carolyn Biser, Charlotte Biser, Barbara Germain, Susan Gibson, Gail Naylor, Carol Sue Hardesty, Nancy Reckart and Susan Tichenell.

Intermediate scouts who will "fly" from the troop will be Patricia Campbell, Brenda DeBerry, Jarlith DeWitt, Connie Evans, Patricia Leighton, Margaret James, Jane Hant, Willard Ann Giot-felly.

Brownies who will "fly up" into the intermediate scout troop will be Gretchen Briner, Nancy Jane Germain, Kathy Gonder, Marie Jo Gonder, Carolyn Sue Martin, Patricia Reckart, Sharon Sanders, Annabelle Thomas and Patricia Williams.

Miss Weber announced that the scouts had selected Dr. A. E. Mance as citizen of the year who will be recognized at the fly-up ceremonies. Scouts vote on this project annually as a part of the scout week program.

The troop committee will remain the same as last year with Mrs. Porter DeWitt as chairman, Mrs. Howard White, Mrs. Howard Naylor, Mrs. Robert Flaherty and Mrs. Richard Giotfelly as members. Assisting Miss Weber in the activities of the troop are Mrs. Harrison Stewart, Mrs. Robert Martin and Mrs. Robert King.

Miss Weber said the parents of those who were receiving their first class badges and curved bars, and those who were flying up were invited to witness the program.

Betty Kitzmiller Injured In Crash

Miss Betty Kitzmiller, 22, of Oakland, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kitzmiller was seriously injured early last Saturday morning in an automobile wreck on route 36, about one mile west of Oakland.

The Kitzmiller woman sustained a broken right hip and broken pelvis when the car in which she was riding crashed.

Trooper First Class Robert Henline, of the Maryland State Police, said the accident occurred when a car driven by Thomas M. Estes, of Alexandria, Va., was travelling at a high rate of speed, went out of control on a curve and ran off the left side of the highway. Miss Kitzmiller was thrown from the auto.

Estes was placed in the county jail on a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor. At a hearing on Monday before Trial Magistrate W. O. Bitzer he pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $125 and costs. He was released Tuesday upon payment of the fine and costs.

Estes and James Cottrill, another passenger in the car, were only slightly injured.

Bittering Winner Gets Chicago Trip

Judy Buckel, of Bittering, is one of Maryland's top 4-H'ers who will leave by train from Baltimore, November 23, to take part in the 24th national 4-H club congress in Chicago, November 27 to December 1. These boys and girls were awarded an expense free trip to the annual Congress by way of their outstanding project work in the 4-H program.

Before departing for Chicago in a special train coach along with the Delaware delegation the 4-H'ers will assemble at the Lord Baltimore hotel for a press conference and "send off" luncheon.

Club Congress comes as the climax of years of earnest 4-H club work by these young people. Some 1,200 boys and girls from all 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico join with guests from foreign countries for this event to honor state, sectional and national winners.

The Congress is jointly planned and conducted by the Extension Service and the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, and is designed to recognize and highlight the contributions 4-H club work is making to improve rural living.

All delegates are educational award winners who have won their trips to the Chicago meeting through the national awards program conducted by the state and federal extension services in co-operation with the National Committee. The delegates have shown proficiency in carrying out their projects. Their records have been carefully judged on such factors as personal development over a period of time and the use of improved methods. Miss Buckel, 15 years of age, was listed as a state achievement winner.

She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Buckel and is a member of the Bittering 4-H club. She has been active in 4-H work for several years, and has been faithful in keeping a record in clothing activities. She has sent a report on her clothing record to the state office for the past three years. Mrs. Lester Smith is the local leader.

Co-Chairmen Named For Concerts Group

At a meeting of the Family Concerts Association at the William-James hotel on Monday evening, Dr. E. L. Baumgartner and Arthur Naylor, Jr., were named as co-chairmen to arrange for this year's program. Merritt Feather was named secretary-treasurer.

Among those attending were five representatives of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital auxiliary who volunteered to assist in selling season tickets.

Concerts this year will not be connected with the Virginia Symphony group, as last year, but those in charge have contacted the Peabody Conservatory of Music, which is interested in providing the three special concerts. Mr. Naylor said he and Dr. Baumgartner planned to go to Baltimore next week to arrange for the three programs, prior to arranging for the ticket sale.

The ticket campaign will begin within the next two weeks, it was stated. As in the past, only those who purchase season tickets will be admitted to the performances, so it is necessary to subscribe the budget before any concerts are held.

Former Resident Ends His Life

Fondly slumped over the steering wheel of his automobile parked in the center of the Lost Creek-West Milford road, and shot in the stomach and chest with a 12-gauge shotgun, the death of a former local man on Tuesday was termed a suicide.

The victim was identified as Galford Harrison, 40, who was formerly employed by the Cretz Motor company in Oakland.

Officers quoted Harrison's wife and others as saying he had threatened suicide as recently as early Tuesday morning.

He was born February 19, 1915, in Braxton county, W. Va. Surviving are his parents, his widow, two children, two step-children, two brothers, four sisters, and one half-sister.

Barn Destroyed By Fire Sunday

A barn on the farm of J. Deane Rush, of near Accident, was entirely destroyed by fire last Sunday evening between 6 and 7 o'clock, along with its contents.

The loss included 40 tons of hay, 400 bushels of oats, 100 bushels of wheat, 15 head of hogs and one calf. A part of his farm machinery also was destroyed. The loss was only partially covered by insurance.

The farm is located on Town Hill, on the old Friendsville-Accident road. Members of the Accident, Friendsville and Grantsville fire companies responded to the alarm.

Mr. and Mrs. Rush had recently remodeled the barn and had built a new silo.

Jury Decides on Local Road Cases

A Garrett County Circuit Court jury in Oakland on Monday awarded Mrs. Edith Cuppet Smith, of Washington, D. C., $2,670 for some two and seven tenths acres of land including 1,207 feet of frontage along U.S. route 219 at Deep Creek Lake which the State Roads commission has already taken for an improvement to the highway.

Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley presided at the trial. The jury deliberated about one hour before reaching its verdict.

In deciding the case the jury had two widely varying figures to consider. The State Roads commission had offered $170 for the property in question whereas witnesses for Mrs. Smith, formerly of this county, placed the value at $12,000.

Frederick A. Puderbaugh, Cumberland, and William O. Treacy, Oakland, were State attorneys. Mrs. Smith was represented by Horace P. Whitworth, Jr., of Westernport.

Gets $8,500 Verdict. In another road case tried the following day a jury awarded John Phillips Thayer and his wife $8,500 for land in the vicinity of Thayer's Barn. The Roads commission had offered $3,000.

E. J. Ryan and W. W. Dawson represented Thayer while Puderbaugh and Treacy represented the SRC.

They were brought to the Garrett County Memorial hospital where Mr. Jones was treated for broken ribs and Mrs. Jones was treated for numerous cuts and bruises. Mr. Jones was released shortly after he was examined but Mrs. Jones remained a patient until Tuesday.

The automobile, a 1932 Oldsmobile, was badly damaged.

Rehearsals For Faculty Play Being Held Daily

Rehearsals for the Southern High School faculty's forthcoming dramatic presentation of "Night of January 16th" moved into high gear this week.

The production, which is the first of its kind by the local faculty, is to be presented to the public at 8:00 p. m., December 2.

The plot centers around the death of a great financier, and action takes place within a courtroom. All the drama of a typical courtroom is re-enacted in this production.

The part of Karen Andrie, who is on trial for her life, will be played by Miss Betty Kildow. While the prosecuting attorney, played by Kenneth Johns, makes every effort to prove her guilty, the defense attorney, Elmer Crome, produces witnesses which would seem to indicate otherwise.

A jury, selected from the audience, will have to make the fateful decision on the night of the trial. The commission for the play will be 75 cents.

CRYSTALLIFEROUS NOCTURNE—The season's first real snowfall last Thursday turned most of Garrett county into a fairland of white, with the flakes hanging spectacularly from trees and wires. This photograph, taken last Thursday evening, shows

Second street in Oakland, looking north, between Center and Pennington. From five to six inches of snow fell during the day and evening, but warming temperatures Friday dispelled the snow as quickly as the morning sun erases a dream.

Christmas Activities Arranged by C. of C.

The mercantile committee of the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce announced its Christmas activities program this week.

Thirty or more merchants and business men will cooperate in the event with special activities listed.

Plans have been completed for decorating the town immediately after the Thanksgiving holiday period. Additional lights and decorations are being added this year and the strands across the streets are to be increased in number.

The annual treat for the children by "Santa Claus" will be conducted on Saturday afternoon, December 17, when all the children of the community up to 12 years of age will be given an orange, candy and other articles. Santa Claus also is scheduled to visit participating stores at various times during the Christmas season.

Members of the committee handling the details include Newton Coplin, Jack Treacy, I. R. Rudy, Jr., C. W. Englander, and Kenneth Jones.

Mr. Coplin said that about 6,000 circulars would be printed and distributed somewhere around the first of December.

Verdict Rendered For Plaintiff In Accident Case

A verdict for the plaintiff was rendered yesterday in the Circuit Court in an automobile collision case which occurred in 1953 at Mt. Lake Park.

Plaintiffs were Richard C. Bennett and the Employers Mutual Casualty company, and defendant was Samuel R. Hall, of Rockland, Ill.

The plaintiff contended that he was driving a 1949 Buick eastward on state route 41, leading from Oakland to Mt. Lake Park, when near the intersection of "E" street Samuel R. Hall disregarded a stop sign and came out on the highway, and the crash subsequently occurred.

A jury rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $366.56, which was $75 for Bennett and $291.56 for the Casualty company.

Favors Defendants. In another case yesterday a verdict favored the defendants Arvey M. Ritchie and Herlert S. Ritchie, against James B. Nally and Fay Nally. The Ritchies had appealed the case from a judgment awarded by the Trial Magistrate, amounting to $200, when the two individuals moved their store from the Nally building to their present location, corner of Third and Green streets. The Ritchies contended that after a stoker had been installed the dust was so heavy that they were compelled to move. Nally had claimed five months rent remaining on a three-year lease.

The jury rendered a verdict in favor of the defendants. Nally was represented by S. R. Pagenhardt, while E. Ray Jones represented the defendants.

Stated for trial today are two truck weight cases and an appeal case from the Trial Magistrate wherein the Hlum Steel company is the plaintiff and Marco Manor the defendant. The Trial Magistrate had rendered a judgment of $555.55 against Manor for a bill rendered by the Steel company.

Local correspondents and advertisers are urged to send in their material one day earlier than usual and all others who desire to have news items published are requested to do the same, in order to insure publication in the week's issue.

Two Given Terms In House of Correction

Two persons were given terms in the Maryland House of Correction this week for infractions of the laws. They were James Maule, of Crellin, who was sentenced to serve eleven months on a non-support charge, and Donald Hardesty, of near Oakland, who was sentenced to serve six months on a charge of being drunk and disorderly.

Maule was found guilty of the charge when given a hearing Monday, November 14, before Trial Magistrate W. O. Bitzer.

Hardesty pleaded guilty to the drunk and disorderly charge when given a hearing on Monday. It was his second conviction on the same charge, having been found guilty in July of 1954. He was arrested Saturday by Henry Arnold, Oakland police chief.

Just after his arrest Junior Hardesty also got into difficulty with the state's attorney, S. R. Pagenhardt. Officers said Hardesty cursed Pagenhardt who felled him to the street with a blow and had him placed in jail over the weekend. He pressed no charges against him, however, and released him on Monday.

Charge W. P. Lloyd With Intent to Kill

A row over the removal of a person's furniture from a home in the Deep Creek Lake section of the county caused the arrest on Saturday of Willard Pete Lloyd by Sheriff Paul W. Fisher.

Lloyd was charged with assault with intent to kill Elmer Niner, Woodrow Bowman and Mark Uphold. Lloyd is charged with firing several shots in the direction of the three when they attempted to remove some furniture from the Lloyd home which belonged to Woodrow Bowman.

At a hearing Monday before Trial Magistrate W. O. Bitzer, Lloyd admitted having a ruckus with the three other persons involved, and he agreed to allow Mr. Bowman to remove his belongings. Magistrate Bitzer is withholding sentence for the time being.

Dear Sirs:
You might be interested to know that I lost a small 35 mm. camera in Deep Creek Lake while on a fishing-camping expedition to Swallow Falls Park and the Lake in August—August 11 to be exact. After learning that the water had been drawn down, I made a trip to Penn Point on Oct. 31 and recovered the camera lying 3-4 above water line.

After a thorough drying-out of two days the box was opened, cleaned and lubricated. Lenses were cleaned and replaced and the very delicate mechanism of the shutter consisting of several small parts was cleaned and lubricated. Very little rust was in evidence and this was easily removed with a small stiff brush. The shutter showed no discoloration and although I have not yet taken any pictures I feel convinced that it will work as good as before.

This camera lay in about 6 feet

Russian Roulette

That a state of Russian inspired frustration and deceitful communist propaganda has accompanied the present Big Four Conference in Geneva cannot be denied. Equally true is it that the international communist conspiracy—its devilish purpose and method of operation—has thus been exposed and illuminated to the scrutiny of freedom-loving people everywhere.

Following President Eisenhower's dramatic proposals at the summit in July last, a new hope for world peace was born in the hearts of all men. An unprecedented period of seeming good-will on the part of the Russians, popularly called "the spirit of Geneva," has since had a far-reaching impact. This climate has been cleverly and carefully cultivated by Soviet Russia. Here, many said, were the genuine evidences that the communists wanted to live in harmony with the balance of the world. Now, they added, tensions could be relaxed.

As a poet once wrote, "Is life, then, a dream and delusion, and where shall the dreamer awake?" Recent events in Geneva can only shake these dreamers to a reality—a shuddering, stark reality which reveals, for all to see, the hocus-pocus and falsity of the Red monstrosity. The truth of this conclusion is demonstrated by Secretary of State Dulles' statement of last Friday that the Russians have practiced "grotesque propaganda" in an "infamous" attempt to delude the world.

In the costumes of masquerade, and puppets, with a great fanfare of synthetic gentility and friendliness, the agents of the Kremlin have effectively stymied the Big Four Conference. From the outset this has been their design. These partisans of atheistic communism, have not changed. They never shall. Their hostile plan for world domination and subversion, as conceived by Marx and Lenin, drives them irrevocably. But there is something to be learned from this recurring duplicity of the Russians. It is this—

"By the fruits shall you know them." So does the Bible warn against those who make, prideful, hypocritical speeches of their high intentions but whose actions are the opposite of their words. This biblical quotation states a principle so fundamental and obvious that it is difficult to realize how our sometimes wavering and confused allies and occasionally ourselves have missed its application to Soviet Russia.

22 Gridmen Win Football Letters

Following the conclusion of the football season at Southern High school Coach James DeMoss announced that twenty-two participants and three managers had won football letters. Eighteen of the twenty-two lettermen are seniors.

Those winning letters were listed as Toby Colaw, Fred Colaw, Allen Sowers, Charles Mason, Bob Glaze, Bob Marley, George Lee, Charles Grubb, Roger Glatfelter, Harold Harsh, Jim Wright, Dale Evans, John Ruff, Dan Garrett, Fred Dillard, Paul Brown, Allen Knotts and Bob Walla, seniors; Bill Deckman, Don Evans and Walter Hove, juniors; Henry McRobie, sophomore.

Managers listed were Don Welch, senior; Leonard Hattaway, junior; and Leo Martin, freshman.

Coach DeMoss had high praise for this year's football team and said he felt the members had done outstanding work, considering they had taken on varsity competition during their second year, after having been in only four games during the first year of competition. The team never has been shut out.

He stressed the need for eighty boys as candidates for next year's team if they were to have the depth necessary to continue to provide good competition for their rivals. There are only four hold-over lettermen, Deckman, Hove, Don Evans and McRobie.

Next Year's Schedule

Nine games are being scheduled for next fall with the possibility of another game being added to the list. The schedule:

September 7, Petersburg; September 15, Moorefield; September 22, pending with Northern; September 29, Beall; October 6, St. Francis of Montgomery; October 12, pending with Romney; October 19, Kinross; October 27, Keyser; November 2, pending with Terra Alta. DeMoss said they also were planning for a scheduled date with LaSalle, of Cumberland.

Deckman and Hove already have been named captains for next year's team.

The downturn in unemployment continued during the period to an estimated 34.700 or 3.4 percent of the civilian labor force.

There was reason to believe that the upswing in employment would continue through the end of the year. Figures were released by the Department of Employment security.

It Runs Through My Mind

BY POLLY J. HANST

To Be Refreshed
Each of us needs to feel refreshed; most of us need it often. Some women gather in mid-morning for a cup of coffee. Because of this they step lively and with purpose to see their work done so they may have this daily lift.

Men, too, take time out for coffee and gossip over the restaurant counter. Coffee hours are accepted everywhere these days.

There are many of us who feel that the real break comes in other activity. For instance, just plain learning. There is no adventure like it. That probably accounts for so many adult education classes these days.

I felt it was a learning experience when I visited Southern during education week. To visit this and that and nose here and there. After seeing the text books that have been selected for next year I yearned for a refresher course in 7th and 8th grades.

At every turn on that visit I learned something—or wanted to. I would like the know-how of cooking roast beef that the cooks in the cafeteria have. We were served fruit dessert with sections of what we thought might be dwarf tangerines. Something entirely new to all of us. Upon inquiry we learned that we had eaten mandarin oranges packed in Japan. (Goodwill or trade exchange, I suppose.)

Shutting The Door In My Face
I was tempted to skip the visit to the shops since I thought I had no interest in that direction. But those of us who like learning can find it in unexpected spots. That's what happened on the shop visit. The teacher was explaining procedures in tin work I picked up an idea on teaching I can use at home or with a group.

Each boy is given the fundamentals then they are encouraged to make their chosen object in their own way.

Their own way! Putting the individual first. The thrill those boys are going to have with originality. Let's hope it gets in their blood and they never use it.

The Door I Cannot Pass
There's one door at Southern that I can no more pass by than I can pass a craft house, mill-end shop or a sign saying "antiques." It's as compelling to me as an electric train display is to a young father before Christmas. Roberta Copley is behind that door and although I have neither chick nor child in her room I like to observe both teacher and student.

Seniors are adult enough to pay no attention to visitors so I feel there is complete naturalness. Their grammar lesson was over my head so maybe my refresher course should start with the 6th or 6th grade.

No wonder our students don't have to take "househead" English in college!

Not Bad
Mary Louise Helbig, president of R. and P. W., was on the same tour at Southern. As we oiled and ached over first one text book and another Mary Louise glanced down at the magazine racks carrying the latest editions.

"Oh, here's the course I would like to take," she enthusiastically she read aloud, "Glamour—25 days and nights for $25.00."

The Fish Was Out Of Water
At the very dignified dedication of the new armory Walter Dawson, the M. C., was not quite the Walter that most of us know. Oh, he was good, all right, but it might have appeared that the governor not coming and a change in the program might have taken him by surprise.

The truth came out at dinner where he was again M. C., and keener than a whip. He had been told that during the solemn dedication he was to refrain from telling jokes. Walter without jokes just isn't Walter. No doubt he felt like a fish out of water.

He was back in the swim at the dinner and frankly we enjoy him that way. One lady from Southern Maryland exclaimed, as if we

Deer Park-Swanton High In Attendance

Deer Park and Swanton, both two-teacher schools, had the highest percentage of attendance for October with 98.9 percent, it was announced by John L. Fitzwater, supervisor of pupil personnel.

Finzel was top one-teacher school was 98.1 while Loch Lynn was top didn't know. "That man ought to be on television. He'd be worth $10,000."

Yearbook Is Rated; Receives 2nd Place

The 1955 Highlander, Southern's Yearbook, was given a second place rating by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association in early November. One thousand total points were possible and The Highlander received 832. The first place rating received 850 points. We lacked 18 points of being first. However, the rating improved 30 points over last year's score.

The annual's highest points were in the idea of the book, layout, paper stock and binding, and engraving.

Congressman DeWitt S. Hyde - 6th District, Maryland

Flight from political oppression and population pressures have created vast national migration problems in the years since the end of World War II. I have just returned from attending the meetings of the Intergovernmental Committee on European Migration in Geneva. I participated in the discussions as an official delegate of the United States. The assignment dovetailed with my work as a Member of the House Judiciary Subcommittee on Immigration.

The Intergovernmental Committee on European Migration was formed in 1951 and is composed of 26 nations of the Free World. ICEM acts as an agent in aiding the relocation of refugees and immigrants who wish to migrate and for whom there is an insufficiency of personal or national funds to finance their migration. It also provides transportation and pre-migration training in language, customs, history and some vocational guidance.

Funds for the organization come from contributions made by the member nations on a basis of the number of migrants leaving or coming into a country. It may interest you to know that the United States furnishes about 45 percent of the budget. We are contributing $74.90 for every person moved no matter where he goes. This is in addition to the sums paid by the "sending" and "receiving" nations.

It seems to me that the organization has done well in aiding oppressed people and those suffering from the pressures of overpopulation to find new homes. Out of the more than 830,000 Europeans who have migrated since 1951, ICEM has assisted some 301,000. Of those who were ICEM-aided approximately 64,000 have come to the United States.

The refugee is no longer a major problem in Europe. Economic recovery has mitigated his plight. Overpopulation, though, is still of serious concern in countries such as the Netherlands, Italy and

Asks Support of Mental Health Fund

Mrs. Dorothy Rudy, Mental Health Chairman of the Junior Woman's Civic Club of Oakland, announces that within the next week nearly 500 Garrett Countians will receive information about the voluntary mental health movement in Maryland and appeals to support the Maryland Mental Health Fund.

Mrs. Rudy points out that more than 4,000 Marylanders will be entering the 5 state mental hospitals in the year ahead, and that there are currently more patients hospitalized for mental illness than for all other kinds of illnesses combined.

"Just about 100 of our Garrett County neighbors are in the state mental hospitals," she states. "Most of them are in Springfield, but there are some in Crossville, Rosewood, and Spring Grove."

Mrs. Rudy points out that the program supported by the Mental Health Fund serves Garrett County directly by helping its patients in the mental hospitals in a variety of ways. The Fund also supports expansion of mental hygiene clinic service for early diagnosis and early treatment of emotional disturbances, and provides education programs for individuals and organizations across the state.

Senate Cloakroom

By J. GLENN BEALL
United States Senator from Maryland

It probably won't be too long, I was convinced this week, before Western Marylanders will be able to take a dip in the Ocean City surf and be back home before their bathing suits are dry.

My speculation on the matter was spurred by a telephone call from a man who had read that I plan to see whether it would be practical to build a heliport in conjunction with the "World Center" planned for Washington.

"I'm particularly interested in the idea," said the man, "because I commute, and I'd like to be able to fly to work."

500 Miles Per Hour

A day later I read an article in which the author predicted that helicopters with speeds of about 500 miles per hour will be shuttling passengers between cities by the end of the next quarter-century.

After thinking over the commuter's conversation and the writer's forecast, I realized that I was not completely correct in advocating the heliport study as a means of "planning for the future."

Actually, it seems, a great deal of the preparation necessary for the jet age we are entering is already overdue.

Helicopters are already whirling over parts of New York, Florida, and other states, and numerous communities are studying plans to provide additional heliports for the country.

The nation, in general, is thinking in terms of rocket speeds, space satellites and helicopter transportation. But specific planning in many areas has lagged.

Two Problems

Two major factors account for much of our present trouble in the field.

In the first place, most of our major cities expanded haphazardly from villages which were born in the horse-and-buggy days. Consequently, it has been difficult to find heliport sites which can be approached along avenues of flight which meet current safety requirements.

The second problem is money. Helicopter service is still comparatively expensive, and many of the present operators rely heavily on mail contracts to make their runs profitable.

I feel certain that these difficulties will eventually be overcome. That's why we must catch up with our planning now.

My own suggestion about a Washington heliport, which I offered as a member of the commission which is studying the "World Center," is aimed at obtaining a facility which could be used for persons and equipment which might have to be transported to the city quickly for emergencies or similar events at the center.

In addition, it could also be used to link the Capital with Baltimore Friendship Airport if the two cities agreed that such an arrangement would be mutually beneficial.

Now is the time for Baltimore and Washington to give serious thought to the idea. And other communities, too, would do well to begin anticipating the day when a helicopter flight from Worcester county to Garrett county will take less than an hour.

Now is the time for Baltimore and Washington to give serious thought to the idea. And other communities, too, would do well to begin anticipating the day when a helicopter flight from Worcester county to Garrett county will take less than an hour.

Gas Company to Reduce Number of Subsidiaries

Columbia Gas System, Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company's parent organization, announced a long-range plan to simplify the organization and reduce the number of its subsidiaries.

The plan is designed to increase operating efficiency and "produce economies," Russell H. Brown, local manager, said.

At present C. and A. distributes gas to 21,000 retail customers in Maryland and 16,500 in West Virginia. Under the plan Maryland distribution properties would be operated independently by the present company with its operations limited exclusively to that state. West Virginia distribution properties would be taken over by a new subsidiary.

Gas production and transmission properties in the two states would ultimately be transferred to a new interstate pipeline company which would cover seven states.

The plan was presented in Washington before representatives of the Federal Power commission and utility commissions of the several states.

Today Columbia gets about 76 percent of the gas it sells from the southwest United States and about 24 percent from the Appalachian area.

Family visited relatives in Pittsburgh recently. Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Lantz were Mr. and Mrs. George Lantz, of Eglon; and Mr. and Mrs. George Wolfe.

Shoddy Affair

One of the shoddiest affairs in a long time has just taken place this week in the operation of the county's business. The Board of County Commissioners and the Board of Election Supervisors were unable to come to an agreement on the purchase of voting machines because of three individuals who, from all the evidence, were letting their personal feelings get the nod over their better judgment.

It was shoddy for several reasons. Five of them by recorded vote said they recognized that the Schoup Voting Machine company had submitted the low bid. Attorneys to both boards had recommended that the low bid be accepted. Yet, when the vote to accept the low bid was taken, William L. Gibson, Francis W. Sanders and Ervin Roth voted against the motion, creating a deadlock.

By doing so they appeared to show utter disregard of the taxpayers' funds, since there was a difference in the two bids of $2,262.88. Had there been any legal reason why one machine was superior to the other, then there might have been some excuse for wanting to accept the higher bid. But apparently there was none. Both machines had qualified as to state requirements and there was no indication that one machine was better than the other.

That appears to us to show that the three mentioned refused to do the upright and honorable thing, for purely personal reasons. It is a known fact that Lawrence M. Fraley is local representative of the company which submitted the higher bid. It also is reasonable to assume that Gibson and Sanders are both indebted to Fraley in some portion for the appointive position they now hold, Fraley being a member of the Republican State Central committee. But personalities and personal obligations have no place in this business where a county can save over two thousand dollars by the purchase of voting machines at the best price.

We certainly want to give due credit to the other three persons, H. D. Swartzentruber, Aubrey Brennenman and William O. Treacy, who have shown a desire to safeguard public funds, act in a commendable manner, and exercise a tremendous amount of patience.

There was no particular desire on our part to point the finger of scorn at any individual, but when such shoddy action occurs, there is no other recourse. They ought to feel downright ashamed of their part in this affair.

600 Get Polio Vaccine Shots

Six hundred or more school children have received their second immunization shots of Salk polio vaccine. It was announced yesterday by Dr. Arthur Jones, county health officer.

The number is some less than those receiving first shots last fall but Dr. Jones said there were instances where the second shot could not be given at this time. Children of the Red House school were not able to receive their shots because of an epidemic of sore throats, but will receive the shots later.

A few children received their first shot and will be given a second shot of vaccine after the lapse of a month or more.

Dr. Jones had high praise for his group of volunteer workers who aided in giving the shots. He listed them as follows:

Patient Improves

Steven Gilmore, aged 6, of Kitzmiller, was reported improving on Wednesday in Garrett County Memorial hospital in Oakland, where he was taken after he was struck by an automobile driven by Dan Tasker, also of Kitzmiller, on Monday.

This physician, Dr. Joseph Alvarez, said the lad was suffering from a cerebral concussion and possible internal injuries. The lad was conscious and showing much improvement.

March of Dimes Campaign Planned

Garrett county's annual March of Dimes campaign will begin in January and campaign directors are already beginning to urge county residents to double the amount contributed last year. Approximately 15 cents per person was raised in the county last year.

Plans for the forthcoming drive will be completed at a dinner meeting at the William-James hotel in Oakland on Wednesday evening, November 30, at 6:30.

Ralph Swauger, chapter chairman, stressed the importance of community campaign directors attending the meeting. The nation will be asked for $47,000,000. Mr. Swauger stressed that the fight against polio had not yet been won. Money contributed will be used to perfect the Salk vaccine, to buy and operate equipment and to train personnel. Swauger also pointed out that while healthy children are being assured by science of protection against polio, those already stricken are fighting to live and play again.

Charles L. Briner, Oakland, is the county campaign director for 1956, and the community directors include Mrs. W. T. DeWeese and William Hesen, Oakland; Joseph Welch, Mt. Lake Park; Mrs. Arthur Humbertson, Loch Lynn Heights; Mrs. Ellis Harvey, Swanton; Mrs. Dan Hershberger, Grantsville; Mrs. Amos Friend, Friendsville; Mrs. William Harman, Accident; Ralph Buckel, Bittering; Mrs. Kathleen B. Layman, Finzel; Mrs. E. C. Clatterback, Deer Park; Leburn Myers, Crofton; I. B. Buckley, Kitzmiller; Mrs. Charlotte Barnard, of Bloomington.

Contributions Sought

Garrett County residents wishing to contribute Christmas gifts for the patients at the state mental hospitals may leave their contributions at the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland, according to Miss Edith Brock, librarian.

The Maryland Association for Mental Health has been asked to provide Christmas gift packages for 8,000 patients at Crownsville, Springfield and Spring Grove state hospitals and Rosewood State Training School who might otherwise be forgotten at the holiday season.

Home and School Group Meets

St. Peter's school's Home and School organization was held on Wednesday, November 16, in the school hall.

Dr. Arthur Jones, director of the Public Health Service of Garrett county, was guest speaker. He outlined the history of immunization and vaccination, stressing the newest Salk polio vaccine. Dr. Jones explained the polio vaccine program as carried on in the schools. A question and answer period concluded the meeting.

Christmas Savings Checks This Year Will Total $34,500

Christmas Savings club checks from the two Oakland banks will total more than $34,500 this year, an increase of over $5,000 over the previous, it was announced this week. Both banks will mail out these savings checks, December 1.

The money will be sent to more than 375 depositors of the First National Bank and the Garrett National Bank in Oakland.

Both banks are planning Christmas clubs for next year as soon as the checks for this year's accounts are mailed, or even earlier. First payments are due the first week in December and depositors may make as little as 25-cent payments each week. They may be taken for as large as $10 a week.

Distribution throughout the nation will be over one billion dollars. While most of the money will go for Christmas presents it is also estimated that a percentage will go to savings accounts, insurance premiums and savings bonds. Many regular Christmas club members save for specific purposes, for winter vacations, to pay taxes, to meet insurance installment, to finance home modernization and for tuition of college students.

Play Moves Into Final Rehearsals

Southern High School's first faculty dramatic production moved into final rehearsals as the group prepared to present "Night of January 16th" at 8:15 p. m. Friday, December 2.

The entire action of the play takes place in a courtroom. All testimony presented is circumstantial. That is why a jury will be selected from the audience the night of the play. This play has two endings. The defendant is either "guilty or not guilty." This decision remains entirely in the hands of the jury.

During the play's run in New York several years ago, on only two occasions were there unanimous verdicts.

The cast includes 20 faculty members. Admission for the play is 75c. Tickets may be purchased from any student at Southern High school.

Informed of State Tax Rate For 1956

The Garrett County Board of County Commissioners was notified last week that the state tax rate for the calendar year of 1956 on real and personal property will be 10.9 cents per $100 of assessable basis.

This is a decrease from the 11-cent rate in effect for the current year. The notification was signed by Joseph O'C. McCusker of the state comptroller's office.

The notice is sent each year so the commissioners will have the rate in plenty of time to include it in their tax levy set in January. The county collects the state tax simultaneously with county taxes.

Two Boards Fail to Agree On Voting Machine Purchase

She has been song leader and vice-president of her club.

Receiving county and community blue awards in her many exhibits, Judy feels that she is anxious to go on to bigger and better things. One of her favorite projects is clothing. Other projects in which she has achieved honors are canning, foods preparation, home furnishings and crafts.

Judy is an organizer and enjoys her work with her Sunday school and church group. She is also active in her school volleyball and softball teams. She attends the Northern Garrett county Junior-Senior high school.

Retail sales in 1954 of 208 stores in Garrett county totaled $14,858,000, according to preliminary 1954 census of business figures, announced by the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce. This was an increase of 21.2 percent over sales in 1948 of 227 stores at $12,260,000.

Stores with payroll in 1954 numbered 114, had 362 paid employees in November, 1954, reported payroll of $1,157,000 and accounted for sales of $12,976,000. Proprietors of unincorporated businesses number 245. The number of stores and their 1954 sales, grouped by major kinds of business, were:

Fred Stemple Accepted For Navy School of Music

Fred Stemple, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stemple, was accepted into the U.S. Navy School of Music on Tuesday, it was learned.

Stemple took a written examination about five weeks ago and was ordered to report to Baltimore on Monday for his physical examination. Having passed this successfully he was sent to Washington on Tuesday for his audition which he successfully passed.

He will be sent to Bainbridge for nine weeks recruit training after which he will return to Washington for training with the Navy School of Music.

Refusal of three of the members to vote to accept the low bid was the cause of some concern to those involved and was the reason for the all-day meeting that started out to be only a routine business session.

After several deadlocked votes it was seen that prolonging the meeting would serve no useful purpose and H. D. Swartzentruber, president of the County Commissioners, announced that another meeting would be called for Friday morning, December 2, at 9 o'clock.

A record of events which took place during the day were obtained from the minutes of the meeting of both the clerk to the Board of Election Supervisors and the clerk to the Board of County Commissioners, both of which are public records.

The bids were opened and read showing the following:

Automatic Voting Machine company submitted a bid of $1,171 for each of the 36 machines, F. O. B. Oakland, making the total cost $53,961. The company gave the Commissioners the privilege of purchasing only 31 machines, and gave the opportunity to borrow two other machines, but for which they would have to pay within the next several years.

The Schoup Voting Machine company submitted a bid of $50,-801.12 for the 36 machines, which was $2,262.88 less than the overall bid of the Automatic Voting Machine company. The bid was broken down in this manner: 36 machines at $1,585.32 each or a total of $57,093.12. This company offered four additional machines with the stipulation that if they were not needed at this time that a credit of $6,292 would be allowed, making the total amount owed $50,-801.12.

Both boards went into executive session with clerks and attorneys to both boards present. This was decided upon only after a vote, since there were objections to having the attorneys present. Objections were overruled.

During the sessions that followed Walter W. Dawson, attorney to the Board of Election Supervisors, advised the board that it should recommend to the County Commissioners that the Schoup bid, or low bid, be accepted.

Both Dawson and Dwight Stover, attorneys to the two boards, had advised several weeks ago that the low bid should be accepted, unless there was some compelling reason not to accept. Both bids, however, had come up to state regulations and apparently were similar in quality.

William L. Gibson, president of the Supervisors of Elections, said he felt that a large percentage of machines of the Automatic company in Maryland and elsewhere should be reason enough to accept the bid of the Automatic Voting Machine company. Dawson replied that such a reason would not be legally acceptable.

Swartzentruber then stated that there were a few representatives pulling for the local representative, others pulling the other way, but he recommended to the County Commissioners that the lowest bid be accepted. Although no names were (Continued on Page Six)

Planning Group Meets

Farm Planning group No. 9 of the Farm Bureau met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Buckel recently with six couples attending. Mrs. Kenneth Buckel led the topic, "Let's Discuss Something."

The group felt that Farm Bureau should provide the mechanism for a discussion group in every community of the county.

Mrs. Buckel said they felt that farmers could do something about their problems if they worked together. They felt that some farmers were afraid of their own influence and had a fear of self-expression when in a large group with whom they were not well acquainted.

The group plans its program so that important decisions are voted upon with issues of definite action going to the county farm bureau.

The group expressed the feeling that knowledge of farm bureau and its work and purposes was much broader since organization of the planning groups.

Wins Top Honor

Miss Elmer Sines, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore E. Sines, route 1, Oakland, a graduate of Oakland High school with the class of '52, was chosen with ten other students to represent Frostburg State Teachers college in Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges. This is one of the highest honors given at Frostburg State.

Faculty members in choosing nominees for this publication consider the student's scholarship, his participation and leadership in academic and extra-curricular activities, his citizenship and service to the school, and his promise for future usefulness.

Miss Sines will graduate with the class of 1956. She was on the Dean's list both semesters during her junior year, has completed eighteen weeks of practice teaching and engaged in the following activities: Member of the Women's Recreation association, being treasurer in her sophomore year and co-president in both her junior and senior year; member of Student Christian Association for four years and secretary in freshman year; member of Future Teachers of America, in freshman year; member of Maryland Singers, sophomore, junior year; member of Phi Omicron Delta sorority, junior and senior year; member of House Council, junior year and its co-president senior year.

Spray Alfalfa For Chickweed

Alfalfa should be sprayed now for chickweed, says Dr. Paul W. Santelmann, University of Maryland weed control specialist.

In most cases, the best time to spray alfalfa for chickweed control is soon after the first killing frost, Dr. Santelmann says. In fields where chickweed has outgrown the young alfalfa, he advises spraying before frost, and in some cases a second spraying is recommended about three weeks after the initial application. Alfalfa should not be sprayed after March 15, he says.

Dr. Santelmann reports he has seen some alfalfa stands that have become completely covered by chickweed. He says farmers may be in for a lot of chickweed this year unless we have an unusually cold winter. Farmers should look their seedling alfalfa fields over closely and check for chickweed, he suggests.

To control the weed, Dr. Santelmann recommends spraying with a pound to a pound-and-a-half of dinitro when the weed is not heavy. When there is a heavy mat of chickweed, two or three spray applications are necessary, he says.

The chemical CIPC (4-chloro-2,4-dinitrophenyl) may be used in place of dinitro, but Dr. Santelmann warns that CIPC kills grasses too, so must be used only on pure alfalfa stands. One application of one to two pounds per acre of CIPC will kill all the chickweed, he added.

Always follow the manufacturer's recommendations. In using any sprays, Dr. Santelmann says, farmers should check with their county agent for a copy of autonomy memo No. 65, "Control of Chickweed in Alfalfa."

Chickweed starts growing soon after alfalfa is seeded and in many cases the weed reduces the alfalfa stand by smothering the alfalfa and robbing it of important nutrients and water needed for a good growth. Heavy matted chickweed also provides a place for disease organisms to live.

Chickweed is a winter annual weed germinating in the fall and winter months. It blooms in the spring, and then dies. Dr. Santelmann says it is a small plant, "but can make such a heavy mat on the soil that it creates quite a problem."

Senator Estes Kefauver, of Tennessee, said he would make an announcement about his candidacy for president by mid-December.

The do-it-yourself craze is helping make the home more dangerous than traffic, a researcher declared.

Adlai Stevenson formally announced he was a candidate for Democratic nomination for President.

Is Your Name SAVAGE?

Do you know that:
SAVAGE has been in use as a surname in England and Ireland for a number of centuries. It was bestowed, when surnames first came into vogue, upon those who had a certain roughness of manner and not, as its literal meaning would imply, upon those who were uncivilized or wild. The SAVAGE family first came to England with William the Conqueror in the 11th century, and the name was first spelled "Le Sauvage." It is known that individuals, bearing the name of SAVAGE, were residents in County Down, Ireland, as far back as the year 1177.

JOSEPH SAVAGE (1756-1814) and SAMUEL STOW SAVAGE (1743-1813) served as captains respectively in the Massachusetts and Vermont troops during the Revolutionary War.

The first census of the United States, taken in 1790, has listings of ELIZABETH, ISAAC, JAMES, BENJAMIN, WILLIAM and ZEROBABLE SAVAGE who were residents of Maryland and heads of families at that time.

Garrett County was created from portions of Allegany County by an act of the General Assembly of Maryland, approved on April 1, 1872. Among the early marriage licenses, issued by its clerk of courts, was that of Isaac W. Abernathy and SOPHIA K. SAVAGE on June 5, 1873.

LOU A. SAVAGE and B. B. SAVAGE were school teachers in roy Golden, fire chief of the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department, answered questions, demonstrated the inhalator and gave the children the privilege of climbing on a real fire truck, one of the Oakland units. Other resource persons are being asked to participate.

ARTHUR WM. SAVAGE (1857-1938) was the founder of SAVAGE Arms Company, Utica, N. Y., substantial manufacturers of military weapons.

EZRA PERRIN SAVAGE was governor of Nebraska.

THEODORE FISKE SAVAGE, a clergyman of note, is executive secretary of the Presbytery of New York.

JUSTICE

In his little book called "Windows Toward God," Dr. Charles Schmitz pictures two children eagerly looking at a nice piece of frosted cake. The problem that presented itself to the mother was how to divide the cake so that each child would be completely satisfied. If Mother cut the cake there would be a mad scramble on the part of each child to get first choice, and so, perhaps, a larger piece. But this mother had a happy solution to the problem. Placing a knife beside the cake, she said, "Now children, here is the cake and the knife. It doesn't matter to me who will do it, but one of you will cut the cake and the other will have first choice."

Here's a good idea—not only for sharing cake—but for sharing many of the larger difficulties of life. One to do the dividing, the other to have first choice. Dr. Schmitz calls this the path of justice, the word that can change your life.

Some Live Stock Ailments And Poor Soil Are Related

Agriculture research is revealing a relationship between some animal ailments and the mineral contents of soils upon which they live according to Dr. John E. Foster, head of the University of Maryland animal husbandry department.

For some time it has been known that rickets of ruminant animal in some eastern areas is caused by cobalt deficiency in the soils and crops in those areas. More recently, mineral poisoning is suspected to be the cause of physical deformities in cattle on western range-lands.

Dr. Foster said locating mineral abnormalities in soils is a big job, and much work lies ahead in this field of research. One promising method makes use of "indicator" plants, that is, plants that have a plentiful supply of trace minerals in proportion to their content in the soil. More knowledge is needed

The Small and the Big of It

Already, the battle lines for the 1956 elections are forming. Frantically, the apologists for the New and Fair Deal are conjuring up campaign issues. The Baltimore Sun set the pace recently when it stated—"It is quite true—that the voters are enjoying peaceful prosperity and also that the cold war is on again. Somehow a fair measure of peace and a prosperity unparalleled in history have been extracted from a most unpromising situation. . . . Except for the conviction that the "unpromising" cold war has never ceased or diminished in acuteness, many will agree with this observation.

To thwart the truth of this peaceful prosperity, the New-Fair Deal disciples, though floundering, are busily engaged. With careless respect for the real facts, they sing the same old tiresome song. Again, the Republican Party is labelled "the friend of big business" or "the enemy of small business."

Ignored by them is the unmistakable trace of history. Since 1890, the road to free enterprise and prosperity in this country has been paved by eighteen major acts, twelve of Republican origin, setting standards for the conduct of business among free men. The scope of these milestones has included transportation, communications, tariffs, foods and drugs, and others. Important among these has been the Sherman Anti-Trust Act which has hardly been the source of rejoicing for big business. Also ignored by them is the tell-tale fact that the ill-advised National Recovery Act (NRA) was a New Deal scheme to pacify big business.

These frenzied efforts to create the impression that the Eisenhower Administration has been unresponsive to the function of small business will increase in the coming months. It is but part of the New-Fair Deal fantasy! On the contrary, through the removal of excess-profits taxes and wage-price controls and tax revisions, the Eisenhower Administration has improved the role of small-business. As a result of the creation, in 1953, of the Small Business Administration, more than $86 million in credit have been made available to small firms, and $700 million in proposed Government purchases have been reserved for small business. In that period, some 3600 military contracts have been awarded small businesses.

Our national economy hinges upon both small and big business. The certainty of that proposition is reflected in the present atmosphere of peaceful prosperity. While the Baltimore Sun says—"Conceptually the present Administration has had something to do with this"—should like to suggest that the Eisenhower Administration has definitely had very much to do with it.

I SEE BY THE DAILIES

Martin Durkin, former labor secretary, died November 13 at 61. Soviet Molotov said Eisenhower's proposal for U. S.-Russian exchange of military blueprints and reciprocal air inspection "would strengthen mutual distrust."

Budget director declared he thought federal budget could be balanced.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Pressure On Adlai

As he reflects upon the reaction to his now formally announced presidential candidacy, Mr. Adlai E. Stevenson must be somewhat confused. For it has by no means been unanimous, even in his own party. Undoubtedly, he is now the foremost Democrat reaching for the Democratic nomination. But then he was that long before he gave out his statement. It has not changed the situation in the least. It told neither his friends nor his foes anything they did not know before.

Of course, it must be a personal relief to him not to have longer to pretend that he has no aspirations for the presidency and to seem waiting for a "draft" that clearly was not going to materialize. To be sure, this involves a certain amount of four-flushing and double talk which was unpalatable to some of his more sincere friends and was growing increasingly boring to the general public. Now that stage is happily over and Mr. Stevenson has advanced to that other stage of an open candidate who does not have to pretend any more. At least that is what he had hoped.

But it has not developed quite that way. At the moment, Mr. Stevenson's closest friends and advisers are sharply divided in their counsel as to the type of campaign he should adopt. One set insists that all he need do is to be his own intellectual, high-minded self. They want him again to be the gay, jocular campaigner as he was in 1952 put on a good show and ridicule the Eisenhower record and program. That is "the stuff to feed the troops." That will bring out the crowds and kindle the needed enthusiasm.

Another group of intimates totally disagrees. They want Mr. Stevenson to conduct his campaign with dignity and good taste. They point out that what they feel was too much popularity in 1952 earned Mr. Stevenson the nickname of the "Little Joker," which did him no good whatever anywhere. The American people, it is argued, think the presidency is a serious job and they do not want in the White House a funny man surrounded by smart alecks.

To this end they are urging him to keep in the background the Steve Mitchells and Paul Butlers who seem so congenial and devoted and put the strategy and management of his campaign in the hands of the Jake Aronys, the Jim Finnegan and other professors of practical politics who really know the score. A certain number of "egg-heads," they say, are all right and perhaps to be desired. But to have the "egghead" flavor too pronounced and too powerful is poor stuff for a presidential candidate, either before or after nomination. Also, they insist that "wisecracks" from the candidate are ineffectual.

AURORA-EGILON

Adrian Harsh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Harsh, near Aurora, remains a patient in a Baltimore hospital where he was taken recently by Spiggle's ambulance from a Philip hospital where he had been a patient for several weeks. His mother, the former Miss Edith Lantz, has been remaining at his bedside. The Harsh's daughter Miss Mary Ellen, who is employed at Kingwood, received many bruises last week when she fell down a stairway. She was able to return to her work this week.

Mrs. J. W. Parks is critically ill at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Parks, Eglon. Recent guests were Mr. and Mrs. Keith Parks, of Parkersburg.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. William Baker, Brookside, returned last week from the Garrett County Memorial hospital where he had been a medical patient for several days. Walter Shaffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shaffer, of Brookside, who was injured last week when he wrecked his truck, was able to return to the home of his parents Saturday. He had been treated in a Winchester hospital.

Charles McGinnis underwent major surgery last week in a Brookside hospital where he had been a patient for some time. His wife, the former Miss Patty Bowman has been at his bedside. They were former residents of this area. James Thorn, who is employed in Cleveland, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Thorn, Horse Shoe Run. Eugene Fike, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fike, Eglon, went Sunday to Cleveland where he entered Carnegie Institute as student for X-ray and Laboratory Technician. He was accompanied by his father and a friend, Norman Helmick of Horse Shoe Run. The two latter returned Sunday evening.

Miss Jessie Trotter left Aurora last Wednesday for Shepherdstown where she plans to spend the winter months.

Mrs. Roscoe Seko left Aurora on Sunday for New York to spend the winter. Mr. Seko has employment there.

Wotring remains seriously ill at his home at Brookside. He is the father of Mrs. George Coddington, Oakland.

Mrs. Eleanor McCrum moved from her Aurora home Sunday to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wotring and Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe and out of place. Let somebody else make them.

As between those widely divergent views, it can be seen that Mr. Stevenson's chances of a placed ride from now on are not very good. He will, of course, compromise, at which he is very good, indeed. Already, he has named Mr. Finnegan as his campaign manager, but at the same time designated Hyman Raskin, Stephen Mitchell and William Wyatt as "advisers." It will be interesting to watch Mr. Stevenson play these opposing forces so as to keep both satisfied. It is, of course, vital to him to keep his reputation as a man of "independence and principle."

This was somewhat damaged by his subservient yielding to the labor bosses in 1952 and his recent woe-woeing on the farm problem, about which he avoided taking a firm stand but did demonstrate that he personally knew little about the basic problem. His practical political friends enjoy having him propagandized as a "man of principle" but they don't want this principle business carried too far. In light of his labor shift in the last campaign and his present vagueness on the farm problem, it does seem that they need not worry too much.

Industrial Arts Boys Construct NHS Sign

A school sign, 5 ft. by 8 ft., bearing the name "Northern Garrett County Jr.-Sr. High School," will soon be placed on the left side of the roadway leading into the school from route 219. The sign was constructed by Rodney McKenzie, Garlets.

Let the Pilgrims of America's infancy be shining examples to all of us here today. Their courage, their humility, their gratitude for the blessings of freedom and bountiful land are engraved upon the history of our country.

And the day they set aside for sincere Thanksgiving... may this day retain its true significance for all of us, always. May we all give thanks.

Along The Potomac

Congressman DeWitt S. Hyde - 6th District, Maryland

America at this Thanksgiving is especially mindful of its gratitude for its natural resources heritage. Our gratitude this year is enriched by the growing awareness of a pressing need to insure a continuance of the bountiful gifts of nature. I am thinking in particular of the recognition of our need to take steps which will insure a steady flow of clean water for residential and industrial use. Our people sense the responsibility for pollution control.

Pollution abatement is a national problem. In our own area the matter of pollution control has been highlighted in a controversy over a proposed location for new facilities for the Potomac Electric Power Company and its probable effect on Metropolitan Washington's water supply. This particular project has not created new problems, but it serves to remind us that the rapid residential and industrial development in the Washington area and along the Potomac has created sewage and other waste disposal problems that cry for attention.

Only an aroused people can insure necessary action by local communities, the State and the Federal Government. Americans have traditionally considered water pollution control as a state and local responsibility. This is rightly so, and Congress has repeatedly recognized this principle of primary State responsibility in its consideration of many federal water pollution control bills; in its enactment of the Federal Pollution Control Act grants certain standard authority for pollution control of interstate waters to the U. S. Public Health Service. In spelling out this interest in interstate pollution the Congress also recognized that the federal interest extends to the overall problem of pollution control.

The Federal Government's role should be that of coordinator. The various plans of Virginia, Maryland and the District of Columbia for pollution control must be centrally planned and coordinated if we are to have a continued supply of clean water. This I believe, can best be done by the already functioning Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin. Federal funds may be necessary for the overall planning and coordination, but the cost of the implementation should be borne by the localities.

On My Calendar: I plan to be in my office in Cumberland on Friday afternoon and Saturday morning, November 27 and 28. On Monday, November 29, I plan to discuss with various Montgomery County Veterans groups the proposed Veterans Hospital for this area. I plan to speak on the general problems of European migration.

Governor's Proclamation "THANKSGIVING" November 24th, 1955

Among the outstanding expressions of America's faith in God is the annual Day of Thanksgiving observed throughout the land.

We have many reasons for the giving of thanks. There is peace in the land and our people are blessed with plentiful living, based on a sound economy which gives good promise for the future.

Advances in medical science give hope for a healthier and happier people. We have found the ways and means to improve, and are improving the institutions for the care of our ill, our needy, and other unfortunate among us.

Enlightenment, understanding and a sense of brotherhood are on the increase across the length and breadth of our land.

Great organizations of great-hearted people work to extend that brotherhood throughout the world.

Among these are the War Relief Services of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, the Church World Service of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A., and the United Jewish Appeal of the Synagogue Council of America.

These groups are engaged in the humane endeavor of distributing abroad surplus food and clothing and helping in the reconstruction of distressed lands and the rehabilitation of distressed peoples.

With our many blessings and obligations in mind, and with mankind's debt of gratitude before me, I, Theodore R. McKeldin, Governor, do proclaim Thursday, November 24th, 1955, to be a day for giving thanks to God—for the renewing and strengthening of our faith in His guidance and care—and for holding high the brotherhood of man.

GIVEN Under My Hand and the Great Seal of the State of Maryland, at the City of Annapolis, this 18th Day of November, in the Year of Our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Fifty-five.

By the Governor

THEODORE R. MCKELDIN

Americans Drinking More Milk Products

Americans are drinking more milk and eating more of other dairy products, according to a report from the Agricultural Marketing Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

In 1953 each person used the equivalent of only 688 pounds of milk, consuming it in the form of all dairy products such as butter, cheese, ice cream, as well as fluid milk. This was the smallest quantity since as far back as figures are available—1924.

But in 1954 the picture improved slightly when per capita consumption per person rose to 700 pounds. And in many offices and public buildings vending machines made it easier for workers, travelers, and other, to buy sweet milk buttermilk and flavored milk drinks.

It Runs Through My Mind

BY POLLY J. HANST

Let us remember that Thanksgiving, in the beginning, was a day for thanking God. It was celebrated in the form of feasting and friendship. The feasting we seem to take for granted because of the great bounty of our land. Friendship, perhaps, has become the more priceless of the two because the human heart is the only machine for its production.

Now I Have Heard All

At our congregational meeting last week the Pastor asked the people for suggestions on how he could improve his work in the church.

Finally one woman said, "Now this complaint isn't from me but I've heard it from others. Your sermons aren't long enough!"

I was reminded of the college president who was asked to make a speech in a certain city and the date was trying to get set.

"Well," he said, "It all depends upon the length of the speech as to when I can be ready. If I'm to speak five minutes I'll need a month for preparation. A fifteen minute one will require two weeks; a forty-five minute talk, one week. But if you want an hour long talk, I can begin right now."

We had a late fall and early winter. The statement sounds contradictory, but it's true. I can't complain about either since beauty was present for both.

Ever—Not Never

It's a hard thing to face the crowd and admit one's mistakes. My face is red if I do and red if I don't. I've stopped blaming the folks at the office since they said, "we just can't read your writing."

So it was either my writing or my pen. I wrote last week, "Let's hope it (originality) gets in their blood and they NEVER use it."

Something New For The Kids

While we're thinking about originality I can't help but comment on the most original plaything for children since the day someone cut a grapevine for a swing.

The need for such a toy presented itself to me just recently. When Jeff, five, took a look in my linen closet with a door opening into the hall and one in the bathroom, and remarked, "If that place were cleaned out it would make a good tent." I ignored the remark because I didn't want to shift cleaning and bath supplies just at that time.

But oh, how I could have used one of these tumble toys that was pictured on the cover of This Week on Sunday.

Why couldn't someone have thought of that years ago. The blankets and quilts that have been carried out in the bushes, under porches and in pine trees for hid-out, or tents still carry the battle scars.

This toy is a large well balanced box with holes cut in it of various sizes and shapes. The interior construction still is a mystery to me. No doubt it was designed by some father with frayed nerves who had lots of children but no bushes, porches or pine trees. He probably wanted to eliminate forever children crawling under tables with jumps atop, behind sofas, into the bottom of cupboards. No longer will he have to live with a tent made from a card table and Aunt Maria's crazy quilt.

Children lucky enough to have one will probably tumble-bumble all over the place. In and out, up and over a combination see-saw, playhouse and jungle gym, it's supposed to keep the kids happy for four hours. Up to the time the story went to press no child has had an injury. No mention was made of injury to furniture once it was brought indoors. Maybe they will have later models with rubber bumpers.

Terra Alta made the December Reader's Digest in such a complimentary way. Under "Sign Language," this item can be found:

The week before Christmas last year parking meters in Terra Alta, W. Va., were covered and each wore a sign, "Not to be opened until after Christmas."

The Lap Of Citizenship

Dr. Mance was shy and humble in accepting the citizenship award by the Girl Scouts on Sunday. Then something happened that made his quality of citizenship speak louder than words.

After refreshments, a little Brownie came over and bounced up on his lap. The child wasn't one of his eight. She was a neighbor's child. Would that there were more laps for neighbors' children.

The father of Baltimore's quadruplets, aged 33, died of cancer. The supply of newsprint in hands of U.S. newspapers was down to lowest level in 22 years and consumption was at a record high.

Woman Is Killed In Auto Crash

A waitress who had been employed at a restaurant on Deep Creek Lake, and formerly at Duane's on U. S. route 40 near Summitfield, was killed Thursday night when her car crashed into the rear of a truck on Summit Mountain, east of Uniontown.

She was Mrs. Winifred Burford Laverly, 65, who was pronounced dead on arrival at Uniontown hospital.

According to police, a car operated by the Laverly woman hit the rear of a loaded lumber truck driven by Ivan G. Sisler, 40, of Hopwood, Pa. According to Don Davis and Tom Davis, Hopwood, she made no attempt to avoid crashing into the rear of the truck. The Davis brothers were following the Laverly vehicle. They found the victim slumped over the front seat. Don Davis directed traffic at the scene while Tom Davis went to Hopwood to summon state police and an ambulance.

Damage to the auto was estimated at $300.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Inez Walker, at home, her divorced husband, Luke Burford, and three grandchildren.

BY GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College

The old McGuffey's Readers, out of which most of the granddads of today were taught to read and spell and understand the English language, combined the two major methods of teaching reading—sound and sight, or phonics and words.

The Modern McGuffey's Readers, now being published as "The Golden Rule Series" by the American Book Company, New York-Cincinnati, also combine both methods of teaching. Today's granddads not only learned to read, spell and parse a sentence with the McGuffey's Readers, they also were given great timeless moral lessons out of which human character is built. It has been said that the moral teachings of the McGuffey's Readers have been quoted more often than those of any other books in the arguments of attorneys before the United States Supreme Court. Undoubtedly they were the most widely used and influential textbooks ever written. The new McGuffey's Readers carry forward the McGuffey's morals-in-education tradition. And this is educational news of highest significance.

Many of the stories in the old McGuffey's Readers are republished in the new series. The new Fourth grade reader carries the story of the father and his seven sons, "The Seven Sticks," which has been a classic for a century, thanks to its appearance in the old McGuffey's. It relates how the sons were asked by their father to "break these sticks." The seven sticks were tied into a bundle with thongs. Each son tried and failed. Then the old man took the bundle and withdrew the sticks one by one and broke them.

There are many lessons in "The Seven Sticks." I frequently have used the story to demonstrate that American freedoms all are in one bundle, and that they must all be retained together if the strength of freedom is to survive. One broken stick, or one broken freedom, weakens the bundle. The old father in the story used the sticks to admonish the sons to stand together in the face of a danger common to them all.

In the new Fourth grade reader is the story of the boy who built the first ball-bearing pushmobile, and the hampering problems he had to solve in building it and winning the race. The boy's name was Eddie. The story features his competitive spirit, perseverance and leadership qualities. The boy's last name was Rickenbacker. He became a champion auto racer, the flying Ace of Aces in World War I, the president of Eastern Airlines, and one of America's truly great citizens.

residents to "start a crusade to drive this killer off our roads and highways."

Mr. Swartzentruber reminded that Thursday, December 1, will be "S-D Day"—Safe Driving Day—in every community and rural area throughout the United States. He added:

"But, we mustn't wait until December 1 to start driving and walking safely. And it mustn't be just a one-day effort, either. We need to start right now—today—and keep at it forever."

S-D Day is sponsored by the President's Committee for Traffic Safety in cooperation with nearly 200 national organizations, including those representing agriculture.

The campaign has the endorsement of the President, Governor McKeldin, all other governors, and mayors of towns and cities throughout the Nation.

Mr. Swartzentruber urged that each and every citizen of Garrett County adopt the following motto—not only for "S-D Day" but for EVERY DAY: "A LIFE GOD GAVE, A LIFE I WILL SAVE."

Mayor Joseph Hinebaugh pledged the full support of the city government of Oakland in making S-D Day a successful one. He named Henry Arnold, city police chief, as S-D Day director.

LEARNING TO SAY
"Thank You"

As every parent knows, learning to say "thank you" is one of the elementary lessons in a child's home education. It is page one in the book of good manners. It is also one of the first lessons in a person's religious education. And here it is something more than mere good manners.

In every age man's spiritual insight can be measured by his readiness to recognize God as the source of strength and blessings, and by his eagerness to express his gratitude to the Almighty. No one has ever doubted the religious sincerity of our Pilgrim fathers: they gave us Thanksgiving Day.

Today, in a world hungry for spiritual leadership, how much depends on our faith in God... and our ability to turn to Him in gratitude and prayer!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

At the risk of being considered a run-bound conformist, I am going to yield to the established custom of this season and devote my column to an expression of thanks.

The object of my gratitude will be the frequently abused band of "nonconformists" of our nation.

Some of my political associates will undoubtedly think they see evidence of cratty logic in that statement, especially since the votes of so-called nonconformists in the opposition party have helped keep me on Capitol Hill for thirteen years.

In a way, I agree. It is only natural that I am grateful to the many persons who have crossed party lines to support me, and I mention it now to try to dispose of any supposition that there are hidden motives behind my Thanksgiving-week comments.

Added Zest

The fact of the matter is that many of the persons now in my thoughts have been dead for centuries.

In their day, though, they added zest and new ideas to our country when it was at the most critical point of its struggle to break away from the rigid conventions of the Old World.

Presently, because of their seemingly unorthodox views, they were branded with a litany of names—"Extremists! Renegades! Eccentrics!"

But it is well to remember that the very families who gathered in New England on the first Thanksgiving Day had gained a reputation in Europe for being somewhat out of step with the Seventeenth Century.

Foundation of Freedom

They came here because they refused to "go along" with the crowd. And they aided in laying the foundations of American freedom.

Today's nonconformists in our nation fall into two categories.

In the first group are the Communists and Red sympathizers who want to destroy by violence the heritage of liberty which permits

The Good News

Lesson for November 27, 1955

THERE is no such thing as the Christian religion, except in human beings. There is no such thing as the growth of Christianity, unless it grows in people. So how does Christianity spread? Only by one way: people who are Christians must win people who are not Christians. People who know Jesus Christ must introduce other people to him. The church has a word for this: it is called Evangelism. Anybody who thinks he doesn't believe in evangelism is really saying that he doesn't care whether there are any new Christians or not. He is saying (though perhaps without realizing it) that what he calls his "faith" is not worth talking about, or recommending to any one else.

Preaching and Bringing—

Our rather technical word "Gospel" means simply "Good News." That is what it is called in the New Testament. Not good advice, or good answers to philosophers' riddles; just good news—about God, about Jesus, about destiny. Luke gives us some interesting and valuable hints about how this Good News was broadcast in Jesus' own time and by his direction. One is in three words (Luke 8:1): Jesus came "preaching and bringing" the good news of the kingdom of God. The Gospel is not something just for talk. A tape-recorder can give out a sermon; but a tape-recorder cannot be a preacher of the Gospel. A minister who preaches on Sunday and disappears the rest of the week if such there be may be preaching the Gospel but he is not bringing it. Jesus lived by what he preached. The good news can be told by a clever tongue, but it can be brought only by a consecrated life. What would be thought of a grocery store where, if you went in, you would see only empty shelves, and a flock of clerks who would button-hole you and tell you all about the wonderful groceries—that aren't there! And what can one think of a church where all you can find out about the love of God is just talk, and nobody brings the Gospel? The Gospel can't be brought in a little parcel you can tuck under your arm like a prayer-book. It has to be brought in a man-sized package, a live sample. After a few months you can buy a "demonstrator" car or tractor cheap; but a "demonstrator" Christian is beyond price.

Seed and Soils

You would think that if we could only get Jesus Christ in person, as he was in Galilee, into our church, we could convert everybody. Well, he didn't. No one ever brought or preached the Gospel better than he; but he did not meet with 100% success. He gave a reason for this that any farmer or gardener can understand. Preaching the Gospel is like sowing seed. He said, "Sometimes when you look at two fields you may find it hard to believe that the same seed was sown in both; but so it was. The difference is in the soils. In Hutchinson, Kansas, there is a grain elevator with a capacity of ten million bushels of wheat. Every bushel in the hundreds of bins can be traced back to the area where it grew. On the wall in the testing-laboratory of that elevator there is a map of Kansas, county by county; and the kind of wheat each county is producing. This year, it is marked there. The same seed wheat, in different counties or in different parts of the same county, may have different protein content or vary in number of bushels to the acre. So some people are better Gospel-soil than others.

To Preach and to Heal

When Jesus sent out his disciples to preach, he sent them to heal too. Health is the church's business. Whatever affects man's health of body, mind or soul, that is the church's affair. When she preaches and brings the Gospel, she has no right to say, "What we preach is only for your soul!" The good news about God has transformed whole communities, it has changed the world for women for children, for slaves, for downtrodden minorities. A gospel which is only for souls is not the Gospel Jesus preached and brought.

Governor Proclaims Safe Driving Day

Appealing to every Maryland citizen to enlist in a nationwide campaign against death on our streets and highways, Governor Theodore R. McKeldin officially proclaimed Thursday, December 1, as "S-D Day"—Safe Driving Day.

The Governor has urged every Mayor and appropriate County official to designate local S-D Day directors. Governors of all other states have joined with Maryland's Chief Executive in support of the S-D Day program.

Endorsed by President Eisenhower and sponsored by the President's Committee for Traffic Safety in cooperation with hundreds of National and State organizations, the campaign begins next Monday. Activity will be intensified from November 21—S-D Minus 10—Through December 11, "S-D Plus 10."

A tally of deaths throughout the nation will be kept during this three week period to measure the campaign's effectiveness.

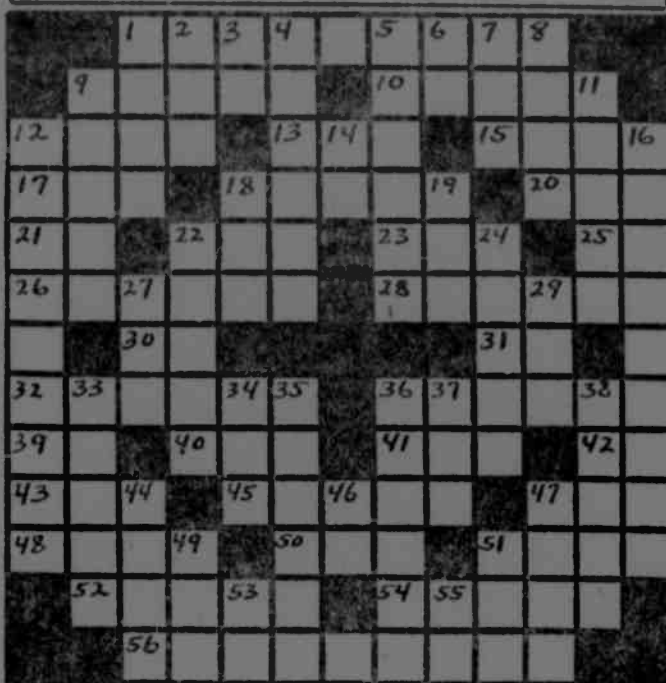

Governor McKeldin said, "My appeal to every motorist and pedestrian can be stated very simply: Let's not kill or hurt ourselves or anybody else for the next forty days. If we just concentrate for forty days upon driving and walking as we know we should, I know we'll prove to ourselves that we can do it the year around."

The S-D Day campaign is based upon the sound principle that the traffic accident problem is not going to be solved in any one place, but in all the States and their communities."

Last year, 522 men, women and children died in traffic in our State. This year 412 have already been killed.

Democratic National committee formally approved a new set of rules which eliminated the so-called "loyalty oath."

Maryland Farm Land Values Up From Last Year

A report by the U. S. Department of Agriculture on current developments in the farm real estate market as of July shows a continued upward trend in market prices of farm land in Maryland this year. Farm land values in the state rose three percent between March and July, 1955, bringing them five percent above their general level as of July, 1954.

Nationally, a continued moderate advance in dollar value of U. S. farm land during the first half of 1955 brought farm real estate values back to their previous peak reached in late 1952 following the Korean outbreak. Compared with a year earlier, farm land values in 36 states showed gains of two percent or more this July and the national average increase was five percent. Largest increases occurred in the central corn belt, where gains ranged from five to eight percent. But similar increases occurred in Texas, Louisiana, and Florida. Only three States—Maine, Vermont and Wyoming—reported values significantly below a year earlier.

Faculty Play

December 2 is the date set for the "Night of January 16," a three-act play presented by Southern's faculty. The subject of the play is a murder trial, and an unusual feature of it is the recruiting of 12 members of the audience to serve on the jury. These jurors will actually decide the verdict of the defendant on trial for murder. The evening performance will be given on December 2 beginning at 8 p. m. in the gymnasium. Admission is 35 cents for children and 75 cents for adults.

12-E Holds Wedding

Mary Jane Browning and Dale Tasker are the ones chosen to be bride and groom for the ceremony. Bill Moore will officiate as the pastor. The customary reception following the more serious ceremony will climax the affair. Plans for the wedding have been carried out by Rita Holler, senior.

FRANKLIN X. DEWITT

Franklin X. DeWitt, aged 86, retired farmer, died last Friday morning, November 18, in Garrett County Memorial hospital in Oakland where he had been a patient for two weeks.

A native of Hagerstown, he was born September 27, 1869, and was a son of the late William and Ann Mattingly DeWitt. He was a great grandson of Meshech Browning, renowned hunter and pioneer of the county.

In his younger days he took part in many of the shooting matches that were common in those days and took home his share of prizes for being an expert marksman.

He was known for his musical ability and played the violin on many occasions with his cousin, the late Abel S. Browning.

For the last 15 years he had resided at Vindex with his son Haven, except for a part of several winters spent in Ohio with a son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Reckner.

His wife, Mrs. Mary Wilburn DeWitt, died 36 years ago. Surviving are the following children: Mrs. George Reckner, Ravenna, Ohio; Miss Helen DeWitt, Indianapolis.

Ind. Haven DeWitt, Vindex, Wayne DeWitt, Deer Park; Mrs. Arthur Calhoun and Miss Glenna DeWitt, both of Oakland.

Also surviving are 11 grandchildren and 16 great grandchildren. A requiem high mass was celebrated on Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock from St. Peter's Catholic church in Oakland with Rev. Fr. Michael K. Carney, pastor, as celebrant. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery in Oakland.

Pallbearers were Leo Reckner, Donald Reckner, George Reckner, Jr., grandsons, and S. R. Pagenhardt, Arthur Calhoun and Delbert Guey.

ROSEBY WILSON

Roseby C. Wilson, aged 63, died suddenly of a heart attack at his farm home two miles south of Mt. Lake Park, on Sunday, November 20.

He was born in Garrett county, February 11, 1886, a son of the late George and Molly Craig Wilson.

Surviving are his wife, the former Lucy Moon; a son, Elwood, of LaBelle, Pa.; two grandchildren, and one great granddaughter.

Funeral services were conducted on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with C. O. Thomas, of Morgantown, W. Va., a member of the Jehovah's Witnesses, officiating. Burial was in the Oakland cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to all our friends and neighbors for their kindness and helpfulness during the illness and following the death of our father, the late Frank DeWitt.

We also want to express our thanks to all who gave flowers and contributed the use of their automobiles for the funeral service.

"Our Growing Edge"

MRS. MARTHA GLOTFELTY

Working With Others
Working with others is a means of growth, for it helps us in many ways. Sometimes we can see for ourselves how very wrong we were to believe a certain thing or have a certain prejudice. Other times, we are made to realize how very good and honest are our own ideals and beliefs.

That has been my own experience in the last few years, as I have worked with a large group of people outside my own home and county. The group I am speaking of is our Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Among the 130,000 who are members of our Congress, we have people of many backgrounds, degree of wealth, many different beliefs. Yet, I have observed those many people working toward a common end, each being able to retain his own personal beliefs, yet having a great common loyalty toward which they all move.

That common loyalty concerns our common objects which have not changed in the last fifty-five years. They have been powerful enough to build the largest volunteer organization in the world, over ten million at the present time. Maryland has the distinction of being the fastest growing Congress in the 48 states, 17,000 new members since last June. Only Hawaii exceeds that number in growth.

The welfare of our children and all children is our reason for being an organization. We believe that we should work for our children to have the best possible advantages in home, school, church and community and that each one of them depends in some measure on us.

We know we shall never have a better world until we have better homes, more responsible and better informed parents. Therefore, we sponsor study courses, expert speakers, forums and discussion groups and adult education courses to talk about our common problems and many times to find the answer. Loyalty to God and our church is our most basic belief. I have never seen a session opened without a prayer for Divine guidance, and we are humble enough to know how we need it. We believe every effort should be made to give guidance to our boys and girls in school for their moral and spiritual growth, and more emphasis placed on it in the home. Our communities will reflect how well we do this. In the vast field of human relations, our Maryland Congress voted last year without a dissenting voice to accept and implement the integration ruling of the Supreme Court, an issue which the press of Baltimore thought would split the group right down the middle. The Negro groups had delegates at our convention this year by invitation.

In the field of legislation, we are sure it is our right to sponsor good legislation for the protection of Pa. Mr. Broadwater, who has been ill for the past year, is a brother of Nevin U. Broadwater and H. F. Broadwater and of Mrs. Eva B. Beachy and Mrs. Mary Livengood, of Grantsville.

Mr. and Mrs. N. U. Broadwater, Mrs. Beachy, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Broadwater, of Grantsville; Charles I. Bevans and Mrs. L. B. Taylor, of Washington, D. C., were among those attending the funeral.

On Education

With the White House conference on education under way this week, the words of Dr. George S. Benson, director of the National Education program, of Searcy, Arkansas, are particularly appropriate. He says:

American education, as an institution, is confronted with a great immediate challenge. It can be the means of carrying forward Christian civilization and human welfare, or through its failure it can be charged with turning the world backward to another dismal era such as the Dark Ages. Will it rise to the challenge, or will it fail as have the institutions of education in 20 preceding civilizations now dead? This question commands the attention of not only every educator and public official but every citizen.

Why hasn't the citizenry of America provided adequate financial resources and widespread, active support for education? The basic reason is that there has been no universal understanding and agreement, among educators and the public generally, as to the purpose, the basic objective of the institution of American education.

The No. 1 purpose or objective of American education today—in the midst of a world crisis—must be: To prepare people for citizenship in our own American Republic. There are, of course, a number of secondary purposes and objectives; but until this basic one is achieved, with the awareness and support of the entire citizenry, the great challenge to American education has not been met and the structure of human freedom will continue to be in jeopardy.

Without question the United States today is the foremost nation in the world. But are we likely to continue to hold this leadership? On the basis of history—No. Throughout recorded history no nation has remained on top long. Moral, political and economic decay has always set in to undermine the strength and bring about the fall of every nation or civilization that has reached the pinnacle. Moral, economic and political decay are conditions governed by intellect and character—the products of citizenship education.

It probably will require another 20 years for adequate citizenship textbooks, materials and techniques to reach all the schools and colleges.

Meantime, the fundamentals of citizenship education can be emphasized. These are: an awareness of God as revealed through Christ; development of such virtues as honesty, humility, courage, economic self-reliance, patriotism, and a sense of civic responsibility.

Winners in Safety Poster and Essay Contest Announced

Winners in the Safety Poster and Essay contest were announced this week by the Junior Woman's Civic club which had sponsored the event.

Prizes for posters were awarded at the Oakland Elementary school to Eleanor Sharpless, 5th grade, first; Susan Phillips, 4th grade, second. Honorable mentions went to Stanley Wachter, Sandra Beam, Sandra DeBerry and Jill Jones, all 4th graders.

At St. Peter's school three prizes were given. Winners there were: Katherine Ream, 8th grade, 1st; Katherine Ream, 1st grade, 2nd; and Kathy Gander, 5th grade, 3rd. Honorable mentions included Robert Martin, Joseph Wolfe, Robert Ream, Jr., Kitty Wane and Ann Connor.

Safety has been selected as a general project of the Junior Civic club, the purpose being to keep the public aware of the need for better safety habits and to present a program of safety education to both adults and children of the area.

In keeping with President Eisenhower's proclamation of Thursday, December 1, as S-D day, members of the club are making a house to house coverage distributing pamphlets on safe driving. With the National Safety Council reporting that there have been 30,878 traffic fatalities in the United States in the first ten months of the year, the safety committee is stressing the need for more caution on the part of both drivers and pedestrians in making every day S-D day.

The Oakland Homemakers decided not to have a Christmas party this year. All having toys for the local hospital are asked to leave them at the Oakland Bargain Center by December 13.

IN THANKSGIVING SPIRIT—Part of the legend of the first Thanksgiving was reenacted by pupils of the Oakland Elementary School last Wednesday during the cafeteria lunch hour. Students in Pilgrim and Indian attire assisted in serving the special meal prepared by the cafeteria staff. This group is passing around cookies and other pastries. Similar activities accompany meals on other holidays.—Republican Staff Photo.

Kitzmiller School Nearing Completion

The addition and renovation of the Kitzmiller school is scheduled for completion on or before January 1, 1956, it was announced by Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools. The all-purpose room is now under roof with the plumbing and electrical installations nearly finished. Painters and carpenters will complete their work in about two more weeks. Tile floors and ceilings are now being placed in the old part of the building and the painters are busy painting all classrooms and reconditioning all furniture. Equipment for the cafeteria is yet to be installed and one new toilet to be added.

Teachers are taking turns in moving classes to the Fire Hall while their rooms are being painted and renovated. The two primary rooms were completed before the present school term began. In spite of the interruption, classes have been moving along with minimum loss of time, Mr. Hawkins stated.

Dedication exercises have been scheduled for Tuesday, January 10, 8 o'clock. The building when completed will provide facilities very similar to those provided for the Accident school during the past summer. Rooms are being decorated in a variety of colors and the entire school plant is being brought up to modern standards. The general public will be invited to attend the school dedication exercises and open house, Edgar T. Hardesty is the contractor.

Two-Room Addition At Red House
The two-room addition to the Red House school will be submitted for bids within the near future. These bids will be returned in time to be opened at the meeting of the Board of Education in January. This addition will make it possible to remove the children now in the basement of the school into two modern, healthy classrooms. The basement will be converted into a cafeteria and all-purpose room. One hundred twenty-six pupils now attend the Red House school.

Mercury Hits Zero
Garrett county had its worst snowstorm of the current season this week, but not its greatest snowfall. The thermometer, however, dipped to zero, the lowest of the winter season.

This week's storm was quite blustery with three inches of snow falling during Tuesday and Wednesday.

The State Roads commission had 13 crews plowing and clearing the roads in the county while the County Roads department also was kept busy.

The zero reading was recorded this morning, with the readings being 3 above zero on Tuesday morning and 14 above on Wednesday morning.

Ralph Weber, veteran weather man, said that 19 inches of snow had been recorded for November, a near record.

Southern Alumni Game Postponed

The basketball game between Southern High School Varsity and the Southern High school alumni, which was to have been the opening game of the 1955-56 schedule, has been postponed indefinitely. A recent ruling by the Maryland Public Secondary Schools Athletic Association states that twenty-one calendar days must elapse before a team participates in a game after practice sessions begin.

Schools were not permitted to begin practice until November 15, according to another portion of the same regulations. Southern will therefore open its season at Terra Alta on Tuesday, December 6. The first night home game will be with Elk Garden on January 6. Southern plays Beall High school of Frostburg here on December 13, but it is an afternoon game and the entire student body will be admitted to it.

Civic Club Hears Dr. Else Jockel

In spite of the inclement weather, twenty members of the Civic club of Oakland were present at the luncheon at the Williams-James hotel on Tuesday and heard an informative talk and discussion by Dr. Else Jockel, director of psychiatric Social Service at Springfield State hospital near Baltimore.

Dr. Jockel's home originally was in Frankfurt, Germany, but a great part of her professional career has been spent in Philadelphia, Pa., and Wilmington, Del., in family welfare and counseling services.

In a recent article in the Saturday Evening Post entitled "Patients on Parole," the opinion of Dr. Jockel is quoted.

In general this was the theme of her discussion at the meeting Tuesday, relative to the rehabilitation of mental patients. She suggested that the club could promote better attitudes in the community by encouraging a clinic for preventive and follow up methods, and also by working through the state assembly.

The club contributed $25 for use in providing Christmas cheer to patients who otherwise would not be remembered. Individuals and organizations wishing to contribute Christmas gifts to patients in state mental hospitals may leave their contributions at the A. D. Naylor and Company store or at the home of Mrs. Paul B. Naylor, who is chairman of mental health for the Civic club of Oakland. Items among the most in demand are candy, cigarettes, cosmetics, handkerchiefs, stationery and toilet articles.

Entertainment on the program included two musical selections, "Silver Bells," and "I Hear A Rhapsody," by Mrs. Robert King, accompanied by Mrs. Neil Fraley.

Mrs. W. W. Grant told of her visit to the Southern High school on visiting day during National Education Week, which highlighted modern methods now in use.

Mrs. Mary K. Williams, president of the club, announced that the Junior Civic club had extended an invitation to attend its musical program to be presented in the Methodist church youth center this evening, December 1, at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Fred Burgwald was the only new member to be received.

Listed In Who's Who
Jack Rush Turney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Boy C. Turney, of Accident, was one of 13 seniors at Western Maryland college selected to represent his college in the annual publication "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities." He was selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, campus citizenship and service to the college and potentially as a future contributor to society.

He is president of the senior class, treasurer of his fraternity, Delta Pi Alpha. He is a history education major who has served on his dormitory council and the Freshman Advisory council. For the past two years he has played on the soccer squad, this year as center half-back on the college team which won the Mason-Dixon championship.

To Address Rotory
Some of the students of Southern High school who went on the United Nations tour on Monday, November 14, will be the speakers at the regular meeting of the Oakland Rotary club on Friday evening at 8:15 at O. J. Williams home, hotel.

Two Boards To Meet

Another meeting of members of the Board of County Commissioners and the Board of Election Supervisors will be held Friday morning, December 2, at 9 o'clock, in an effort to reach a decision on the purchase of 36 voting machines.

At an all-day meeting last week the two boards failed to agree, the motion to accept the low bid, or the Schoep bid, failing to pass because of a tie vote.

Board of Education Publishes Report

A four-page report on the activities and functions of the Garrett County schools, published by authority of the Board of Education, will be sent to every family in the county having children in school within the next few days, it was announced by Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools.

The report contains six pictures representing various phases of educational activities in the county and numerous articles relative to nearly every area connected with the operation of the county schools. It provides information concerning school costs and where school money is spent, the building needs of the county, what the program of education is in both the elementary and high schools, school transportation, what it costs and how each bus contractor is paid, the duties of the Superintendent and his staff, the duties of the School Board members, bus shelters, insurance and other items.

Mr. Hawkins said the School Board members felt that if the parents it would answer many important questions about the county school system that the public is entitled to know.

Copies of the report also will be distributed to the business establishments of the county. Some additional copies may be obtained from the School Board office by interested patrons.

Letters Explaining Christmas Treat Have Been Mailed

Letters to merchants and individuals in regard to the annual Christmas treat for the children of the community by the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce, were mailed on Monday, and two checks, already have been received.

Charles L. Briner, secretary to the Chamber of Commerce, said it would endeavor to raise $500 this year to cover expenses of the treat. He said the members were planning to have 2,500 treats prepared for giving away on Saturday afternoon, December 17, at 1 o'clock.

In previous years the group had prepared for 2,000 children and it was necessary to provide a few more at the last minute. This year they were hoping to have sufficient for every child twelve years of age or under.

Preparations were underway to have the Christmas decorations erected by the end of this week. The work of erecting the lights is in charge of employees of the West Maryland Power company.

Annual Deer Season to Open December 5

The annual deer hunting season will open Monday, December 5, and will continue until sundown Saturday evening, December 10. During this open period it will be lawful to kill bucks with two or more points on one antler. The small game season will be suspended during this time.

Approximately 2,500 hunting licenses have been issued to hunters within the past few weeks and many of county hunters have made reservations with individuals, at hotels and boarding houses, for the open season.

A large number of farmers and other landowners still continue to post their lands extensively against any hunting, but thousands of acres of forest land are still available.

Hunters will attempt to surpass the all-time record of 592 kills made during the 1952 season. In 1951 there were 566 bucks killed, while last year 493 were killed. The limit is one buck per year per hunter.

It is lawful to hunt deer while there is snow on the ground, but they may be killed only with a rifle that develops over 1,200 foot muzzle energy or a shotgun loaded with a pumpkin ball or rifle slug. Cross bows, buck shot and dogs are prohibited.

There will be five deer checking stations in this county where deer must be checked as soon as possible. It is unlawful to remove the head or hide or other parts except internal organs, or cut up the meat until the deer has been reported and weighed in at one of the checking stations.

Stations in this county will include the sheriff's office in Oakland, William Biddington's at Grantsville, Matt Storey's Inn at Deep Creek Lake, Reckner's store at Swanton, Murphy's Restaurant at Friendsville. Hunters making kills near the Allegany county line also may check their deer at the police station at Westport, or the state police barracks at LaVale.

Extra district wardens from other counties of the state will be assigned to Western Maryland during the six-day season.

The jurors selected include William Rees, foreman; Max Jarboe, Mrs. Phyllis Williams, Rev. Donald Jackson, Mrs. Mary Martin, Curtis Miller, Dwight Stover, Harvey Swartz, and Mrs. Gerald Iman.

Price of admission is 75 cents for adults and 35 cents for students. It will be presented Friday night.

Denies Retrial Plea

Chief Judge George Henderson last Saturday in the Allegany County Circuit Court denied a motion for a new trial filed by a Baltimore man who last month lost a civil suit over the sale of two heifers.

Wayne Friend, formerly of this county, now of Baltimore, in his original suit, tried in Circuit Court November 3, sought $1,000 damages from Mrs. Leah Beitzel, administratrix of the estate of Jacob Beitzel.

Friend had contended that two of his heifers sold at a stockyard in this county by Beitzel brought more than $300.

Beitzel's check for $300 was not cashed by Friend at the time, testimony revealed, and later when the stockyard had financial difficulties he lost the entire amount. The jury decided in favor of Mrs. Beitzel.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Reed, of Washington, D. C., announce the birth of a daughter on November 30. Mrs. Reed was formerly Evangeline Keller, of Oakland.

He is a native of Westminster. Effective January 3rd the telephone company will be under a new name. Instead of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore City, the name will be the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Maryland.

White Face Farm Equipment Will Be Sold at Auction

The live stock and farm equipment on the White Face Farm at McHenry, which was recently given to the Garrett County Memorial hospital in Oakland, will be sold at auction on Wednesday, December 14, it has been announced.

Official action on the sale was announced by the Board of Governors of the hospital and the Garrett County Commissioners.

The outright gift of the farm with all its buildings, equipment, live stock and mineral rights was presented to the hospital by Charles M. White, of Cleveland, O., who is president of Republic Steel Corporation. The property has been valued at about $15,000. They were turned over as a memorial from both Mr. and Mrs. White to his parents, the late Charles F. and Estella Jarboe White, of Oakland.

Sixty-one head of Hereford cattle, all T.B. and Bangs tested, will be among the items offered for sale on that day. Also included are all kinds of farm equipment and a quantity of hay and grain. Items are to be sold for cash and Harry Collier, of Accident, will be the auctioneer.

The sale will begin at 10:30 a. m. and ladies of the U. B. church at McHenry are preparing to serve lunch.

No decision has been made as to when the farm property will be sold. All proceeds from the sale will be used by the hospital.

Hoye Crest Trail Is Authorized

The Maryland Commission on Forests and Parks on Tuesday authorized the building of a trail from U. S. Route 219 to Hoye Crest, a peak on Backbone Mountain, in this county.

The Garrett County Historical Society has agreed to erect a monument there honoring Capt. Charles E. Hoye, founder of the organization.

The peak reaches an altitude of 3,360 feet, and is the highest point in Maryland.

The commission also made preliminary plans for participating in the observance of the golden anniversary of forestry in Maryland. It will be in conjunction with next spring's celebration of the 200th anniversary of Fort Frederick, being sponsored by the Washington County Historical Society.

Congressman DeWitt S. Hyde - 6th District, Maryland

The White House Conference on Education serves to highlight a problem more pressing than buildings or changes in school curriculums. We as a people need to face the reasons for teacher shortages all over the nation and to understand, also, that the problem of getting and holding good teachers will plague us for many years to come.

There are many reasons for the lack of teachers and particularly for the lack of young people preparing for the teaching profession. Among them are the sweeping changes in our national life resulting from the war years. We must bear in mind that demands for national defense have made great inroads into available teacher-material. Also, we must not overlook the fact that the depression year resulted in fewer young people graduating from our teacher training schools and colleges.

Changed conditions in the employment world have created greater opportunities for educated women in business and industry.

Men in increasing numbers have entered professions other than teaching. We have not kept pace in providing those in the teaching profession with adequate opportunities for advancement. Our primary job, it seems to me, must be to make the teaching profession attractive enough to draw capable young people to it. There is a selling job to be done in demonstrating to our youth that teaching is a profession vital to the welfare of this nation.

Good teachers are still the priceless ingredient in the educational process. Since I firmly believe that the heart of the American public school system lies in the local community, we as individual members of a locality must devote the time and energy necessary to improve facilities for the training of teachers and of the means of drawing more students to those facilities.

We are fortunate in the 6th Maryland District in having the Frostburg State Teachers College in Allegany County. President Hardesty and his staff are doing a remarkable job in training teachers.

Teacher pay scales should not be neglected. Local school boards ought to insist on adequate pay for their teachers. I think that we took a step in the right direction when the Congress enacted a bill worked out by myself and other members

NEWS FROM THE Ruth Enlow Library BY EDITH BROCK

A number of books have been donated this week by the Robert W. Lohr family, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stanton, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Miller, of Grantsville, and Mrs. Grace Evans, of Kitzmiller.

Mrs. Alice Iman, of Kitzmiller, has given a photograph of Pony Penning Day at Chincoteague Island which will be of special interest to all those who have enjoyed reading Marguerite Henry's "Misty of Chincoteague" and "Sea Star, Orphan of Chincoteague."

The Maryland Library Association has prepared a list of books especially suitable for Christmas giving. This list, which is available at the library, includes a wide variety of books for adults and children. There is a tantalizing array of picture books for the snow suit age. Dr. Seuss has another offering as astonishing as his preceding ones called "On Beyond Zebra" (Random House, $2.50) full of incredible pictures. "The Duchess Bakes A Cake" (Scribner, $2.00) by Virginia Kahl is a happy book of tongue twisting verses with lively illustrations. The Caldecott award winner for the outstanding picture book of the year, "Cinderella" (Scribner, $2.00), is illustrated by Marcia Brown with sparkling colors and exquisite art work. For older children, Alice Dalgleish's "The Columbus Story" (Scribner, $2.75) is one of the most satisfying books of the season. This year's Newbery award for excellence in the field of children's literature, Mendel de Jongs' "The Wheel On The School" (Harcourt, $2.75) makes a special gift for that special child. Frederick Lieb's "Baltimore Orioles" (Putnam, $3.50) is a book for baseball fans both young and old. These and many other titles are suggested and described in the Maryland Library Association list.

Monthly News

A Message from Clinton W. Englander, "Your Pharmacist"

Each month, during the past year, these monthly news messages have been telling you about the way we operate our pharmacy. We have tried to explain some of the unusual conditions about a pharmacy.

Unusual, because Pharmacy is a profession, in which you entrust your very life in our care when we compound your prescriptions; but of necessity also, a business that must be conducted in a manner that will please you.

But this is Christmas month, so we are not going to write about how sincerely we try to serve you courteously, honestly, and in strict observance of the code of ethics and traditions of pharmacy.

We want to be one of the very first to wish you a Merry Christmas, and a Happy, Healthy, and Prosperous New Year.

Now, at the close of the year, we are especially mindful of the great, good fortune that is ours in having wonderful folks like you as our customers. It is your loyalty and patronage that enables us to conduct our drug store.

We thank you for the privilege of being "Your Pharmacist."

The 1956 Buick SPECIAL 4-Door, 6 Passenger Estate Wagon

It's so uncertain terms, this one makes your travel hours prideful as well as practical.

It's all Buick, you see—all 1956 Buick.

Which means a new lift to anyone's spirit—from the new sweep-ahead look of it—the new might of its 322-cubic-inch V8 engine raised to lofty new power highs—the new sizzle of its advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow®—the true sweetness of its great new ride.

But it's a lot more than that.

It's Buick's highly versatile Estate Wagon—now substantially lowered in price for 1956—and how much more practical can you get than that?

For with this one, and for an easy-to-reach figure—you have a car with all the snappiness of a smart sedan plus the all-duty handiness of a suburban vehicle. You have a car completely steel-bodied, so its exterior upkeep stays simple and inexpensive—and a car more than roomy enough to carry six and their gear.

You have a covered platform that's plain wonderful. It can take an inflated air mattress. It can freight a small rowboat and camp equipment. It can hold luggage, or golf clubs—or the results of a mad shopping spree, even if you go in for antique furniture.

You can even have the rear seat come, at your option, in a handy split-section that lets you carry both rear-seat passengers and extra-long loads like skis, or fishing rods, or young trees, or two-by-fours.

So what more can we say, except come see it.

The Estate Wagon is available in Buick's two lowest-priced Series—the budget-tagged SPECIAL, and the high-powered CATALINA. And, we repeat, both newly lowered in price for 1956.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow® is the only Dynaflow Buick built today. It is standard on Buickmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

The Dope of Communism

Any goal of world conquest, as envisioned by the international communist conspiracy, must of necessity include the use of all possible military, political and economic weapons. Among others, these include psychological warfare, espionage, subversion, sabotage, propaganda, and the promotion of internal strife—all of which have already been practiced with alarming success by the communists. But the minions of the Kremlin have introduced another thoroughly inhuman device—that of moral ruin—which has received little attention to early on such an objective the communists have established a far-reaching system for the distribution of narcotics.

Official emphasis as to the seriousness, both present and potential, of this new threat can be found in the repeated warnings by U. S. Commissioner of Narcotics, Harry J. Anslinger, who has brought to

BY GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College

There is a story in the Modern McGuffey Sixth Grade Reader which carries an ageless moral lesson.

It is the story of Jack, a bright lad who is in love with the miller's daughter. He sets out to win his fortune in seven days. "What I want," he exclaims to his mother on departing, "is something for nothing." His first encounter is with a stalled donkey and its owner. He whispers to the donkey's ear and it responds. The owner rewards Jack with three nuts, and the lad is sure the nuts will magically obtain something for nothing. The nuts prove to be worthless.

Jack next comes upon an old woman with an apple cart, eating her lunch. He sits down and helps himself to an apple. The good natured peddler doesn't mind. But in payment for the apple, she tells Jack, "You must tighten my horse's harness." Jack laughs. "But it's something for nothing I'm searching for, old mother," he tells her. "And now your apple is gone! I'll give you something for nothing!" cries the angry old woman. She boxes him soundly on the ears!

His next encounter is with an old man with merry eyes who is playing a fiddle. Jack tells the fiddler about the beautiful miller's daughter. "And she won't marry you now?" asks the old man. "A fine, bright lad like you?"

"She will marry me when I roll up my sleeves and get to work," says Jack. "But that I'll leave to others, for I've no mind to work my days away. . . . Not when a bright lad can always get something for nothing." The old fiddler says to Jack, "I think I'm exactly what you're looking for."

"Folks say I have finger magic with my needle," says the old man, "for I'm a tailor, I stitch forenoon and afternoon, and then at noon and at night I fiddle." "You work?" cries Jack. "And play," says the fiddler. And he sings the following tune:

"There's always been magic, in three and in seven; But I know a secret—there's magic in ten. Just look at your fingers, you'll see magic in them; There's magic in fingers, that know how and when." And the old man looks at Jack and says, "Your fortune's at your finger tips, so make it! You eat your cake after you bake it."

Jack turns back toward home. And finally the old fiddler's message breaks through to his mind. The beautiful miller's daughter meets him at the mill. "Does your father's mill need a bright young lad, I wonder?" asks Jack. "If it's you!" answers the girl. "Here's my fortune, then," says Jack. "Right here!" And he holds out his hands to her. From now on he will work.

If our school youth can be convinced that the promise of something for nothing is fraudulent, the future of America will be more secure; for this promise is the one great power in the world which political demagogues are using today to gain power.

Well documented facts establishing that "The United States is a target of Communist China to be supplied with a flood of foreign-exchange-earning, health and morale-debilitating heroin."

Warfare in the minds of the vast majority of our population, is pictured solely in terms of direct combat, and the horrible recollections of the world wars and the Korean crisis, with their vast mortality and destruction, are indelible memories. But, the all-inclusive concept of indirect, yet constant, warfare, as a doctrine of the communist movement, is something new to most of us. The danger of this concept cannot, and must not, be taken lightly.

Communist tactics are aimed at the destruction of freedom and the will to resist. They are based on the principle that a country can be destroyed as surely and as easily from within as from without. The evil traffic in narcotics and drugs, with its demoralizing results, in combination with the other more familiar weapons of subversion and infiltration, is in accord with these objectives, and brings into clear focus another monstrous wrong which the philosophy of communism permits and promotes in its followers.

Honor Firefighter

Firefighter Edward W. Leary was recently selected for the annual award made by West Baltimore Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, to a member of the Baltimore Fire Department cited for outstanding heroism.

Leary, who is known to a number of Oakland citizens, is a nephew of Misses Elizabeth and Marion Leary and Mrs. Anne Meisenbaur.

The 41-year-old fireman was chosen for the valor award because of his rescue of Frank Sufmark, an 81-year-old invalid from the third floor of a burning building. He is a member of Truck company No. 1 to which he was assigned a few weeks after being appointed to the Fire Department in 1939.

The award will be presented to Leary during a banquet December 2.

Firefighter Leary rescued the aged man under hazardous conditions. He and another firefighter had climbed to the roof of the burning building when they were informed by shouts from the ground that a man was trapped on the third floor.

The men climbed through heavy smoke to a third-floor window and entered the burning room where they found the invalid seated in a chair trying to pull himself toward the window. They succeeded in getting the man through the window and then started down the fire escape. Mr. Sufmark, in an hysterical condition, repeatedly impeded the progress of his rescuer by grabbing hold of the fire escape railing and window ledges.

After reaching the ground and turning Mr. Sufmark over to an ambulance crew, Leary returned to his company.

The citation was the fifth awarded Leary for saving persons from burning structures.

Receives Reply From His Letter To President

Charles Miller, sanitarian for the County Health department, recently received a reply to his letter to President Eisenhower.

Mr. Miller had written the president upon his return to Washington, in which he congratulated him upon his recovery to health.

The reply, signed by Sherman Adams, said: "Thank you for your kind letter to the president of November 11. He appreciates the interest you express regarding his health."

"The President is indeed sorry to note what you say regarding your son's illness. He earnestly hopes that Eddie soon will show improvement in health and be a help to me to assure you and Mrs. Miller of his sympathetic understanding."

Mr. Miller's son, an eighth grader at Northern High school, underwent a serious brain operation at the Mayo clinic in Rochester, Minn., on October 1, and was in an unconscious condition for three weeks. He has shown improvement since that time.

MRS. MARTHA GLOTFELTY

We Live When We Dare To Be Different

The pages of history tell the story of individuals who dared to be different in their day and age and to think for themselves. They have been the inventors, the dreamers, the pioneers in every field of endeavor. From their courage and initiative, the human race has made forward strides.

It is in the uniqueness of personality that we find life at its best. Only when we dare to think and study and learn for ourselves do we use this priceless gift well.

Many educators and thinking people today are warning that there are subtle forces at work today to destroy this right and privilege to be different. They point out that it is so easy, so safe to go along with the crowd. Clothes that make us look ridiculous are worn so long as we are assured "everybody is wearing them." One noted educator says that standardization is the prevailing feature of American life. Individuality of expression and independence of judgment are endangered by a uniformity that extends not only to dress and manners, but to speech and thought which has produced the mass mind. The molders of the mind are the press, radio, television, pulp magazines, advertisements, films and the book clubs. Consciously or unconsciously most of us follow certain patterns of living. We are members of a certain profession, a political party, a union, a certain club. Have you ever asked yourself how much originality goes into these forces that govern your life? Some day just take time off and think about it.

Our very liberty is based on our differences. If we were all alike and possessed the same capabilities, we would all fit into the same pattern, and we would then be certain that with suitable education and training, people would fit into proper niches and everything would be lovely. This is the premise upon which the Communist state proceeds.

Nature abhors uniformity. Actually everyone is different. Physically, we differ in size and shape, and in such minute matters as our fingerprints and toeprints we show individuality.

The greatest differences are in the mental and emotional processes. However, being different does not mean being freakish or eccentric. It does not mean being antagonistic or non-cooperative. Fact of the matter is, when we realize that others are different also, we grant to them also the right to be different, and it stimulates us to be more tolerant and understanding toward them.

Making the most of our own abilities and being independent in our thinking instead of being a carbon copy of somebody else should be our goal.

In Hollywood they have a saying, "Imitation may be the sincerest form of flattery, but originality gives you that box office appeal."

We should all be thankful that we were created different from every other human being and that God has equipped us in a very special way to make our own contribution. Life's greatest satisfaction

Grantsville News

The Grantsville Rotary club met recently at Hill Top Inn, with John Lichliter, Jr., presiding. Rev. Earl Fike, of the Brethren church, of Meyersdale, Pa., was the speaker. His subject was "The Real Meaning of Thanksgiving." Guests were Paige Hickman, Oakland, and Clyde Bowman, Grantsville.

Mrs. Jennie Maxwell, who spent the past three weeks with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Hershberger, returned to her home in Vernon, N. Y.

Rev. and Mrs. D. H. Carder and son Raymond, Frankfort, W. Va.; Miss Betty Carder, Elizabeth, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Carder and son Jerry, of Baltimore, were holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Stahl.

Mrs. Raymond Flanagan, Dayton, Ohio, is spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Bills, near Frostburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beechey, of Uniontown, Pa., spent Thanksgiving with Mrs. Eva B. Beachy and son W. Lee Bevans. Friday guests were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lee Bevans and sons Eddie and Dannie, Baltimore. They also visited Mrs. Bevans' parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Carey, Route 40.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Patton and daughters visited Mr. and Mrs. Chester Henry, also their son Dale Patton, Detroit, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Phillips and daughter Kathy returned to their home in Morgantown, W. Va., after spending several days with Mrs. Phillips' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nevin J. Miller.

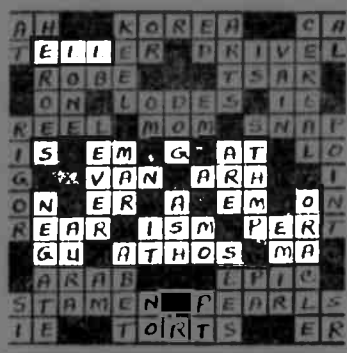

Word was received by relatives of Hillary Broadwater, formerly of Grantsville, that he had undergone another throat operation last Tuesday, and expected to return to his home in Union Bridge, Md., in the near future.

In last week's issue of the Oakland Republican there was an error as to the place of burial of Mrs. Hilary Broadwater. It was Uniontown, Md., instead of Pennsylvania, and the late Dr. N. I. Broadwater, of Oakland, was a brother of Hilary Broadwater.

The local elementary school Thanksgiving program featured a rhythm band of grade 2 under the direction of Mrs. Zeola Robeson and Mrs. Jennie Stark. The program included a play "Thanksgiving, 1621." The First Thanksgiving of All. Dixie Merrill, Glee club, chorus of fifth and sixth grades.

Guests included Willard L. Hawkins, superintendent of schools, Ross Speicher, president of the Board of Education, and C. O. Bender, vice president.

Musical Program
A special musical program will be presented by the choir of the Grantsville Methodist church, Sunday, Christmas night at 8:00 p. m.

Minority Views

If we in this nation are to preserve our government "of the people," all groups—even the smallest minorities—must consider it a duty to make their views known.

It then becomes the solemn duty of those of us in public life to give careful consideration to the various opinions.

Many Bosses

The obligation of lawmakers to give serious thought to all reasonable proposals arises from the basic fact that in a democracy, the citizens are the rulers.

Following that principle one step further, we arrive at an interesting

Surprise Dinner Given

A surprise dinner was given Sunday, November 13, to honor Mr. and Mrs. Russell W. Harvey, of near Gorman, who were celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary. The dinner was held at their home with the following guests: George and Elliott Harvey, Gorman; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sines and family, Friendsville; Mrs. Virginia Moeke, Mt. Lake Park; Mr. and Mrs. Irvin L. Neville, Millwood, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd B. Leigh idea which I have always found to be all-important in living to preserve my sense of values. It is this: In the business of government, a man acquires, rather than loses, more "bosses" as he is advanced in his field.

The new "bosses," of course, are the additional constituents he is chosen to represent.

It Runs Through My Mind

BY POLLY J. HANST

Making the Most of It
Sally Hoffman, 9, after eating a good sized dinner on Thanksgiving, continued nibbling at grapes, carrots and candy throughout the afternoon.

"Sally," cautioned her father, "you'd better let up on all this eating."

"Good gracious," she replied, "the Pilgrims had three days of feasting and we only have one!"

You Know, Joe
The best time to freeze ice is in freezing weather. The best sport in winter is skating. I know your heart is where mine is when it comes to youth. The best Christmas present I can think of is a stroll past Ray's quonset and see seeds of kids flashing new skates on ice that's as smooth as glass and not a note of danger of breaking through.

That's the vision of Sugar Plums that's going through my head.

More and Better
Our church has recently conducted an every member visit at which time we urge folks to come to church and try to encourage planned giving as a part of stewardship.

I have had the privilege of helping with several of these which I find a joy and not a chore.

One of the things that I've noticed is how different men and women approach their giving. According to psychology of the male and female, the latter is the more generous. The woman likes to give.

But when it comes to the church envelop I've noticed that it is usually the man who suggests the increase in giving.

I've tried to figure that one out and have finally decided that the male is methodical. He likes to have it settled and over with.

Not his lady? She wants to hold some back in the cup in the cupboard so she can give here and there as the need arises. She spreads her giving to thank offerings, church circles, a needy family close by, or someone in far away places. Giving to her is something warm and joyous. Often she doesn't let her right hand know what her left hand is doing when it dips into the cup in the cupboard. But the inner glow she feels must be akin to that of Mary when she used her precious perfume. Sometimes I think men don't quite understand this.

They give to the church like they provide for their families. "If Junior needs a pair of shoes, let's get them."

To me it can be summed up as the 8 and 9-year olds summed up their parents: "Papa know more but Mamma knows better." We could change that phrase to "Papa gives more but Mamma gives better," (purely feminine point of view)—but we're always happy with "more".

Donna Doings
Dashed in to see Donna Littman the other evening and found her bending over an enterprise that's keeping her stepping (no, not stepping—fingering) to fill all her orders.

Since she no longer has use of her limbs she immediately put her head and hands to doing lots of things she had yearned to do but had never found time with her teaching and homemaking.

She has always had an eye for beauty and is a perfectionist in carrying it out. One time she even painted yellow flowers on wall paper to give her room the right note.

Among the crafts Donna likes to do is the making of place cards, tallies and jewelry out of shells. Now she uses fish bones and scales in combination with shells for some of her more unusual creations.

Donna works at the kitchen table with her supplies in egg cartons piled four deep. On the table the night I ran in was a tray of ear rings and pins gift boxed and ready to go to Delaware for some business executive to give his employees.

How did she find sale for her things so far from home? A friend had worn a pair of her ear rings.

Homemaker Clubs Plan Christmas Parties

Most of the Homemaker clubs of the county are planning Christmas parties during December. New program books for 1956 are being distributed. New officers and chairmen will begin their duties in January.

Meetings: December 7, Grantsville club at the home of Mrs. Ollie Loechel and Mrs. Raymond Loechel, 1:30 p. m.; Almont club at 7:30 at the club house; December 8, Casselman Valley club at the home of Mrs. Freeman Betzel, 8 p. m.; December 10, Mars Hill club at 1:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Ellsworth Beatty.

to an A.A.U.W. meeting. Some of the others wanted a pair and the word got around. Now Donna dolls up Delaware.

The real artist is in her for she likes the things she does so well she hates to give them up which they say make the best gifts—those things you want to keep.

With The Guard

Second Lieutenant James G. McRobie was recently promoted to First Lieutenant L. L. McRobie enlisted in Co. "C" in November, 1917, when the unit was being organized. He served as squad leader, assistant Platoon Sergeant and Platoon Sergeant during his enlistment. In June, 1952, Sgt. McRobie was commissioned to Second Lieutenant at which time he assumed the position of Platoon Leader.

Sic Floyd L. Wensel has been transferred to the Active Service. Sgt. Wensel was one of the charter members of this unit. His services will be greatly missed by all.

An overall rating of Excellent was received for the annual Federal Inspection which was held at the local Army on November 30. The ratings are given as Satisfactory, Excellent or Superior.

Many people took advantage of the opportunity to view the Army and equipment which was on display during the open house phase of the Army dedication program. It is believed that those who were present for the dedication address, now have a better understanding of the functioning and importance of The National Guard. Your National Guard unit is not only an organization which can be used in local emergencies but in National emergencies as well.

The familiarization firing of the unit's crew served weapons has been postponed until some time next Spring due to the inclement weather.

Pfc. Fred Stemple has left this unit and has been selected by the Navy to attend the Navy School of Music.

To Confer Rank Of Page

At the regular meeting of Garrett Lodge No. 113, Knights of Pythias, on Friday evening, the rank of Knight will be conferred upon a class of candidate. The meeting will get underway at 7:30.

Another item of business will be the election of officers. Refreshments will be served following the business session.

Harrington - Gortner Wedding Is Solemnized Saturday, November 19

A very pretty autumn wedding took place in the Lady Chapel, St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York City, on Saturday, November 19, at 4:00 p. m. when Miss Marjorie Ann Gortner of New York City, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Gortner, of Grantsville, became the bride of Daniel Patrick Harrington, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Harrington, Sr., of New York City. The Rev. Edward R. Hauck officiated.

The altars were decorated with white chrysanthemums, pumpkins and white lighted tapers. The traditional wedding marches were played by the church organist, who also played a program of pre-nuptial music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white silk gown of peau de soie with scoop neckline and long pointed sleeves, empire bodice with princess skirt and chapel length train. Her oval veil of silk illusion was attached to a silk peau de soie hat studded with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white orchids with streamers of white stephanotis. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls and pearl earrings.

Mrs. Frank Beamer, Morgantown, W. Va., sister of the bride, served as matron of honor.

Mrs. Donald Stout, Morgantown, W. Va., sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Both wore bronze chrysostelle ballerina length gowns with matching head bands, attached with bronze roses at the nape of the neck. The gowns were fashioned along princess lines with scoop neckline and short sleeves, with matching slippers. They wore white gloves and carried bouquets of bronze toned baby mums and oak leaves.

Sharon Beamer and Vickie Beamer, Morgantown, W. Va., nieces of the bride, served as junior bridesmaids. They wore floor length gowns of pale yellow chrysostelle, full skirt and bodice with a V front and bertha collar. Their head dresses were yellow velvet bands with long ribbon streamers. They wore short white gloves and ballerina slippers. They carried small bouquets of bronze toned baby mums.

Mrs. Gortner, mother of the bride, wore a street length gown of periwinkle line silk peau de soie, scoop neckline, full skirt and three-quarter length sleeves with matching slippers. Her white satin hat was ornamented with seed pearls and crystals.

She wore a corsage of white camellias and long white kid gloves. Mrs. Harrington, the groom's mother, wore a street length royal blue lace gown, V neck line and full skirt with three-quarter length sleeves and matching shoes. She wore a small light pink hat with jewel trim and long pink gloves. Her corsage was white orchid edged with pink.

Patrick Harrington, Sr., served as best man and the ushers were Jerry Harrington, brother of the groom and William Burton, Red Bank, N. J.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the Le Chateau rooms at the Savoy Plaza Hotel. The rooms were decorated with autumn bouquets.

The three tier wedding cake was ornamented with a miniature bride and groom and lilies of the valley.

Approximately 100 attended the wedding from New York City, Canada, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland and West Virginia.

The bride attended Mary Washington college of the University of Virginia and Parsons School of Design, New York. She is assistant fashion editor of McCall's magazine.

The groom was graduated from Fordham University and attended Fordham Graduate school. He served with the United States Air Force following World War II as Assistant Director of Intelligence, Headquarters First Air Force. He is a network salesman for National Broadcasting company.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrington left for a two weeks' motor trip to Palm Beach, Fla. The bride chose a two-piece ensemble, sheath dress with knee length coat. She wore a white panne velvet hat with matching muff centered with orchids. She wore white gloves and black suede shoes.

Upon their return from Florida, the couple will reside at Larchmont, N. Y.

Guests from this area attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Gortner, Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Keller, Miss Viola Broadwater, Grantsville, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beamer, daughters, Sharon Beamer and Vickie Beamer, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stout, Morgantown, W. Miss Cogley Speaks to Curriculum Group

The special curriculum committee selected by the Garrett County Board of Education to study the problem of how to improve the economic base of the community, through the curriculum of the school, held its second meeting of the year at the Accident school last Monday evening. The speaker was Miss Roberta Cogley, one of the instructors at Southern High school. Miss Cogley presented the findings of a survey made by one of her classes last year and as a result was able to present many facts related to the economic life of the county.

The survey took a good look at such important factors as population trends, job opportunities, and the relationship between education and income. The committee, which is directed by the Superintendent of Schools and his instructional supervisors, aims to incorporate into the school curriculum the subject areas that will make future citizens aware of the economic needs of the community and to develop a complete understanding of the many factors that combine to make a community prosperous.

Special consultants will be provided from time to time by the State Department of Education to work with the curriculum committee. All mayors of incorporated towns in Garrett county were invited to the meeting. The committee will invite the heads of all business and civic groups to meet with it at its next meeting to be held sometime in January or early February.

Serving on the committee are: William L. Hawkins, Foster D. Bittle, Edwin W. Elias, Mrs. Florence Cogley, Miss Esther Opel, Mrs. Phyllis Williams, Earl Savage, Mrs. Kathleen B. Layman, Mrs. Iva B. Walker, Mrs. Leona Hardaway, Mrs. Elizabeth McComas, Marvin Callis, Mrs. Goldie Bittle, Mrs. Roberta Cogley, Miss Ann Dilgard, Mrs. Bessie Price, Paul Nagy, Robert Rodeheaver, Ernest

Survey Shows Lack of Vitamin C In Men Over 50

If you're a man over 50, chances are that you need more foods rich in vitamin C. In fact, you need more than your wife does.

This conclusion was indicated by a University of California study of nutrition in which a survey was made of 577 men and women over 50 years of age in one county. Cooperating were the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the U. S. Public Health Service and state and county health departments. The men involved in the study had less vitamin C in their blood than had the women, even though they ate more heartily of foods generally, and thus had a higher vitamin C intake. Lack of vitamin C in the diet often is the cause of tender, bleeding gums and subsequent loss of teeth. Such troubles were found among a number of the persons in this study whose blood tested lowest in vitamin C. A practical application of these findings for persons over 50, according to the report, would be to add more items rich in vitamin C—such as oranges, grapefruit, strawberries, tomatoes, salad greens, broccoli and raw cabbage for example.

Other tests made during the survey indicated that more than likely both the man and the woman need more protein and iron, and less fat than most people get in their daily fare.

United States renewed its pledge never to use any weapons, "atomic or otherwise," except in defense against aggression.

Through the Centuries...

Through cold, snow-covered fields, underneath ice-encrusted trees, the river runs its course.

This brings to mind the Christian Church. It was founded upon the teachings of Jesus who lived His life and did His work unperturbed by the coldness of many of His fellowmen and of the ruling officials. He knew that His work would stand because it was founded upon truth. It not only stood, but has flowed steadily on for centuries. It is still going on today in His churches.

If you do not attend church services why not go this coming Sunday, and identify yourself with this steady flow of the best for which life stands?

There is always room in the river for one more drop of water. There is always room in the Church for one more worshipper.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Southern Speaks

Alumni Game Cancelled

Southern varsity basketball squad's first game of the season with the Alumni has been postponed indefinitely from the date set for December 3. A ruling has been pointed out that states "a basketball team cannot begin competition until 21 days have elapsed from the first practice date." The 21-day period will not end before the December 3 date and thus Southern's first game will not be played until December 6 against Terra Alta.

Yearbook Deadline Near

As the date for the first yearbook deadline draws near, work is being speeded up to complete the required number of pages. December 10 marks the first of four deadlines required to complete the yearbook annual, Deloris Vetter and her assistants, Doris Lawson and Roy Paugh, along with Sam Moore, photographer, and Beverly Winters, art editor, are plenty busy with his, minute preparations to make.

Deer Hunting Policy Set

Again this year the school has set a special policy concerning the boys who go deer hunting. Anyone wanting to go deer hunting is allowed one excused absence for that purpose. But if the student has missed no more than two days previous to deer season, two excused absences will be allowed. However, if more than two days are missed for hunting, none of the absences will be excused. These count on the 25-day policy.

Record Number Eat In Cafeteria

The Thanksgiving meal at Southern found a record number of students eating the meal. A grand total of 1182 meals were served to students, about 80 more than the previous record which was set on Thanksgiving of last year.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY DR. KENNETH A. FOREMAN

Background Scripture: Luke 9:7-62
Devotional Reading: Mark 16:7-8

His Demands

Lesson for December 4, 1955

CHRISTIAN living is not a matter of vague general good will. A character in a movie remarked: "I'm not a mean man. If I heard that my neighbor's children had been eaten by wolves, I would feel some regret." Well, of course that didn't make him a Christian. He turned out to be the villain, by the way. But there seems to be a number of church members and others who think that being a Christian calls for nothing more than being generally at peace with the world... like a turnip. Being a Christian is a far more demanding thing. And the demands are Christ's demands. He is not a trademark, a portrait of a Founder beaming on us benevolently from the wall. He is the living Christ, Son of Man and Son of God. He makes demands on his disciples, and he has a right to make them.

Discipleship

Those who were closest to Jesus in Galilee, those with whom he took the greatest pains, were called Disciples. Now the least that "disciple" can mean is "learner." The first demand that Christ makes on us who would call ourselves Christians, the demand preliminary to all others, is that we learn of him. We never should assume that we know all about Jesus—his character, his teaching, his purpose. It is a sobering question: How much of our behavior, our attitudes, our thinking in various fields, our relationships with other people—how much of this did we learn from Jesus, and how much did we copy from other persons, and how much is our own invention?

Denial of Self

Now if we have answered the first two demands, for discipleship and for decision, we may be ready for the third demand. This is the decision with him, spoken of just now. We shall pay very little attention to this if we have not rightly met the other two. If we are not true learners we shall not even hear this, or we shall misunderstand it. If we think less of Christ than we ought to think, then this demand will seem excessive, unreasonable, suicidal. It is only the Son of God who has the right to make such a demand. It is for nothing less than denial of self. There is a cheap substitute for this which is sometimes mistaken for it. It is called "self-denial" and may mean no more than going without ice cream for a while, doing without some luxury or other. Denial of self is something different entirely. Jesus puts it in terms of a crucifixion. To take up a cross was to be already on the last mile. To deny the self means to cease being one's own center-of-the-universe. It means "love thyself last." It means dying to oneself, as Paul put it, and living to God. It means "Not I, but Christ, liveth in me."

Decision

Another demand Christ makes of us is decision. This in three ways: decision for him, decision about him, decision with him. It is specially these last two that are highlighted in this week's passages from Luke. The decision for Christ is the point at which one begins to be a disciple. But besides learning, the Christian disciple has to decide, and act accordingly, about some questions that affect him vitally. One is the decision about Christ which Jesus pushed on his disciples. Who do you say that I am? Jesus put this question only after they had been disciples for some time. "Wig's." But it can be answered at any time, and it must be answered some time, if we have any title to the name "Christian." How seriously do we take Jesus Christ? That depends on what answer we give to his question: What do we think of him? Who and what is he? The more fully we know his importance, the more seriously we shall take him. Is he a dreamer, a poet, an impractical idealist? Is he a child of his age, important then, but now such a man as we can safely neglect? Is he a noble thinker, a stirring leader of men? Or is he, as Peter dared to believe, the Son of the living God? Does he come to us with the authority of one man's opinion, or does he speak as an ancient sage, or does he speak with the wisdom of the Almighty? He demands a decision.

Now if we have answered the first two demands, for discipleship and for decision, we may be ready for the third demand. This is the decision with him, spoken of just now. We shall pay very little attention to this if we have not rightly met the other two. If we are not true learners we shall not even hear this, or we shall misunderstand it. If we think less of Christ than we ought to think, then this demand will seem excessive, unreasonable, suicidal. It is only the Son of God who has the right to make such a demand. It is for nothing less than denial of self. There is a cheap substitute for this which is sometimes mistaken for it. It is called "self-denial" and may mean no more than going without ice cream for a while, doing without some luxury or other. Denial of self is something different entirely. Jesus puts it in terms of a crucifixion. To take up a cross was to be already on the last mile. To deny the self means to cease being one's own center-of-the-universe. It means "love thyself last." It means dying to oneself, as Paul put it, and living to God. It means "Not I, but Christ, liveth in me."

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

The Democratic Cleavage

It is, of course, possible that long before next August the present really serious split in the Democratic party will be healed and the current embarrassments of Mr. Adlai Stevenson will have disappeared. But at the moment it seems better than an even bet that the breach will have widened and the bitterness increased.

Traditionally, after having made a "good fight" in 1952, Mr. Stevenson, the titular leader of his party and a candidate for re-nomination, as was ex-Governor Dever in the Republican Convention of 1948 and as was the late William Jennings Bryan in the Democratic conventions of 1900 and 1908, should have had, as did they, a united party back of him and at least superficial harmony on the issues. But it is perfectly clear that at this time he has neither. The reasons are not in the least obscure.

One, of course, is the change in the political climate caused by Mr. Eisenhower's heart attack. Up to that moment the odds were heavy that Mr. Eisenhower would be nominated and re-elected. When he was stricken the whole Democratic prospect brightened. The feeling among party politicians that Mr. Stevenson was entitled to re-nomination greatly diminished. Mr. Stevenson's ardent wish to see the nomination without being compelled to enter the primaries and without convention opposition was rendered futile. Not only have rival and really formidable candidates appeared, such as Governor Harman and Senator Kefauver, but his speeches and statements have aroused criticism from his supposed "friends" in his own party fully as pronounced as any that has come from the Republican side. For example, Governor Harman has sharply assailed Mr. Stevenson's expressed conviction that "moderation" and "middle-of-the-roadism" should be fundamental in Democratic policies, both foreign and domestic.

Just what induced Mr. Stevenson to use these words is not clear. They do not in the least sound like his two cronies, Mr. Stephen Mitchell and Mr. Paul Butler. They sound much more like Mr. Thomas Finletter, formerly Secretary of Air under Mr. Truman and a man of real ability and character. But whoever wrote that "moderate" and "middle-of-the-road" speech could not have foreseen its effect. So far as the Republicans were concerned it was not hastily viewed because this is the basic and often expressed view of General Eisenhower—the two things in which he views the world very deeply indeed.

The first strong dissent came from Governor Harman, who declared that those words "moderation" and "middle-of-the-roadism" had no place in the Democratic creed. They belonged to the Republicans and should be left to them. Spoken for both ex-President Truman and Senator Kefauver echoed the Harman views, made it plain that Mr. Stevenson had struck a very sour note, indeed. Friends of Mr. Stevenson, at once rushed to his defense, declared that all he had done was express what he personally believed. He was, they said, simply trying to take the advice of those who had been counseling him to be his "own intelligent self" and not descend to demagoguery in discussing issues. It is they, they say, very discouraging that when he does that he should find himself criticized not only by men within his own party but by the very people who urge him to be himself.

What is even more disheartening is the fact that, being the first avowed candidate for the nomination, he is compelled to take a stand on every issue and answer every charge. It is he who is going to get into trouble with the various groups to which his party is now attached and to whose special interests he is himself committed since 1952. Chief among these are the bosses of organized labor and the discontented farm leaders. Already these have echoed the Harman-Truman-Kefauver resentment of Mr. Stevenson's "moderation" and "middle-of-the-roadism" remarks. The feeling here is that Mr. Stevenson, despite the idealistic pictures which some of his warmest admirers paint of him, is really a very cunning little guy, indeed, in the great game of politics which he is now playing pretty hard.

The fact is that while Mr. Stevenson is not only willing to sit as many corners as any other of the Democratic aspirants he nevertheless feels that he must hold on to his reputation as a man of independence and idealism. Hence, he "moderation" and "middle-of-the-roadism" stance. The trouble about Mr. Stevenson is that he wants just terribly to be President. He is in a difficult position and there is no way of telling him how to work it out. One thing is sure. The new Dixon-Yates attack by his friend, Chairman Butler, is not going to help. That is sheer demagoguery.

MRS. EARL R. MULLINEAUX

Mrs. Blanche Marie Mullineaux, wife of Earl R. Mullineaux, died at her home, Lime Kiln, Md., Saturday evening, November 19, at 8:10 o'clock after an illness of six months. She was aged 54 years.

She was a daughter of Mrs. Irma V. Heftner DeGrange, Lime Kiln, and the late Thomas F. DeGrange, and was a member of the Buckeysville Methodist church, the Carroll Manor Grange, Homemakers club and the E. U. B. Ladies' Aid of Loch Lynn, where they resided for six years before returning to Lime Kiln, about eight years ago. While they resided in Garrett County, Mr. Mullineaux was employed by the Mt. Lake Canning company and at the Ray Teets Garage, Oakland. Surviving are her mother, her husband, two brothers and two sisters, Mrs. Norman Hardey, Owings Mills, Md., Mrs. William Schouse, Damascus, Howard T. DeGrange, Baker Valley Road, and Lacy H. DeGrange, Lime Kiln.

It's Ridiculous

The longer it goes the more ridiculous it becomes. Failure of the two official boards of the county to reach an agreement again shows wanton disregard of the taxpayers' money on the part of the three individuals who refuse to accept the low bid for voting machines.

Argument that the printing material needed by the Shoup machine for elections would cost more than that for the Automatic was knocked higher than a cocked hat. Argument that no local printer would be able to furnish the large size sheets needed by Shoup, was also without foundation.

Representatives of Automatic pointed out that a little word "may" in its bid might possibly mean that two machines would be given away eventually, but the wording in the bid said that the machines were being "loaned." Any person who "reads in" words in a contract that aren't there, is certainly not using his best judgment.

One after another the arguments used to show superiority of one machine over the other were exposed as having no basis of fact. It was determined that both machines mechanically were of good material and fulfilled state requirements. But it boiled down to one important factor, and that was that the Shoup machines cost $2,262.88 less than the Automatic. Yet three persons voted not to accept the low bid.

A person has a perfect right to have personal opinions but in public office a man's responsibility first of all is to the taxpayers. It makes the one person's statement that he is taking the long range view and voting for the more expensive machine appear ridiculous in the extreme. Equally ridiculous is the view taken by another that "we will never be billed for two machines."

For the best interests of the people of this county the low bid should have been accepted. The fact that it wasn't placed the burden of responsibility squarely upon the shoulders of Messrs. Gibson, Sanders and Roth.

Southern Opens Season With Win

Southern High school's basketball team, under the direction of a new coach, Earl Schoonover, won its opening game at Terra Alta on Tuesday night. The final score was 34 to 17.

Schoonover took a 20 to 7 lead at the quarter, then widened it to 35-20 at the half, and held a 63-41 edge at the third quarter's end.

Schoonover selected E. Colaw, Brohaven, Sanders, T. Colaw and Knotts for the starters but made substitutions with Glaze, Garrett, Dilgard and Ruff. Tolly Colaw topped the Highlanders' attack with 20 points on eight field goals and four fouls, while John Ruff scored 16 points and Fred Colaw, 11. Brohaven hit for 7 points, Sanders for 5, Knotts for 5, Glaze for 4, Garrett for 1 and Dilgard for 2. The Highlanders made good on 18 of 31 foul attempts.

Hollon was high for Terra Alta with 12 points, while Nicklow scored 11, Frankhouse 6, Britner 4, Dunston 8, Friend 6, Terra Alta scored 11 out of 21 fouls. Southern outscored Terra Alta from the field 28 to 18 baskets.

Southern Jaycees also took the preliminary battle, 61 to 50. The Highlanders will try their new team against Allegany High school at Cumberland on Friday night. The game is called for 8 o'clock. This will be the only game scheduled with the Allegany county team this year.

Coach Schoonover said his team had "first game" jitters which was natural but that they played well.

Retirement Systems Up For Discussion

The question of social security for state and county employees was up for discussion at a meeting in Baltimore last week, attended by Senator Clifford Friend and William O. Treacy. The latter was representing the employees of the Garrett County Roads department.

The hearing was before a committee on budget and finance of the Maryland Legislative Council. The reason the two attended the meeting was to see if it couldn't be arranged to make state retirement system optional with employees, and at the same time inaugurate a social security system for state and county workers.

A law was passed at the last session of the legislature making it possible for a subdivision to enter into a program of social security. Senator Friend said he favored a social security system and an optional state retirement system. At present social security would be available to state workers, but it would be in addition to the state retirement system.

A Garrett county roads employee, making 90 cents an hour at the present time would have some 9 cents of that amount taken for state retirement. The social security program would take about 2 cents under the same amount.

Senator Friend said he felt that persons now in the state retirement system would not be agreeable to yielding on the question, pointing out that they wanted to retain the state system as mandatory for state employees.

Voting Machine Selection Again Is Deadlocked

County Commissioners And Board Of Supervisors Fail To Reach Agreement

A joint meeting of the Board of County Commissioners and Board of Election Supervisors last Friday to decide which of two voting machines to purchase again wound up in a tie vote, 3 to 3.

Prior to the vote, representatives of both voting machine companies presented their case. There was discussion on the difference in the cost of printing for the ballots and other necessary forms for each election and the Automatic Voting Machine company representative declared there would be a saving of several hundred dollars at each election if his machines were purchased. This was denied by the other concern, and before the meeting adjourned it was determined that there probably would be no difference at all in the cost.

There was discussion on a word "may" which appeared in the bid of the Automatic Voting Machine company. The bid included an offer of Automatic to lend two machines, which also declared that they "may" be paid for by 1962. Automatic's representative pointed out that this gave the county leeway in accepting the machines or deciding they were not needed and went so far as to indicate that that word might mean that the company would give them to the county outright. There was no assurance of that, however.

H. D. Swartzentruber, president of the County Commissioners, who directed the meeting, then asked each member of the two boards why they favored the machine they did.

William L. Gibson, president of the Board of Supervisors, said he favored Automatic because everything was on eye level, without having to bend your back to vote; that it was less weighty, easier to move around, that all mechanical parts went into a case when not in use, that there was simplicity in handling. He quoted a letter from Baltimore which indicated there were 2788 Automatic machines in use in the state as compared to 273 for Shoup.

Ervin Roth, County Commissioner, said Automatic was easier to handle and declared it would cost the county less money since he "never will be billed for the other two machines."

Francis W. Sanders, member of the Board of Supervisors, said as a taxpayer he felt the Automatic best for the people in the long run and that he wasn't going to accept the low bidder.

William O. Treacy, member of the Board of Supervisors, said his personal preference was the Shoup machine, that he liked the face of

Piedmont Man Is Shot In Accident

William Jones, aged 26, of Piedmont, is reported in "good" condition at Garrett County Memorial hospital in Oakland where he was admitted Saturday after being accidentally shot with his own high-powered rifle.

The accident, according to James Frantz, deputy sheriff of Oakland, who questioned Jones at the hospital, occurred in the North Glade section about 8:10 p. m. Saturday. Jones and another hunter, Harry Cramer, 12, of Swanton, were lying in a corn field and as the victim rolled over on his rifle it discharged, sending the shot up under his right arm and out his shoulder.

Earl Barnard and Bernard Guy, who have a cabin nearby, heard the shot and investigated and took Jones to the hospital, where surgery was performed.

Also in the area at the time of the accident, were Leo Friend, Deer Park; and Harold Harmon, Oakland, game wardens.

Upole was arrested Friday by Constable Mark H. Moon. Upole is being detained in the County Jail.

Senior Chorus To Present Cantata On December 19th

Members of Southern's Senior chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Russell Brown and assisted by Mrs. Barbara Colabrese, will present on December 19 "The Song of Christmas," a cantata by Roy Ringwald. Eighty-six voices will combine to present this Christmas concert.

The B-E Core class under the direction of Miss Ann Dilgard will present tableaux during the cantata.

"The Song of Christmas" is the story of the nativity as told in Christmas songs, carols and Biblical verses. Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians were the first to present this cantata in 1915. The Senior chorus presented "The Song of Christmas" once before, in 1953.

Soloists in the cantata will include Barbara Moon, Susan McSings, Frank DeWitt, George Leo, Edward Bittinger and Bruce MacMurray. The narrators include Jack McGee and Arveta Bell, both of whom are members of the chorus.

Mrs. Brown has also arranged "something for the youngsters." It will include a vocal trio, "Winter Wonderland," by Carole Savage, Pat DeWitt and Catherine Filsinger; a specialty dance, "Susie Snowflake," by the "Barbieettes"; "Santa's Movin' On," a novelty act by Tomer and George; and "The Night Before Christmas," by Ruth Broadwater, Annis Friend, Ruby Guey, Patricia Sollars, Jackie Brooks, Ada Jackson, Edward Bittinger, William Welch and Kay Hamlin.

To end this Christmas concert, Southern's Senior chorus will end with Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus."

The Art department under the supervision of Mrs. Frances Patterson is planning an array of Christmas decorations.

Tickets will be sold at the door; admission price will be 25c to all.

The Senior band under the direction of Raymond Borrell will play Christmas carols one half hour before the program.

Postoffice To Remain Open Two Saturdays

The Oakland postoffice will remain open all day on two Saturdays, December 10 and December 17, in order to take care of the extra Christmas mailing duties, it was announced by Donald M. Browning, postmaster.

In order to facilitate mailing, Mr. Browning asked patrons to tie all their letters for local and out of town delivery in separate packages. Labels indicating that letters are for local delivery may be obtained either from carriers or at the postoffice. Mr. Browning said marking the letters in this way was a big saving in time. He said that many patrons had followed this procedure last year.

Plan Christmas Play At Oakland Elementary

"The Nativity Story" in song and Scripture will be presented by pupils of the Oakland Elementary school in the Annex auditorium at 8:10 p. m., Friday, December 16.

One hundred and seventy-five boys and girls will be represented in the program, which is made possible through the combined efforts of all the teachers.

A short P.T.A. business session will precede the program. The public is invited.

Robberies Being Investigated Here

Several robberies perpetrated in the vicinity last Thursday night or Friday morning, have been under investigation by county authorities, but no arrests have been made up to the present time.

Sometime between 9 p. m. last Thursday night and 4 o'clock Friday morning, a robber or robbers entered the Baltimore and Ohio railroad station in Oakland, the postoffice in Mt. Lake Park, and the Oakland elementary school annex on Green street.

The places were ransacked and at the annex they drank several bottles of milk, but otherwise nothing definite has been reported as missing.

Railroad and postoffice police have been investigating in addition to Sheriff Paul W. Fisher. Two teen-agers were held for questioning but released and one other person was questioned but not charged.

Three Hospitalized Following Collision

Three persons were hospitalized as the result of a head-on collision on Oak street last Saturday evening, and one man is in the county jail as a result.

Hospitalized were Mr. and Mrs. Denzil Sines and son Melvin Douglas Sines, Oakland. Mr. Sines had possible internal injuries while Mrs. Sines had multiple lacerations and contusions. Both are still patients in Garrett County Memorial hospital but are improving. Melvin had a compound fracture of the nose and contusions. He was discharged on Tuesday.

Arrested following the investigation was Mark Upole, driver of the automobile which was heading west on Oak street at a high rate of speed, according to authorities.

Corporal Samuel Conrad of the State Police, placed Upole in the county jail and charged him with operating an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. Sheriff Paul W. Fisher said Upole was the man's second offense which, if convicted, automatically sends him to the House of Correction for a six months' term.

Fisher said the man also has had the unique experience of having been given two dishonorable discharges from the armed forces. Fisher related that after his first dishonorable discharge he persuaded army officials to take the man back again so that he could redeem himself. Instead he received a second dishonorable discharge within a few months.

The accident occurred about Sixth street when officials said Upole attempted to pass another vehicle at the top of a slight rise and met the Sines car head-on. Upole is scheduled to have a hearing before Trial Magistrate W. O. Bitzer on December 12.

Checking Deer To Determine Age And How Well Fed

There's a new wrinkle in investigation work among the bucks that are being brought in for checking at the sheriff's office in Oakland.

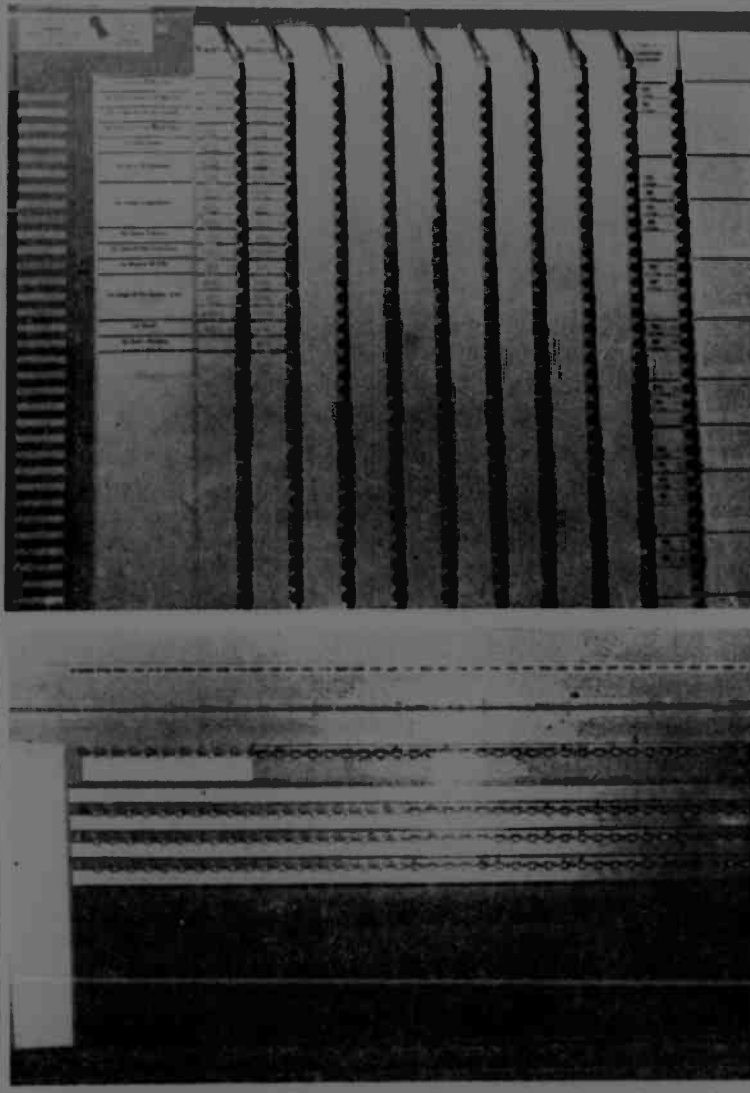

Workers are taking impressions of the buck's teeth, the length of his hind foot and the size of his antlers at the base, all of which will determine the condition of the various horns of the community, and whether or not their feeding range is adequate. It will also determine the average of the herd.

Assisting in this work is Craig Whitesell, research forester, and Harold J. Elser, fisheries biologist. Other checking stations are being maintained at Grantsville, Green Ridge, Hancock and Aberdeen.

Cold and Clear

Weather for the week for the most part has been cold and mostly clear with the exception of Saturday and Sunday night when it rained considerably. There was a minimum of frost. It became much colder by Monday and remained clear Monday and Tuesday. Wednesday remained cold with some cloudiness. A light snow fell Wednesday night but disappeared almost immediately. Thursday continued cold with some cloudiness.

It Bowen Hardesty, president of Frostburg State Teachers' college, and former county superintendent of schools of this county, will be the speaker at the weekly meeting of the Oakland Rotary club on Friday evening at 6:15 at the William-James hotel.

FACING THE ISSUE—These two photographs show the voting machines—that portion with which the voter will come in contact. The Automatic machine presents a wide, relatively narrow face, while that of the Shoup is more nearly square. Both machines provide for individual voting, split tickets, write-ins, referendums and correction of errors before the "ballot" is finally "cast." Both fulfill all requirements of the Maryland election laws. Purchase of 36 machines has been held up because of failure of the County Commissioners and Board of Election Supervisors to agree on the make, although the Shoup company has submitted a lower bid. Maryland law makes use of machines mandatory in next year's elections. The Shoup machine is shown in the top photo, the Automatic in the lower.—Republican Staff Photos.

Man Dies Under Unusual Conditions Saturday Morn

A 25-year-old man of Farmington, Pa., died on Saturday morning, December 3, under unusual circumstances at White Rock community. The man was identified as Hugh Lohr.

An autopsy of the body by Dr. Skitarale, of Cumberland, brought out the fact that the man, apparently "dead drunk," had strangled while disgorging contents from his stomach.

Stomach. Fisher, Trooper Robert Hordline of the State Police and Dr. Thomas Lushy, deputy medical examiner, made the investigation.

Fisher related the following story. He said Wayne Caster, Fred Reekard and Lohr went out on a drinking party. They went first to Uniontown, then to Oakland, and finally wound up at William Reekard's home at White Rock about 2 a. m. Saturday. By that time the party had been increased in number by two, namely Sadie Baker and Madeline DeWitt.

Fisher said that in the midst of the party Caster and Reekard remembered that a third male member had been in the group and started a search. They found him in the rear seat of the car in an unconscious condition. They got him out of the car and into the house, where they stretched him out on the floor.

They summoned Dr. Cameron from Markleysburg, and an ambulance, but the man died before he reached him.

There were no arrests.

Case of Rabies Found in County

A case of rabies in a fox in Garrett County was discovered a week ago, and Dr. Arthur Jones, county health officer, urged that no dogs be permitted to run at large and that stray wild dogs be destroyed.

Dr. Jones told the story that on Saturday, November 26, two dogs owned by Wallace Kimmell, of Deer Park, were fighting an animal which they finally killed. It was a fox and game warden Leo Friend and Dr. Franklin D. Custer, veterinarian, obtained the head and had it sent to Baltimore for examination. The report was brought back that the fox was rabid.

Dr. Jones also advised that persons having valuable dogs should get preventive vaccine for rabies.

A fox in convulsions and presumed to have had rabies was killed last spring in the White Rock section. Rabies also has been reported in the eastern section of Allegany county, West Virginia counties to the west and south and Somerset county in Pennsylvania.

Dr. Jones said any tin-bearing animal can have rabies.

He urged strict precautions to prevent the spread of the disease.

Hunter Is Shot

Dr. Lohr, aged 31, of Mt. Lake Park, was accidentally shot by a high powered rifle while he was hunting on the Dove farm in the Potomac State Forest area on Wednesday morning about 8:30 o'clock.

The bullet entered his back on the left side, piercing his entire body. He was taken to Garrett County Memorial hospital where he was resting comfortably.

The identity of the person who fired the shot was not known.

Deer Kill Hits 438 In 3 Days

At least four hundred thirty-eight deer have been killed in Garrett County during the first three days of the six-day season. It was announced by game officials this morning.

The number was eighty-five above the total for the first three days of last year and there were indications that the final total would surpass the all-time record of 592 bucks killed, which occurred in 1952.

Hunters have had favorable hunting weather for the first three days and it was likely that the entire season would remain the same. Most of the deer brought in were of moderate weight. Apparently the biggest rack of horns to show up was brought in by Harold Moon, of Cresaptown, showing 14 points. His buck weighed only 106 pounds, however. Heaviest buck seemed to be 173 pounds, a 3-pointer brought down by Charles Handley, of Washington.

Several women entered the picture again this year in fact more than usual. Women succeeding in shooting their buck included Dorothy Teets, Accident; Imogene Willey, Accident; Mrs. Helen Hooper, Pasadena; Vera Slicer, Oakland; Anna Mummert, Oakland; Mrs. Clifford Holler, Oakland; Mrs. James McRobie, Mt. Lake Park; Mrs. William Maffett, Oakland.

Game wardens reported violations at a minimum and they had reported about a dozen illegal kills to date. With spiken bucks being legal kills this year, there seemed to be little inclination to break the law.

A doe which became stuck in the ice of Deep Creek Lake was freed by Deputy Sheriff James Frantz and Floyd Custer, deputy game warden, on Tuesday. Ice on the lake is spotty and the doe broke through in an area just above Deep Creek bridge.

The tabulation at the several stations showed the following figures for the first three days: Oakland, 58, 40, 22, total 120; Grantsville, 51, 46, 23, total 120; Storey's, 17, 37, 20, total 74; Friendsville, 18, 16, 6, total 40; Swanton, 19, 16, 9, total 43; Westernport, 12, 6, no report for third day, total 18; LaVale, 12, 9, no report for third day, total 21. One other station reported one deer on Monday, making the totals for the three days, 188, 170, 80, grand total 438.

A partial list of the deer kill, along with residence of the hunter, the number of points and weight when available, and where killed, is given below:

Ministers Arrange Hospital Chaplaincy

The Mt. Top Ministerial association, in trying to be of more service to the community at large, has added another activity to its responsibilities. After much consideration of various plans, arrangements have finally been completed to assume the functions of a revolving hospital chaplaincy.

Each week one of the local ministers will be available at the Memorial hospital for sick visitation, conference and ministry to those in distress. This tour of special duty will be on a twenty-four hour, seven day call schedule, and to initiate the program, Rev. Paul S. Parker of the Deep Creek Baptist church has been designated as chaplain for the week of December 5 or until relieved.

A list of the assigned chaplains will be posted in the hospital and the chaplain of the week may be reached by phone at any time of need.

Have Improper Licenses

Two Washington, D. C. residents were arrested by game wardens on Tuesday on a charge of having improper hunting licenses. Although residents of the District they had obtained statewide hunting licenses at Silver Spring prior to coming to Garrett County for the deer season.

They were identified as Ronald Paape and Howard Hecker.

Both pleaded guilty when given a hearing before Trial Magistrate W. O. Bitzer and they were fined $50 and costs each.

O'ER THE RAMPARTS—Of the Garrett County Court House, there is standing today a new guardian in the form of a three-inch, .50 calibre Naval deck gun. The weapon was secured through the office of Rep. DeWitt Hyde at the request of Lawrence M. Fraley and the County Commissioners. Weighing 750 pounds, the gun was brought to Oakland in a county truck from the Naval Supply Depot at Mechanicsburg, Pa. Plates on the gun indicate it was built in 1942 by a combination of companies including General Motors and the Miehle Printing Press company. Records accompanying it do not state from which vessel it was removed, but it is of a type used on smaller craft such as mine sweepers. The tracking mechanism is complete and in working order. The piece replaces a World War I gun barrel, mounted in concrete, which was removed for scrap during the early part of the Second World War.—Republican Staff Photo.

"I noticed that the bid on the Shoup voting machine was rejected even though they had the low bid in Garrett county. I thought you would be interested in knowing that Republic Steel makes this machine and Shoup Voting Machine Company is the distributor. I am very familiar with this whole job. We put the best of everything into these machines. Frankly I dislike very much seeing Shoup eliminated after they have submitted the low bid."

And so does the thrill
- with Buick's new Variable Pitch Dynaflo!

WITH ALL the big excitement of Buick's 1956 styling and power and ride and handling—it's easy to overlook this fact:

Gas mileage in the '56 Buicks takes a big step upward. One reason, of course, is the new power plant itself.

Every new Buick cradles an advanced 322-cubic-inch V8 engine with the highest horsepower Series for Series, in all Buick history. Yet every engine delivers more efficiency, and more usable power to the rear wheels—because each one has a new double “Y” manifold, and a new high in compression ratio.

But the major reason for the happy news in gas mileage—and for the new step-up in safety and thrills—is Buick's latest version of Variable Pitch Dynaflow.

In this airplane-principled transmission, you always had a gas-saving cruising range—and, at a switch of the pitch, a full-power getaway range.

Now Buick engineers have brought to this cruising range what they call "double regeneration." It simply means a new way to make flowing oil add to its own velocity to build up driving force.

So now, you merely nudge the pedal to part throttle and get new breakaway getaway. And since you get this quicker, safer response in your normal cruising range—where you don't use full power—you get plenty more miles from every tankful of gas.

But when you do need sudden safety-surge for emergencies, you just floor the pedal to switch the pitch. Instantly, you're at full-power acceleration—and it's the most thrilling safety measure in the land.

How about coming in to try the most modern transmission yet? The absolute smoothness of this new Dynaflo is worth a visit in itself. So you can be sure you're in for a wealth of wonderful surprises—for that's just the start of the best Buick yet. Can you make it this week?

New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.*

ONE WORD...

Can Change Your Life
By REV. ROBT. OLEWILER
Pastor, Grace Reformed Church

PLAY

It was Dr. Charles E. Jefferson, a powerful prophet of another generation, who first pointed out that the laws of play are the laws of life. As one learns to play he learns to work and live.

For instance, it's a law of life that a person should work with all his might. We learn this as we play. It's a law of life that a person shouldn't cheat in his work. We learn this in our play. One who cheats in play is soon in disgrace. It's a law of life that a person should not become sour in failure. We learn this in play. You also learn that bragging and strutting one's stuff don't pay; nor does peevishness when you can't have your own way.

Yes, the ethics of cooperation are learned in that great school called play, the word that can change your life.

Congressional Viewpoint

Sen. John Marshall Butler

Like something taken for granted, the abundant history and heritage of the great port of Baltimore often need to be voiced again. Early Marylanders were a seafaring people. And, for many years following the establishment of Baltimore Town in 1729, the economic life of the community was heavily dependent upon commerce and trade.

The period between the Revolutionary War and the War of 1812 has been called Baltimore's "Golden Age." These were the days of the Chesapeake-built "Clippers" which roamed the seven-ous, trading Baltimore-made goods for raw materials and products in almost every corner of the globe. These ships, swifter than any other then afloat, carried a lion's share of all world commerce. Baltimore's growth was so rapid that, by 1800, it had become the second city of commercial importance in the country.

After the War of 1812, there was a lull in this rapid rate of growth, partly because the new Erie Canal made serious inroads into the City's trade with the West. Construction of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad in 1827, the first railroad built in the United States, was Baltimore's answer to this threat.

An even more serious roadblock, however, lay ahead—the Civil War. By reason of Maryland's position as a Border State, Baltimore enjoyed little of the war prosperity of the cities of the North and the hitherto rich markets in the South were casualties to the conflict.

For the next fifty years, Baltimore suffered great difficulties. Then came World War I which ushered in a new prosperity. In the 1920's many industrial plants located in the city. Shipping took a new lease on life, and Baltimore again became a leading seaport. World War II accentuated the movement. In two years, more than 270,000 workers were employed in the City's busy industries, two-thirds of them engaged in the production of steel, the building and repair of ships, and the manufacture of aircraft and electronics equipment.

Much of this growth has been retained, until today Baltimore is the sixth largest city in the country, and in terms of foreign tonnage is the Nation's second largest seaport—an important center of industrial, shipping, commercial and financial activity. In a real sense, commerce is the life-blood of the economy of our City and State, just as it lies at the core of the City's history.

Eight Vet organizations voted to advocate a one percent increase in sales tax to pay a bonus to war veterans.

Defense budget for next year will be about $41 billion dollars. British Prime Minister Eden and Eisenhower will meet January 29 on strategy for combating Russia's stepped-up cold war maneuvers.

Along The Potomac

With Your Congressman
D. WITT S. HYDE

The Joint Committee on the Economic Report is currently engaged in hearings on the impact of federal taxes on the nation's economy. Expert witnesses are presenting a variety of opinions covering the general field of taxation and are also giving their ideas on some specific legislative proposals.

To me, though, it seems the witnesses and the Committee Members are overlooking an important function of the taxing power of the federal government. We frequently hear that the government's power to tax is in itself the power to destroy. If this is true, then the converse must hold, that the power to tax can be used to create. Wise tax policies can be the means of providing a continuing prosperity—a prosperity that is not confined to any particular group or groups within the nation.

Frequently business-men in the 6th Maryland District discuss their problems with me. Many state that all they ask is a tax policy which permits them to compete successfully with the larger and more powerful organizations. In other words they are asking that our laws be framed in ways that will give the small merchant or manufacturer an opportunity to serve his customers within a competitive price range.

The answer may well be in the use of the taxing power to help create business. Tax principles as applied to small business have a direct bearing on growth, and perhaps even the survival of many of our small enterprises. Politicians are quick to speak of aiding the individual taxpayer, especially those in the middle and lower income brackets. Unfortunately, they are not so quick to see the importance of relief for the individual in his capacity as owner-operator of a small business. Both are important.

A bold new approach to the problems of the small businessman is in order. This means spelling out a recognition of "size" and applying it to all business-regulating legislation. "Ability to pay" in the individual tax field is another way of recognizing "size." Why not in business?

I believe the present Congress could make a real contribution toward solving the small business dilemma if it would thoroughly study the tax structure in its relation to small enterprise. I see no reason why a graduated income tax for business would not be as satisfactory as it is when applied to individual income. It may be in the taxing policy field that the salvation of small business lies.

On My Calendar: On Thursday, December 8, I expect to attend the Montgomery County Planning Association meeting in the County

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

Bad For Both Parties

Considering the fact that the conventions for the nomination of candidates for President and Vice President are little more than eight months away, it is extraordinary that the present degree of confusion and uncertainty should prevail in both parties. Usually at this period both the men and the issues should be far more clearly delineated.

The heart attack of the President has affected the Democratic as well as the Republican outlook. For example, before the Eisenhower illness, it was generally assumed that Mr. Stevenson would be nominated and Mr. Eisenhower would again overwhelm him. Such was the obvious popular strength of the President that Democrats other than Mr. Stevenson had slight eagerness to take him on. With the Eisenhower heart attack, not only did Mr. Stevenson's own candidacy come more out in the open but other Democratic aspirants, such as Governor Harriman of New York, Senator Kefauver of Tennessee, and the lightweight labor stage, Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, lost their availability to become known. From them and from ex-President Truman speeches and statements began to emanate indicating that they would, indeed, support Mr. Stevenson if he succeeded in getting himself nominated, but also indicating some doubt that they thought him the best available nominee.

Recently there has come the suggestion from some of his friends that perhaps Adlai's "buildup" as an "intellectual" has no real appeal to the ordinary voter but does have a tendency to arouse resentment and opens him to ridicule. Adlai all this time has been in which his clear friends, Harriman, Truman and others, jumped on him for his advocacy of "moderation" upon the part of Democratic spokesmen and it seems clear that Adlai is going to have a somewhat rougher ride in the Democratic Convention than he did four years ago. He still has a better chance for the nomination than any of the other aspirants. Perhaps the stiffness of his party opposition may collapse in the next eight months, but the likelihood of that seems less now than it did two weeks ago. Right now if he is nominated he has got to "work and fight" for it. Nobody is going to "draft him" this time. The truth is that Mr. Stevenson does not like to "work and fight" for things. He would much rather be drafted and he has no real taste for a fight.

he would prefer to leave the fighting to his two brash young friends, Mr. Stephen Mitchell and Chairman Paul Butler. The trouble there is that neither Mr. Mitchell nor Mr. Butler has enough standing as a public or a party figure to make much of an impression by what he says. Other party figures, conversely, more weight seem concentrated on criticizing what Mr. Stevenson is and says. Thus, it paradoxically appears that while the Eisenhower illness increases the Stevenson chances of being elected if nominated it adds to his difficulties of securing the nomination. Some of the riding put on him by his friends is being rubbed off by others supposed to be friends.

Clearly this does the "intellectual" Adlai no good, but look at the situation of the Republicans! With their popular and sure to be re-nominated and re-elected leader suddenly disabled, if not disbarred, from running they are way up in the air—despite Chairman Hall's optimism that the President not only will be able to run but will run. Clearly, though he talked with the President, Mr. Hall knows no more on this subject than anyone else. Clearly the only people who know are the President's doctors and himself. Clearly, too, they are going to make no announcement until the last of January. If, of course, it is possible that, supported by his doctors, Mr. Eisenhower will be able to run, and that would settle everything. However, most of his friends do not think so. Should they be right, the logical candidate would be Vice President Nixon, and probably Mr. Eisenhower would endorse him. Certainly, if he himself should be nominated, Mr. Nixon would again be his choice as running mate. The trouble there is the violent "hate campaign" that has been and still is conducted against Mr. Nixon.

His most violent assailant is ex-President Truman, who claims that Mr. Nixon referred to him as a traitor. This has been repeatedly denied by Mr. Nixon and is a clear distortion of his remarks. Recently, Mr. Truman was quoted by reporters as having called Mr. Nixon profane and obscene names. Mr. Truman denied this, the reporters repeated that he had been correctly quoted. Most persons, reviewing the circumstances and knowing the two men, seem to believe the Nixon and not the Truman denial. At any rate, if Mr. Eisenhower does not run and Mr. Nixon is not nominated by the Republicans, their party is in as bad a fix as the other.

ONE WORD...

Can Change Your Life
By REV. ROBT. OLEWILER
Pastor, Grace Reformed Church
Washington, D. C.

BUSY

You should never be that busy as to neglect your spiritual life. Jesus warned against the deceitfulness of preoccupation. In the parable of the soil, for instance, he lamented the highest life being choked out by the pursuit of other things.

Few people are actually rebellious against God. They just get involved in so many things, become so busy and hurried down that they overlook their regular duty to God.

When Lord Kitchener was once approached by a subordinate officer with a request for reasons for not obeying an order, he replied: "Your reasons for not doing it are the best I ever heard. Now go and do it!" God speaks something like that to us and hopes we'll not be too busy, the word that can change your life.

S-D Day Was Not Accident-Free

S-D Day, Safe Driving Day, was not accident-free in the Garrett county area, with at least one accident reported.

Key road conditions were blamed by Maryland State Police for a two-car crash in this county which sent one person to the hospital.

Admitted to Garrett County Memorial hospital in Oakland was Althea J. Snyder, 46, of Jennings, who suffered multiple lacerations about her face.

State Police gave this account of the accident which occurred at 11:30 a. m., on the Glendale road near Deep Creek Lake.

A car driven by Mervin Clay Snyder, 18, of Jennings, was traveling west along the highway. As the car went out of control on an icy section of road, it slid into the path of a vehicle being driven by David Bliss Fike, 51, of Hazelton, W. Va.

Police said the probable cause of the accident was speed too great for existing road conditions. Corporal Sam Conrad, of the Maryland State Police, investigated.

Recommend Changes In Gas Legislation

A report on recommendations for legislation affecting gas and oil in Western Maryland will be submitted to the Legislative Council by a subcommittee of the Judiciary Committee which has been studying proposed legislation.

A combination of parts of both Senate Bill 470 which was introduced at the last session by Senator Clifford Friend of this county and Senate Bill 319, which was passed in 1953 and then repealed in 1954, will be recommended in the new legislation.

Senator Friend, who along with Delegate Kermit Glotfelty, attended a subcommittee meeting last week, said the group had agreed upon four points. He listed them in this order:

1. That we need something in the law to keep drillers at least 500 feet from another man's boundary until satisfactory agreement is made.
2. Since in unitization agreements they have taken in only a portion of a farmer's land and paid royalty on only a small portion, they should require that the portion called "out-pool" should be released and not held, that there should be a provision to make them drill within six months or release it.
3. To make pipe line owners common carriers and place them under the public service commission.
4. Include a provision that will make it illegal to take natural gas from any leasehold until after it has been metered.

The subcommittee agreed that administration of the program should not be made by a separate board but should come under the jurisdiction of the Department of Geology, Mines and Water Resources.

Mr. Friend said that no bill had been drawn up as yet.

Repair and Overhaul Idle Farm Machines

Cold weather affords a good time to work on idle farm machinery, reports Guy W. Gienier, University of Maryland Extension agricultural engineer.

The life of any farm machinery depends on the care given it and proper winter care can add at least one-third to the life of most farm machinery, he says.

Machinery should be stored under cover, if possible, and Gienier recommends a covering of rust preventive on bright metal parts such as plow moldboards or baler knotters.

Before storing machinery it should be given a thorough cleaning to remove dirt and grease. Kerosene or hot water and a detergent will do a good job, Gienier says.

Many farm machinery dealers feature specials on repairs or overhauls now during their slack season. The equipment should also be given a good grease job with an all-purpose grease. Gienier, in recommending all-purpose grease, says it is water proof, flexible at zero degrees and will stand up under high temperatures.

A little paint is recommended for rust spots or worn places and rubber tired equipment should be stored on blocks. A mimeographed sheet on winterizing gas engines is available from county agents.

Turkey Population Down From 1954

Although Maryland turkey production is down about 20 percent from last year plenty of birds are available for Christmas, through regular wholesale and retail channels, says Dr. Harold D. Smith, agricultural economist for the University of Maryland.

The production drop is due to a turkey surplus in 1954, he said. Maryland turkey producers lost money last year and as a result fewer turkeys were produced this year. Nationally, production is down about three percent, Dr. Smith says, and turkey prices are running slightly above last year.

Many Maryland turkeys are sold directly to hotels and restaurants, and Dr. Smith suggests that consumers order their Christmas gobblers early.

Even with fewer turkeys this year, farmers may realize a higher return. This is due to a more favorable turkey-feed ratio—a figure which shows the relationship between the price of feed and the price of turkeys. Last year a farmer could buy only seven pounds of feed for each pound of turkey he sold. This year farmers will be able to buy nine pounds of feed.

Dr. Smith believes Maryland turkey producers will realize more profits through sales to individuals rather than through sales on a large volume market. He says, in many instances, local producers can demand higher prices than retail stores because of the reputation which the local producers have established with their quality conscious consumers over the years.

As a turkey producing state, Maryland ranks 23th. The top producers are California, Minnesota, Iowa and Virginia in that order.

— BERRAT PERFORMANCE! OLDSMOBILE PRESENTS "BARKS IN TOTLAND". WITH DAVE GARROWAY AND DENNIS DAY! CHRISTMAS EVE ON NBC-TV! —

WEDDING PARTY—Shown here are the participants in the mock wedding held recently by the 12-E core class of Southern High school. The affair was in connection with a study of Family Living. Dale Tasker and Mary Jane Browning were the "bridegroom" and "bride."

Under the direction and guidance of Mrs. Bernard Herrod and Rev. Donald Jackson, 12-E's mock wedding took place in Southern High's cafeteria at 2:00 p. m. on Friday, December 2.

Mrs. Herrod's core class has been studying the unit on "Family Living" which includes a study of marriage. In order to understand this unit better, the class gave reports on dating, engagement, and marriage. This led to the planning of the mock wedding. The entire program from beginning to end was kept serious and the sacredness of the marriage ceremony was emphasized.

The wedding party included: Minister, Bill Moore; Bride, Mary Jane Browning; Groom, Dale Tasker; Matron of Honor, Frances Stine; Best Man, Richard Edwards; Six bridesmaids: Ann Troy, Helen Lewis, Annis Friend, Jackie Brooks, Ruth Broadwater, LaTua Cathoun; six ushers: Jerry Meyers, Richard Bernard, Irvin Wagner, Burton Rexrode, Jim Kreyenbuhl, John Beachy; a ring bearer, Larry Holler; and a flower girl, Sharon Fike.

Vocal selections were given by Ada Jackson, who was accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Brown. One of the students, Rita Holler, was a student adviser and saw that the ceremony went along smoothly. She also baked and donated the four-tier wedding cake.

Weber's contributed all of the flowers used for the wedding including the bride's bouquet. Dr. W. S. Patterson, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist church, Oakland, loaned two candelabras for use on the altar.

The wedding ceremony was followed by a reception. Sam Moore, school photographer, took pictures of the wedding party and of the reception.

The Power Of Prayer

At a delightful dinner meeting recently, I was hostess at one of the tables. It was my duty to greet and introduce the twelve guests assigned to that table, and to make them feel at home. Among these twelve was a charming and intelligent woman, who is a member of our Maryland Legislature.

During the course of the evening meal, we talked about many things. The subjects ranged from good legislation, schools, books, etc. Then she said "I believe prayer is the most powerful force in the world, and I use it daily." She went on to tell me how it had helped her in making difficult decisions, how it daily strengthened her faith. She said she found herself able to pray at any time and in any place. From a cab on a city street, or in the quiet of her own home, she could lift her mind and heart in praise, adoration and supplication of prayer. She asked how I felt about it, and I said I felt the same way.

Afterward I thought of this conversation and what a significant force prayer is in our daily lives.

To me prayer means many things, but I believe first of all it means a daily giving of praise and adoration to God for His gifts to us. It becomes a daily thanksgiving. It means daily asking forgiveness for our many failures. In my own experience, through prayer, I have seen my own failures and weaknesses in a way not even my severest critic could see them.

I believe prayer helps us to have good health. Dr. Alexis Carroll, world-renowned physician, says, "prayer makes a definite contribution to our physical well-being. It saves us from self-pity, the most destructive of all human emotions. It helps us to have self-confidence. It helps us to have steady nerves, strong, courageous hearts and a calm and peaceful outlook on life. It helps us to overcome the power of selfishness."

I honestly believe it works miracles in many lives, and that it can help each one of us to see our duties more clearly, and to find in the performance of them the abundant life our Savior came to bring to all of us.

Sixty-nine persons died in street and highway crashes on S-D day.

Search Ends For Missing Bayard Jet Fighter Pilot

Official word of the end of the search for Second Lieut. Ned Jeffery Renn, Jr., 24-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Jeffery Renn, Sr., of Bayard, W. Va., who has been missing with his P-81 jet fighter plane since November 16, was received last week in a letter to his parents from Lieut. Renn's squadron commander.

Lieut. Renn, who was a member of the 390th Fighter Bomber Squadron, was last seen alive during a night navigation mission between the Turner Air Base, Albany, Ga., and Langley Air Force Base, Hampton, Va., about 9:30 p. m. November 16.

The letter outlining the circumstances of Lieut. Renn's disappearance was sent to his parents by Major Joseph S. Michalowski, commander of the 390th Fighter Bomber Squadron. The squadron is stationed at England Air Force Base, Alexandria, La.

Lieut. Renn departed from Turner Air Force Base in a formation with one other F-81 aircraft. As they were approaching Langley Air Force Base the formation began a normal descent from 20,000 feet.

Before starting the descent Lieut. Walter Elfein, Jr., formation leader, observed Lieut. Renn flying on his left wing and holding a good position. During the descent the flight entered a 2,000 foot deep layer of haze which was passed through in about 30 seconds, according to Lieut. Elfein's estimate. When he came into the clear the flight leader observed that the Bayard lieutenant was missing. Lieut. Elfein called on his radio several times but got no word from Lieut. Renn. He circled the area for about 15 minutes but to no avail.

Participating in the extensive search for the missing pilot were the Langley Air Force crash boats, the Air Rescue Service from Westover Air Force base in Massachusetts, the Coast Guard and Air Force helicopters and other aircraft which covered a 100-mile radius. All bases within 250 miles of the site also were contacted to determine whether he might have landed at one of them.

The search continued for five days and only two bits of evidence were found, according to Major Michalowski's letter. Found floating in the water were an Air Force radio facility chart which all air force aircraft use, and a part of a seat cushion. However, it has not been determined that these objects came from Lieut. Renn's plane.

Major Michalowski also disclosed in his letter, written Wednesday, that the Langley Air Force base that day discontinued its air search and dragging operations for the missing pilot.

The letter concluded by praising Lieut. Renn as a "fine officer, gentleman and pilot" who always did his duty. On his last flight he was participating in "Operation Sagebrush."

Lieut. Renn had lived in Bayard until graduation from Bayard High school in 1949. He enlisted in the air force July 1, 1949, and served in Okinawa during the Korean campaign.

Later he returned to Tampa, Fla., where he took his cadet test. He obtained his pre-flight training at Goodfellow Air Force Base, San Angelo, Tex., and received his wings and commission at the Williams Air Force Base in Chandler, Ariz., June 10, 1954. He had been stationed at England Air Force Base since then.

Surviving are his parents, Ned Jeffery and Ida Pete Renn; four sisters, Mrs. Mary Lou Kihowski, Heartsville, Mrs. Mona Thurston, Houston, England, Beverly Ann and Karen Renn, both at home; his wife, Mrs. Joselyn Renn, Eola, Tex., and a five-month-old son, Ned Jeffery Renn III.

Knowland and Joe Martin visited president, one felt he would run again, the other didn't.

BY GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College

The readers of this column will agree, I'm sure, that the moral of "The Venomous Worm," from McGuffey's old Fifth Reader of a century ago, has application today. Here it is: "Who has not heard of the rattlesnake or copperhead? An unexpected sight of either of these reptiles will make (anybody) recoil; but there is a species of worm, found in various parts of this country, which conveys a poison of a nature so deadly that, compared with it, even the venom of the rattlesnake is harmless. To guard our readers against this foe of human kind is the object of this lesson.

"This worm varies much in size. It is frequently an inch in diameter, but, as it is rarely seen except when coiled, its length can hardly be conjectured. It is of a dull lead color, and generally lives near a spring or small stream of water, and bites the unfortunate people who are in the habit of going there to drink. The brute creation it never molests. They avoid it with the same instinct that teaches the animals of India to shun the deadly cobra.

"Several of these reptiles have long infested our settlements, to the misery and destruction of many of our fellow-citizens. I have, therefore, had frequent opportunities of being the melancholy spectator of the effects produced by the subtle poison which this worm infuses. The symptoms of its bite are terrible. The eyes of the patient become red and fiery, his tongue swells to an immoderate size, and obstructs his utterance; and delirium of the most horrid character quickly follows. Sometimes, in his madness, he attempts the destruction of his nearest friends.

"If the sufferer has a family, his weeping wife and helpless infants are not unfrequently the objects of his frantic fury. He exhibits all the detestable passions that rankle in the bosom of a savage; and such is the spell in which his senses are locked, that no sooner has the unhappy patient recovered from the paroxysm of insanity occasioned by the bite, than he seeks out the destroyer for the sole purpose of being bitten again.

"I have seen a good old father, his locks as white as snow, his step slow and trembling, beg in vain of his only son to quit the lurking place of the worm. My heart bled when he turned away; for I knew the fond hope that his son would be the 'staff of his declining years,' had supported him through many a sorrow. Youth of America, would you know the name of this reptile? It is called the worm of the still.

It should be explained that the worm of the still is the small lower coil of copper or lead tubing on a moonshining whiskey still from which drips the powerful liquid; and that they are located at springs or on creek banks—to obtain the necessary water supply.

NOTE: In a recent article I noticed that of the approximately 50,000,000 Americans who drink, several million are alcoholics—victims of McGuffey's "Venomous Worm."

To Attend Open House

A number of homemakers of the county are planning to attend an open house in the new district office of the Potomac Edison company in Frostburg on December 9 and 10. Invitation was extended by Miss Katherine Chase, home economist for the company. Miss Chase has given demonstrations to Homemakers groups during past years.

Some homemakers may also attend an exhibit and fashion show at the University of Maryland on December 15.

Club Meetings
Homemakers—December 11, McHenry club at 12:15 at home of Mrs. Bennett Paugh; December 15, Friendsville club at 7:30 in Methodist church basement; December 16, Mt. View club at the home of Mrs. Cleve Ashby at 7:30 p. m.

The sure and nimble touch of the hands of a great pianist is the result of hours of daily practice over a period of years. The great and thrilling music which he creates is the product of daily devotion to his art.

Every fine accomplishment in life requires the same daily devotion. If your house is neat as a pin, if you have a lovely garden, if your office is well-run and efficient, you know that it takes hours of daily care and devotion.

So with prayer. Prayer is one of the highest gifts a man has. But if it is to become more than a spasmodic and superstitious cry for help, it too requires daily care and devotion. It takes practice!

The Church stands ready to help you and your children know the great joy which comes to a man through daily prayer. And the best part of it is, the more you practice prayer, the greater the joy and happiness you will derive from it.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

The Church is the greatest factor in our world for the building of a character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without the Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. Here, to your sound reason, every citizen should attend services regularly and assiduously. For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and spiritual support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Hotel reservations for the day of the next Presidential Inauguration—which is still more than a year away—were being considered this week by two 80-year-olds who don't want to miss the event, but they ran into a problem.

It was this: According to law, the President must take his oath of office on January 20. And according to custom, the inaugural parade and other festivities are staged on the same day.

Question on Ceremonies

In 1957, however, the 20th of January will fall on a Sunday, a fact which prompted the two hotel-seekers to ask my office whether the ceremonies will be conducted on that day or on the following Monday.

Frankly, I hadn't even thought of the difficulty, so I made some inquiries—first at the White House; then at the Library of Congress, and then at the offices of the Senate Parliamentarian, the Secretary for the Minority, and the Republican National Committee.

Too Early
"I think it's a little too early to know for sure," offered one Congressional staff member.

"I've reviewed the Constitution," added another, "and there's no authority for anyone in particular to determine such matters.

"It's apparently an open question."

All agreed, though, that if tradition prevails, the man elected President next November will take his oath privately on the required Sunday and repeat it in public on the next day.

Historical Precedent
The parade and Inaugural Ball will probably be saved for Monday also, according to the general opinion.

To arrive at those conclusions, the Capitol Hill researchers dug back through their histories and found that four Chief Executives were faced with the possibility of Sunday inaugurations.

They were Presidents Monroe in 1821, Taylor in 1849, Hayes in 1877, and Wilson in 1917.

Their actions, it seems, set a precedent for a quiet swearing-in on one day followed by a second performance with fanfare on the next.

Next Query
Exactly who will eventually decide the issue is another point which is somewhat vague at present.

Some think it will be "up to the President himself." Others feel that special committees will do the planning.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Background Scripture: Luke 10:27-37.
Devotional Reading: 1 John 2:1-11.

My Neighbor

Lesson for December 11, 1955

TWO cart-drivers in China were trying to get up a muddy hill. Each driver's cart was stuck in the mud, almost side by side. Each man was beating his own scrawny horse, but the wheels were stuck fast. Along came an American. "Why don't you unhitch one horse," he said "and hitch him to the other cart? Then the two horses might get the cart out of the mud."

The carters were astonished. They had never thought of that. But they did as the stranger said, and sure enough they both got to the top of the hill. That true Dr. Foreman story, told by a missionary, shows two things at once. One is that in countries where Christianity has had a chance to get around, some simple Christian ideas get taken for granted, such as helping your neighbor when he is in trouble. The other is that where Christianity is unknown, even so simple a thing as getting together to pull out of the mud, comes as a strange new idea.

Who Is My Neighbor?

Now if those two Chinese carters had been father and son, or brother and brother, they might have thought of helping each other, for in China nothing is too good for members of your family. But we have no great right to make fun of the Chinese. All of us are inclined to draw pretty hard lines and to think—"Outside those lines I have no neighbors. Inside the lines, yes, we understand pretty well what neighbors are." "Love thy neighbor as thyself" is a commandment too hard to understand, for we know what it is to love ourselves, that comes all too naturally. We like to get ahead, to cushion ourselves from danger and if possible from discomfort, we consult our own interests. Loving one's neighbor as oneself just means looking out for him in the same careful ways, thinking ahead for him, promoting him. We understand what neighborliness is, yes. We do not confuse it with being meddling. If you want to know as much about your neighbor as you do about yourself, you aren't being a neighbor but a nuisance. If you do for your neighbor what he can very well do for himself, then you are not treating him like a neighbor.

Neighbors Out of Sight

Jesus' famous parable of the Good Samaritan shows that having neighbors is easy, in fact you can't help it; but that the important thing is being a neighbor. It means more than living in "peaceful co-existence" and not bothering each other. It means active co-operation and help of those who need help. Wherever there is a person in trouble whom we can help, there is a neighbor. In our time the world has grown closer together than it was in Jesus' time. If there had been a famine in India, the good Samaritan would never have known it, or if he had, he could have done nothing about it. Now if there is a famine in India we hear about it as soon as the Indians can; and we can do something about it too. When farmers in a church in Iowa, for instance, send a heifer to a farmer in some out-of-the-way or devastated part of the world across a wide ocean, that is being a neighbor, modern-style for a modern world.

What We Haven't Figured Out

There are many problems we haven't worked out yet, in this business for acting as good neighbors. For example: What is the wisest way to be neighbor to people of different race from our own? How can a mill-worker be a neighbor to the stockholders, or how can the stockholders be neighbors to the workers? When a corporation, in the process of expansion, throws 500 persons out of work at one time, is there any way in which those who are employed by the corporation can be neighbors to those who have lost their jobs? How can we be neighbors to people who resent us? How far can we go in helping people without turning them into "moosehairs" and beggars? How can Christians in one denomination be neighbors to those in another? And one more question: Is it possible for non-Christians to be as good neighbors, in Jesus' sense of the word, as Christians can be?

(Based on outlines copyrighted by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., Released by Community Press Service.)

Whatever the outcome might be, I hope that it will fit in perfectly with the plans of the couple who showed such an early and eager interest in the affair.

I fervently hope, too, that they will refrain for a while from asking me the question which follows logically after their query about the date, and that is:

"Who will be taking the oath?"

Adequate Schools . . .

There is a lot of talk these days about the five-year program for schools, how we can provide good schools, enough school rooms, plenty of teachers and adequate pay for these teachers.

Two things we feel are of top need in school instruction. American citizenship is vitally important to the strength and security of our nation and that is something that has been lacking in a good many of our schools. This lack has been recognized in local schools with the announcement recently that a course in American history would be added to the curriculum next year.

It is the duty of the schools to teach Americanism in every way possible. To do this they must strive to inculcate the story of America, its founding, its struggles, its triumphs and its defeats. It must give these pupils a solid foundation of love for their country, appreciation of what it is, how it was built, what it has done and is doing for the world. They should be taught that they must be givers as well as takers.

The second important item is that the schools must build solidly on the rock of the Bible. It is as much the duty of the school teacher to instill the solid truths of Holy Writ as to teach the natural laws of the universe. This is not saying that any sectarian religion should be taught. The fundamental idea of God, the Creator and Supreme Ruler of the universe, together with the laws as laid down in the Ten Commandments and the Golden Rule should be stressed—because this nation was founded on the Rock of God.

Statements to this effect were made recently by the editor of a newspaper in Lansdale, Pa., and by Dr. George S. Benson, director of the National Education program.

Now, as always, good teachers make good schools. We demand good schools. People always have shown a willingness to pay for good schools. They are aroused today as never before on the school question. And when American people become aroused over a question they solve it.

We need those classrooms, those teachers, better salaries, but in addition we need the two fundamentals listed above, for a well rounded program.

Work Plan On Flood Control Being Completed

Will Be Presented To Congress For Action Early Next Year

The watershed work plan of the Little Youghiogheny River watershed was being typed this week in preparation for presentation to Congress early next year, with the aim in view of having the plan approved whereby six flood control dams would be constructed in the Oakland area.

The work plan would be carried out under authority of the Water Protection and Flood Prevention Act of the 83rd Congress.

There are three major parts to the plan. It is a combination of land treatment measures, stream channel improvement work and flood water retaining structures. The stream channel improvement work is to be done on the Little Youghiogheny river between Oakland and where the river empties into the Big Youghiogheny river.

The over-all installation cost is estimated at $258,000 including the six dams and the channel improvement. The County Commissioners and the Town of Oakland several weeks ago agreed to contribute $10,000 over a five-year period, and the Federal government will be requested to pay the balance of the cost amounting to approximately $248,000.

George H. Haast was named chairman of the work plan. He will meet several weeks ago by Mayor Joseph Hindmarch, and several meetings have been held with Al Millender, party leader of the watershed work plan party, of Morgantown, of the Soil Conservation Service, in determining what information had to be assembled.

Assisting in assembling this material has been Lewis R. Jones, W. Dwight Stover, Floyd B. Leighton, Howard C. Riggs, Thomas Thayer, John H. Carter, Maurice Brookhart and Jack Treacy, with much of the technical information being furnished by engineers and other personnel of the Soil Conservation Service.

It is being pointed out in the work plan that Oakland has been plagued by flash floods of damaging proportions for many years, with floods of 1938, 1951 and 1953 causing total damages estimated at $180,000, with flood waters actually reaching as far as a total of 75 business places within the town, and the remaining business places being affected by loss of business due to flooded streets and highways.

A number of agencies have promised assistance in carrying out the flood control plan, among them being the Maryland Department of Forests and Parks, Fish and Game Commission, Extension Service, Soil Conservation District, Farmers' Home Administration, county A. S. C. committee, and the Soil Conservation Service.

The Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce made last minute preparations this week to give out 2,500 Christmas treats to the children of the community twelve years of age and under.

Three lines will be formed as in previous years to make the handling of the youngsters easier.

Briner said a tape recording would be made of the band selections and also some of the conversations between Santa Claus and the children, and the recording would be repeated over radio station WKYR during one of its programs.

New Record Established In County Topping Previous Mark Of 592

A new record on the deer kill in Garrett county was made this year along with new records being established by Allegany and Washington counties, making it the most successful season in history.

A total of 1,333 bucks were slain in the three counties and that figure is only 287 less than the state record of 1,620.

Garrett county, as usual, topped the state this year with 608 kills. This topped by 16 the previous high of 592, made in 1952. Washington county's total was 235 while Allegany county had 490 kills. This topped the previous high by 209.

Garrett county's totals for the six days were 188, 170, 88, 62, 26, 74.

Garrett county was entirely free of rain during the six-day season and there was tracking snow on the final day. The first three days were comparatively clear and cold.

Second Accident Occurs

A second hunting accident was reported on Friday which was not considered serious. Franklin Paugh, about 20, of Vinex, was accidentally shot by Robert Whitaker, near the Dorsey Knux property.

The two were hunting together when a deer bounded out of the brush. Paul Fisher, sheriff, who investigated, said that Whitaker had obtained the wrong kind of shot by mistake and when he fired at the deer he discovered that the bullet contained bird shot instead of a pumpkin ball. The shot spread and several pellets hit Paugh in the face.

He was treated at the Garrett County Memorial hospital in Oakland.

Analysis of School Budget Is Studied

A thorough analysis of the annual budget to be submitted to the County Commissioners for their approval next week, was the main item of business at the regular meeting of the Board of Education on Tuesday. The Board is seeking an amount in excess of $100,000 from the County funds. Added to funds from state sources, the total budget of the School Board will be over a million dollars.

According to provisions of the Green report, a bill was passed by the Legislature several years ago which makes it mandatory to increase the minimum levy for schools from 65 cents to 75 cents effective July, 1955. This levy of 75 cents is now mandatory minimum in order for counties to share in state equalization, Garrett county shares heavily in state funds for the support of its schools.

The 75-cent levy for current expenses covers eight items, it was pointed out by Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools.

1. Costs of administration, including office expenses, board members' expenses, superintendent's salary and traveling expenses.

2. Instructional services, including teachers' salaries, instructional materials, books, art supplies, maps, etc.

3. Operation of school plant, including janitors' wages, fuel, water, light, supplies.

4. Maintenance, including salary of maintenance supervisor and two full-time employees, repair and (Continued On Page Six)

Files For Senate Seat

George P. Mahoney, Maryland Democratic party's 1952 nominee for the United States Senate, announced Saturday that he is a candidate for the Senate nomination in 1956.

Mahoney was defeated in 1952 by Senator J. Glenn Beall. He will have as his opponent in 1956, if he wins the primary election, either John Marshall Butler, present U. S. Senator, who will be a candidate for re-election, or D. John Markey, who also has filed on the Republican ticket for that office.

Indications are that Mayor D. A. A. of Baltimore, who will be a Democratic candidate,

Official Opening Set for Laboratory

The Oakland branch of the Live Stock Sanitary Service laboratory will have its official opening on Tuesday, December 20, at 1:30 o'clock. It has been announced by Dr. F. D. Custer, acting supervisor.

The laboratory has been in limited operation since November first and now has nearly all of its supplies and equipment in service. Don Daddis is the laboratory technician and Virgil Steyer, Jr. is laboratory assistant.

The laboratory will be open for public inspection all of Tuesday afternoon.

Polio Vaccine Now In Limited Supply

Dr. Arthur Jones, county health officer, stated yesterday that he has a limited supply of polio vaccine that will be given to children from ages one year to eleven, at the health center.

He also noted that local physicians had an adequate supply and that they were administering the vaccine at nominal cost. Those unable to receive this vaccine through their family physician may get it at the health center.

The vaccine will be administered at Oakland Tuesday, 10 a. m. to 12 noon; at Friendsville, Monday, 1 to 3 p. m.; Grantsville, Tuesday, 1 to 3 p. m.; and Kitzmiller, Thursday, 1 to 3 p. m.

The laboratory will be open for public inspection all of Tuesday afternoon.

City Grants Right of Way to Potomac Edison Company

At the regular meeting of the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland on Monday night the body granted a right of way to the Potomac Edison company for erection of a power line over the city property at the west edge of town, located north of the Golf Course.

The company offered $175 for crossing the property and $10 for each pole that would be erected.

The company also agreed to clear the right of way and pile all brush.

The Potomac Edison company is preparing to erect a high tension line carrying 132,000 volts, which would carry that amount of electricity from the power station at Albright, W. Va., to Cumberland.

Other routine business was conducted at Monday night's meeting. Sunday movie tax was reported at $65.90. A permit was granted to the American Oil company to place an underground storage tank on the C. N. Murphy property, at Sanders Motor Freight, of 2,000 gallons capacity.

Collections for the month totaled $4,943.67, with $698.48 from water, $99 from taxes and $3,604.10 from miscellaneous. In the latter category were two outstanding figures, $2,356.89 from gasoline tax, and $759.83 from parking meters.

Expenditures amounted to $8,456.02, leaving a balance in the treasury of $5,118.01. Among the expenditures was an item of $2,175.73 for supplies for the water department.

There was some discussion on the adoption of a merit system for the city employees but no action was taken.

Snow Falls Four Days During Week

A snowstorm lasting four days descended upon Garrett county this week but the snowfall was not continuous enough to cause any serious trouble. During the four days possibly four or five inches of snow fell and while this was various times, the wind did not remain constant, and drifts were easily pushed aside to keep all roads open.

Snow began falling on Friday with freezing temperatures plunging the thermometer to 12 above zero on Saturday morning. Snow continued to fly throughout the day and continued intermittently on Sunday and Monday.

Skies cleared on Monday night and an even zero was recorded on Tuesday morning. The weather moderated considerably on Tuesday and the sun melted most of the snow on the main highways.

A new snow storm began about seven o'clock this morning and weather observers predicted a rough week-end.

Plans Expenditure Of $20 Million For Electrical Services

Expenditure of $20,000,000 over the next three years, to meet rapidly growing industrial power and residential electric service requirements, was announced by Monongahela Power company through its president, Don B. Potter. Potter added that practically all of the $20,000,000 will be spent on transmission and distribution facilities touching every county and practically every community in the company's service area.

A major share of the program is intended to make an ample supply of power available for any industrial growth that may come in the next few years. Nearly 250 projects are involved. Among them is an additional power supply for the Terra Alta-Oakland area, amounting to $50,000 scheduled for completion in 1957. This includes an increase in the supply line voltage from 12,000 to 66,000 volts, to meet growing requirements of Garrett county customers. Site for the new sub-station at Oakland has been purchased.

There will also be expanded service in Preston county amounting to an expenditure of $80,000 scheduled for completion in 1958. This is for increased power supply which includes a 66,000 volt line from Albright several miles toward Bruceville Mills, with a sub-station to supply the area north and east of Albright. New facilities also will benefit Kingwood by providing a two-way feed to that community.

ONE WORD ...

Religion

"When we have pondered all the difficulties of religion," the late Dr. Joseph Fort Newton once wrote, "if they may be so called, we find that something eludes us. Something breaks through language and escapes. We can't do better than turn to the text which many great men have held high above all others, namely: 'What doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, love mercy, and walk humbly with thy God.' This is indeed one of the ultimate utterances."

Doing good to the lonely and broken-hearted, keeping the inner sanctuary of the soul undefiled, trusting God and walking with Him every day—what more can the wisest sage tell us; what more can the truest saint do?

Not a system, not a ceremonial, not merely a creed, but a life of service and sanctity—that's religion—the word that can change your life.

Pemakable success of new test submarine has resulted in orders for four more.

Farm Bureau Discussion Groups Meet In November

Five Farm Bureau Planning and Discussion groups reported to Merle A. Garlett, secretary, for the month of November. Those reporting: group 2, Mrs. Walter Hartman; group 5, Mrs. Mary Brennehan; group 7, Mrs. Pearl Shultz; group 9, Mrs. Donna Glottely.

Topic for discussion was "Let's Discuss Something." The theme spotlighted the problems to overcome, and forces resulting when many small groups of farmers gather to discuss a common issue. Garlett said all groups felt a need for getting together in small groups to discuss their problems, to give opinions of people and to provide a means of disseminating ideas of state and national farm bureau to everyone.

Group 9 felt that farmers problems could be solved through repeated trying. All groups felt that farmers could help themselves by finding solutions to their own problems.

Letter To The Editor

Bloomington, Md.
Dec. 12, 1953
Editor of The Republican
Oakland, Md.

Dear Sir:
Please publish I see in the papers on voting machine selection that the question again is deadlocked. Why not leave it as it is now until there is an election in Garrett County and let the taxpayers have a vote on which machine to select? The taxpayers can't vote who have to pay for them and they should have a say which one to select. Anyone will say, let the Shop machine. The Automatic will not last as long as the Shop machine. There are too many automatic things made that don't stand up to the work that they are supposed to do. So why pay more and waste the taxpayers' money? The man who furnishes the money should have something to say about the wasting of his money.

Yours very truly,
D. D. Ridings
Editor's Note: The law passed at the last session of the legislature states that voting machines must be in use for the 1956 elections, so they must be bought now. Both machines are automatic in their actions, and both are electrically operated.

Listen Americans!

BY GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College

When the Declaration of Independence and the United States Constitution were being written the founding fathers foresaw a nation of people governed largely by inner discipline. They were men of deep Christian faith whose normal impulse was toward Christian behavior. The Golden Rule. The political and economic system whose philosophy and superstructure they built into the Declaration and the Constitution was calculated to give a right-thinking and right-acting people the utmost freedom within a government primarily for the protection of freedom.

In the early schools and up through the centuries the great teachings of the Bible were an accepted part of the proper schooling of youth. They formed the foundation for that inner discipline which must govern human behavior if mankind is to be free. But gradually those teachings were "de-emphasized" and, in some segments of education, altogether discarded. It is good to be able to report that they are returning.

The moral principles upon which any worthwhile civilization must be founded are finding a place again in important areas of education in which they had lost prestige. And the one great source of those moral principles is the Bible. It solves the great secret of life and gives mankind a purpose on earth.

In my column last week the point was made that the first and foremost responsibility of the institution of American education is to prepare young people for citizenship in our own American Republic. Obviously the foundation for such citizenship must be, first, faith in God; and, then, the development of an inner desire to do God's will, to build a life upon the basic Christian principles. Character moulded in such a pattern is strong, decent and responsible; and it requires but little governing through the legal devices of government. Such character commands and deserves freedom. It ministers to the weak, shares the blessings of God. At least that is its basic inclination.

Secondary only to this fundamental goal is the need to equip the members of each new generation with capabilities for economic self-reliance. No man can be dependent and independent at the same time. The poet wrote: "Hail, independence, hail! Heaven's next best gift. . . to that of life and an immortal soul." The capacity of self-reliance, which permits independence, is education's "next best gift" to youth.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

Adlai And The Primaries
Friends of Mr. Adlai E. Stevenson here report the jolly little fellow in a delectable state of indecision about whether or not to enter the Democratic presidential primaries to be held in about eighteen states beginning in March and running through the summer. The decision has to be made within the next few days and there are distinctly "two schools of thought"—not to say three.

At the moment Mr. Stevenson is unable to tell to which he belongs. There is a certain danger in whatever he decides and his counselors and advisers are widely divided about the situation. For example, one group, headed by his campaign manager, Mr. James E. Finnegan, strongly urges him not to take the risk involved. They point out that the New Hampshire primaries, held early in March and four years ago were carried by Senator Estes Kefauver, who is certain to run in them again and who is one of several aspirants whose hope is to prevent Mr. Stevenson from being nominated on the first ballot.

Included among these is Governor Harriman of New York Gov. "Soapy" Williams, of Michigan, and one or two others. The most formidable of them is Governor Harriman, who has announced that he will not personally enter any of the primaries but whose experienced political supporters are eagerly hoping Mr. Stevenson will enter some states where a reverse almost certainly will be encountered.

This would take a good deal of wind out of his campaign and his managers say it is a completely unnecessary risk for a man with nearly enough delegate votes to nominate him on the first ballot. Already, say his advisers, he is in sight of his goal. To risk destroying his position as the outstanding candidate is foolish. "Stay out," urge the practical politicians around him. "Let the other fellow do it. Let them win by default. Unless you give them a chance to beat you the carrying of these primaries will mean nothing." Inasmuch as Governor Harriman, his strongest opponent, will not enter any primary, there seems considerable soundness in this view.

However, there are some things that rather detract from it. One is that Mr. Stevenson already has publicly announced that he will enter the Minnesota primaries, where he has the support of the redoubtable Senator Hubert Humphrey and his organization. Privately, he also has indicated that he will actively participate in both the California and Oregon primaries. In these, too, he incurs no great risk although some California Democrats recently in Washington feel that his enthusiastic endorsement

THE AMERICAN WAY

FREE SPEECH

Recently National Newspaper Week was observed throughout the nation. Editors from coast to coast editorialized on the rights of Americans to know how our American newspapers have fought and continue to fight to guard that precious right.

Another of our cherished heritages is free speech. Now, just exactly what is meant by free speech? Is it simply the right to "sound off" our individual opinions or does it go a bit deeper than that?

Every right that an individual enjoys involves a duty. If that duty is not performed, the right is by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and her two sons, James and Franklin, Jr. is not to be counted among his assets. In fact, except for the cleverly gerrymandered little district out there now represented in the House by son James, it is not easy to think of any other spot where the Roosevelt family would help a candidate very much.

Added to the "school of thought" which wants the slightly bewildered Adlai to keep out of all the primaries, and the other which wants him to go in only those where victory is practically assured, there is the third, which urges him to enter even those states where the result might be uncertain or unfavorable, such, for example, as Maryland. The argument for entering these states is that the decision would inject into the Stevenson campaign the color and courage which it now seems so utterly to lack. His recent advocacy of "moderation" in the character of his campaign brought no favoring response either from his professed friends among the labor bosses, from Governor Harriman, his most conspicuous opponent, or from ex-President Truman, widely known as "Give 'em Hell Harry."

Undoubtedly, "moderation" is the prevalent mood of the country and makes sense. But it just isn't what the practical fellows who are in control of the Democratic party want. It is not the road they want to travel and not the way they think they can win. Their victories since 1936 have not been "moderate" victories, and their candidates have shown slight regard for moderation. Quite the contrary. An announcement as to his intentions concerning the primaries cannot be indefinitely postponed by Mr. Stevenson. He has got to decide pretty soon. An interesting thing about Mr. Stevenson at this time is that he seems to have more disparages among the Democratic politicians than he has among Republicans.

We listen to a speech—an oration which stirs us to the very core. We give free speech a hearing. But there is where free thinking must come into play. Emotion must not eventually lost. To continue to enjoy the right of free speech involves the duty of giving free hearing to the other fellow when he exercises his prerogative of free speech. Free speech is linked irrevocably to free hearing because both represent the determination of a free people to hear both sides of any question pertinent to their welfare, so that they can weigh the arguments and arrive at an intelligent decision regarding it.

This brings us to still another freedom. Free speech and free hearing have a senior partner—"free thinking." This senior partner is the most vital of the partnership. Without free thinking, free speech and hearing are futile, as useless as bathing suits for Eskimos or fur coats for residents of the Tropics. Free speech and hearing in themselves are of no value if minds are closed; if preconceived ideas preclude open minds; if free thinking does not prevail.

In its broader sense and real significance—something we are prone to overlook—free speech not only implies the right to speak one's mind but to have one's speech fall on ears and minds willing to listen honestly and unselfishly.

Free thinking is not easy—it is oftentimes hard work. All too often emotions are allowed to dictate our decisions. How many times do we permit ourselves to be influenced by transitory sympathy for an individual or group to the utter disregard of what will be best for the most people for the greatest length of time?

The unfortunate peoples in dictator-ridden countries would give their very souls to have or to regain the right of free speech. Too late they realize they have been tricked by glib orators making promises impossible of accomplishment. They were so dazzled by eloquence that they failed to think things through, and thereby gave up their freedom. We must not let such a catastrophe happen to us here in America.

We listen to a speech—an oration which stirs us to the very core. We give free speech a hearing. But there is where free thinking must come into play. Emotion must not or permitted to banish reason. It on the next day we can remember what the speech was about; if we can recall the salient points thereof, it was an excellent speech. If in retrospect, we can remember the oration piece by piece, with the spell of the orator no longer upon us, it was a most excellent speech. If on the other hand, we can remember a little of it, free thinking demands that we classify the speaker as a shallow, superficial "wind-bag," and entirely dismiss from our minds any effect which his speech temporarily may have had upon us.

Wartime, of course, calls for many sacrifices—it brings with it, among other things, a curtailment of free speech. We must reasonably and patriotically exercise our right to free speech when we are grappling with a foreign enemy. However, even during wartime, we still have the right to discuss and criticize the methods which the Government uses in prosecuting the war—but we must not oppose its war objectives, nor divulge information that might be helpful to the enemy.

Yes! By all means we must resist every attempt to infringe on our right to free speech, free hearing and free thinking; we must fight to the last ditch every attack on our free press, free radio, free television, free churches, free schools and free motion pictures and stage, except where censorship or restriction is necessary during war for our national safety.

We must maintain open ears and open minds; we must manifest a willingness, yes, even an eagerness to hear both sides of every question. That ever has been the "American Way"—pray God it always will continue to be.

Southern Is Winner Over Beall 69-40

Southern High School Highlanders won their second game of the season over Beall High school of Frostburg Tuesday afternoon on the local court. The final score was 69 to 40.

The outcome was never in doubt after the first few minutes of play. Beall scored first, but Southern soon went ahead 3 to 2, and were never headed. Southern led 16 to 10 at the quarter, 32 to 16 at the half and then put on the pressure to increase the lead 51 to 25 at the end of the third period.

The Highlanders were playing without the services of Toby Colaw, who suffered a sprained ankle in a practice session. Ruff was high scorer with 16 points on seven field goals and two fouls, while Sanders was next high with 11 points on six field goals and two fouls. Other scoring: Bradshaw, 11 points on five field goals and one foul; Garrett 2, Knotts 8, Glaze 6, Fred Colaw 11 and Dilgard 1.

Hard Work Pays Off

Hard work, good management and wise use of labor saving machinery have paid off for Ross and Opal Crowe. The Crowes operate a 25-cow commercial dairy herd near Oakland.

In the nine years that the Crowes have lived on their 101 acre farm which Ross bought while serving in the armed services in India during World War II, they have two healthy children. They are Connie Lee, age 8; and John Robert, age 6. Starting from nothing, they now have 25 good dairy cows and 12 heifer replacements sired by arti-cial breeding. They also own a forage harvester, two tractors, a hay drier, a hay and grain elevator, barn ventilating fans, a combine and many other pieces of labor saving equipment. Ross does some custom work for neighboring farmers. He also rents a 134 acre farm.

The Crowes proudly point out from records in their Dairy Herd Improvement Association record book that their last year's herd average was 10,040 pounds of milk and 465 pounds of butter fat. This record, Crowe points out, is quite a difference from the original herd average of 6,000 pounds of milk and 265 pounds of butter fat nine years ago. He soon learned to cull out the poor producers. His top cow is producing at the rate of 15,000 pounds of milk annually. Crowe credits the wise use of artificial breeding and D. H. I. A. records for the increase in his herd's production.

Ross Crowe is a director in the Garrett County Farm Bureau and in the D. H. I. A. and his wife is president of the local Homemakers club and vice president of the Associated Women of the Farm Bureau. The Crowes were Garrett County's Champion Farm Family in the 1952 Farming for Better Living contest.

This is Garrett county's third regional winner. Mr. and Mrs. Clark Schlossnagle and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bittinger were former regional winners and the Schlossnagles were named sweepstakes winner several years ago.

Given a few breaks, 1956 will top 1955 by a small margin as the best business year in history, it was indicated.

Analysis Of Budget

upkeep of buildings, repair of equipment, traveling expenses.

6. Transportation, including all school bus contract and insurance.
7. Other services, including pupil personnel worker, health services, school lunches, adult education, etc.

8. Fixed charges, including insurance on buildings, workmen's compensation, employees' retirement, contingencies.

9. Payments to adjoining units, including money going to Allegany county and West Virginia for pupils attending school in those areas who live in Garrett county.

In addition to the 75-cent levy for current expenses, the county must also levy 5 cents in order to share in the incentive fund. This money is used to amortize part of the indebtedness for the two high schools.

A new item appearing in the budget this year is for capital outlay charges for all county children attending school in Allegany county.

These tuition charges were more than doubled over those of last year by a State department law. There are 251 Garrett county children in Allegany county schools, necessitating an outlay of $10,180.

In addition the School Board has made requests for a new furnace at Red House, $2,500; $11,000 for renovation and repair of Friendsville and Center street buildings; a new roof in each case being a necessity; and $3,500 for replacement of classroom furniture.

The School Board also asked the Commissioners to guarantee from the cigarette tax at least $150 above the minimum salary for all teachers. Mr. Hawkins said this would involve only a small sum and was considered of vital importance by the school board. The board felt it necessary to pay all teachers a fixed salary, eliminating uncertainty of bonus payments as a means of providing extra pay.

Tax Rate For Schools Favorable
Considering all requests for the school program the tax rate for schools appears favorable, showing no increase in the total levy for schools over the previous year. Other Matters Approved

Other matters disposed of at the Board meeting:

Approval of Miss JoAnne Didawik as primary teacher in the Friendsville school beginning January 3.

Approval to close all schools at 1 p. m. Wednesday, January 18, to provide a county teachers' meeting from 2 to 5 that day.

Approval of financial statement

Average Farm Costs About Same As 1954

Farm costs, in general, have changed very little during 1955. Earl L. Park, agricultural statistician for the Maryland Department of Crop Reporting Service, reported.

There have been price and cost changes, Park said, but the overall average remains about the same as last year. Cost for items produced on the farm, such as seed, feed, feeder live stock and breeding stock have dropped but wage rates, taxes and machinery have gone up.

Hourly farm wage rates in Maryland rose about six per cent over last year, Park said. On October 1, 1951, the hourly rate in the state was 85 cents compared to 93 cents an hour on the same date this year. The daily rate went from $6.80 in 1954 to $13.90 in 1955.

Maryland farm wages are slightly above the national average which was 75 cents in 1954 and 77 cents in 1955, Park said. U. S. farmers paying on a daily basis paid $5.70 this year compared with $5.60 in 1954. Some farmers also furnish room and board, but these figures do not include this item, Park explained.

The mid-September index of prices paid for farm machinery was one per cent higher over 1954 and interest rates on non-real estate also rose. Taxes went up, too, he added—about five per cent, but interest rates on farm real estate mortgages remained relatively steady.

More money was spent on fertilizers this year because more was used, but the price per ton declined, and feed prices declined about 10 per cent from a year ago, Park said.

Gazing into the crystal ball, Park said he expects feed and seed prices to be somewhat lower in 1956. Fertilizers, farm supplies and live stock for feeding and replacement should remain fairly stable. Farm wage rates, interest rates, building materials, farm machinery, motor supplies and motor vehicles will be slightly higher in 1956, he said, and property taxes may be up about five per cent.

concerning expenditure of $30,000 for addition to the Accident school. Approved advertising for bids for two room addition to the Red House school.

Adjusted pay for several janitors who were being paid below scale. Approved soliciting bids from all county car dealers for bus attachment for all school buses.

Approved transfer of bus owned by Charles Harvey to his son, Clyde Harvey.

Approved as substitute bus drivers Joseph Turner and Edward J. Smith.

At the conclusion of the morning session board members were guests of Kenneth Johns, principal, for lunch in Southern High school cafeteria. All members were present including Ross Speicher, president; C. O. Bender, vice-president; and Dr. Ralph Calandrella, associate member.

Finzel Has Highest Attendance Rating

Finzel, one-teacher school with 28 pupils belonging, had the highest percentage of attendance for November with 98.6, it was revealed by John L. Fitzwater, supervisor of pupil personnel. Swan Meadow, only other one-teacher school, had 95.1.

Bittinger, one of eight two-teacher schools, with an enrollment of 31, and Swanton, with 45 pupils, had the highest percentage in their group with 96.7 each.

Loch Lynn led the nine graded schools with 95.3, with Accident second with 95.1. Souther, with 1160 enrolled, had 94.4 percent, while Northern, with 792 enrolled, had 94.1.

Total enrollment for the month was 4,652 students.

To Require Truck Drivers to Stop At Big Savage Mt.

State Police Superintendent Elmer F. Munshower sent out word this week that truck drivers will be required to stop before proceeding in low gear down the east slope of Big Savage Mountain where a runaway truck caused five deaths recently.

Munshower declared that the State Roads commission was going to erect signs requiring that such vehicles stop at the crest and descend the east slope in a low gear. He added that it was the intention of the department to start immediate prosecution of those drivers who fail to obey the instructions set forth on the signs.

He also said it was his intention to increase the number of personnel normally assigned the Cumberland barracks in order to accomplish this.

It Runs Through My Mind

BY POLLY J. HANST

The Christmas List

I started to jot down the items I wanted to write about this week on what I thought was scrap paper. When I turned it over I discovered its value for it contained the Christmas list of our daughter.

It leaves no cause to wonder what to give this one. The items number to 11 followed by sketches. Under item 9 is "any kind of clothes," but from her drawings she means ALL kinds of clothes from billowy skirts to the pencil slim sweaters, socks, blouses. Nothing was forgotten.

But the thing that makes me smile and feel sad at the same time is item No. 1. (stuffed animal) and 11 (compact). The latter added later in ink.

Her last fling at being a child, her first fling at being a young lady. You know the age. It would have to be thirteen!

Interesting Women

We have our share of interesting people in our county who find enjoyment in self-expression.

Three I want to comment on.

Elizabeth Randol

We read last week about Elizabeth Randol appearing on a program in Atlantic City but I doubt if any of us had any idea of the importance of this meeting or her role.

I couldn't offer much sympathy when she confessed before leaving that she was scared to death. That as I couldn't until I learned it was THAT MEETING. That meeting being the one attended by college presidents, deans of agriculture and Home Economics, extension heads and top people in education numbering close to 1,000.

Elizabeth was on a panel and the only secondary school teacher on the convention program. She was the down to earth, grass roots person giving the practical side of how the school can help build stronger family life. Requests for her talk have come from many sections of the country and Canada.

She came back feeling that Garrett has progressive schools and is alert to the needs of students in present day life.

Mrs. Randol herself is a progressive person in her teaching. She worked in cooperation with the senior care class to give the boys a unit in homemaking. Learning to bathe the baby, cook simple meals, operate equipment and most of all developing good attitudes toward home life. Her nursery school for training girls in child care and development is still a new idea in most schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Randol live with her mother, Mrs. H. V. Leighton, in Loch Lynn where Mr. Randol continues to pour out the inventions he has over 100 patents, some very important ones. Needless to say Mrs. Randol teaches because she likes it.

Marion Smith

Another interesting woman in our town, fairly new, having lived here a short time, is Mrs. Stanley P. Smith. The Smiths settled in Oakland (if you can call travelling here and there settled) after spending summers at the lake.

Mrs. Smith, who attended Mills college, Calif., has been interested in drama since school days. You may remember she helped out in the summer playhouse.

Now she appears on the Oakland hour of WKYR each week. The amount of time she has varies and modestly she admits that the station is doing her a favor to allow her the time.

"It's an opportunity for self expression and sharing," she says. No doubt she also finds challenge in it which is a necessary part of enriched living for women who have done things.

Since starting the program she has given Rostand's 6-act play "L'Agoln," two acts at a time. She has reviewed books that have been a special display at the library. This week she is planning a portion of Dickens' "Christmas Carol."

The Friday before Christmas she will read Peter Marshall's sermon, "Let's Keep Christmas."

When Mrs. Smith did her philosophy report in A. A. U. W. we felt we had listened to an outstanding lecturer. She is a learned and talented person. Her family consists of an international lawyer husband and two college sons.

Elizabeth Patton

I have mentioned this talented artist before and many people have enjoyed her paintings and her one-man show which was an exhibit here last summer.

She has been busy this winter exhibiting in art shows in Miami where she is getting mentioned in the Miami papers.

Thought you might enjoy this little squib by a columnist down there.

"One colorful little watercolor study which received merely an honorable mention, Elizabeth Patton's 'Cabbage Patch,' we consider the choice picture of the show."

A seventeen year old Negro girl was crowned "Miss SCU of 1955" at Iowa State university after her selection by a majority of male students.

With The Guard

Much interest is being shown by young men of the Kitzmiller area in joining the local National Guard Unit, Co. "C," Pfc. Dan Tasker, who lives in the Kitzmiller area and who has been doing a fine job in the unit since his enlistment in October of 1951, brought with him to guard meeting last week four young men who wanted to enlist. These men were interviewed and given papers which they were to have signed by an examining physician, and in the case of those who were between 17 and 18 years old, papers which were to be signed by the parents giving their permission for the man to enlist. If these men bring their papers back this week, signed and in order, they will immediately begin to draw pay for all drills attended. A Guardsman draws the same rate of pay for a two-hour drill period as a Regular Army man draws for a full 21-hour day. A Pvt.-1 with no previous service can draw two dollars and fifty cents for a two hour drill and receive an automatic pay increase after four months' service.

During last week's drill the men learned about some of the Engineer hand tools which are part of the unit's equipment. The instructors for these classes were Sergeant Doyle Biser and Sergeant Richard Criss.

More than fifty percent of today's National Guard officers started their military service as privates.

Allegany Finally Rallies To Win Against Southern

Southern Held 35-24 Advantage At One Stage—
Battle All The Way

Allegany High school rallied for 30 points in the third quarter after trailing Southern High school much of the first half, and finally won the encounter last Friday evening on the Campers' court in Cumberland. The final score was 82 to 73.

A nip and tuck initial period saw the score change hands seven times before Allen Knotts' field goal put Southern ahead 16 to 15 as the stanza ended. The Highlanders built their score to 35-24 in the second period for their largest margin before Allegany pulled up to a 37-32 halftime count on goals by Lease, Breedlove and Bruce.

Carl Brown's two goals early in the third stanza pulled the Allegany boys within two points at 49-47. After John Ruff converted twice for Southern, Breedlove connected from under the hoop and tallied a pair of fouls to know the count.

Goals by Bruce and Breedlove and a foul by Bruce put Allegany ahead to stay. The Campers led 62 to 50 at the close of the third quarter. In the final quarter Southern outscored Allegany 23 to 20 but it was not enough to overcome the 12-point lead.

The victory enabled rookie coach Gene Shaw of Allegany to begin his career with a win, and the loss was the first for Southern, the locals having won their opening game at Terra Alta the week previous.

Four Southern Players scored 10 or more points, and the six who saw service, were scrapping at all times. Sanders led the Southern

Husband, Ailing Wife Delay Trip To Faith Healer

Daniel Counterman has announced that he and his crippled wife had decided to return to their home at Easton, Pa.

Counterman was reached by telephone at Aurora, W. Va., where he and his wife had spent last Friday night in a motel. They started out November 30 in an effort to reach the Philippine Islands for a mass meeting planned by Oklahoma evangelist Oral Roberts.

Mrs. Counterman travels in a wheelchair and the couple were hitchhiking through Garrett county last week when they had to come to Oakland to get some spokes repaired on the wheel chair, at the Western Auto Associate store.

According to the story Mrs. Counterman, 22, has been confined to a wheelchair since childhood as the result of a polio attack. She and her husband believe Roberts' preachings will help her walk again.

The couple decided to return home after being informed that Roberts does not want them to go to the Philippines. The evangelist said he would conduct meetings next spring in San Diego, Calif., and Fayetteville, S. C. He suggested that Mrs. Counterman see him then.

The evangelist had said the trip to the Philippines would be too rigorous for the invalid woman.

Uniform State Assessments Plan Receives Backing

A subcommittee of the Legislative Council has called for uniform property assessments throughout Maryland to bring into balance state aid for public schools.

It also recommended that the State reduce slightly the percentage of income tax it now returns to political subdivisions in order to give the State more money for its own fiscal operations.

The recommendations were contained in a report to the council by the subcommittee on state and local fiscal relationships headed by Sen. William S. James (D-Harford).

Noting that aid to schools is based on property assessments which vary from 25 to 60 percent of full cash value in political subdivisions, the subcommittee said: "So long as this situation exists, our state educational program will work inequities by favoring those jurisdictions which undervalue their property for tax purposes against those which assume their full responsibilities by making fair and reasonable assessments."

"Although the dollar volume of state aid so affected is not large, the principle of equality is highly important and it is being flouted at the present time."

State aid to Baltimore City and the counties totaled $34,004,969 last year, with $28,409,054 going to the counties in sharply varying amounts.

The subcommittee said the original purpose of state school aid laws was to provide a balance between populous areas where the taxable wealth is large "against the moral right of each student to receive equal educational advantages in areas where the population and taxable wealth are small."

"Unless assessments are uniform throughout the state, the program will operate unfairly," it said.

The subcommittee recommended that this uniformity be achieved through "strong administrative action" of the State Tax Commission. "This can be done in the form of expanded supervision of local assessors by skilled supervisory personnel" of the state commission, the report said.

U. N. political committee endorsed proposal to give President Eisenhower's open sky inspection program first consideration in attempts to break disarmament deadlock.

Senate Cloakroom

By J. GLENN BEALL
United States Senator from Maryland

I'd like to tell a little Christmas story this week. And then, since the subject of gifts has become such an important part of the annual holiday season, I will tell you what remembrance I myself would like most to receive.

First, though, the story: Several days ago the mother of a three-year-old girl was setting up a small Nativity scene in their home in northeast Baltimore. The strains of yuletide hymns were drifting from a record player.

In the midst of one of the selections, the youngster asked a typically childlike question about a word that had been used—

"What does 'adore' mean?"

Prayers And Gifts

The mother thought a while, and answered with an example, explaining to her baby how the Magi had offered prayers and gifts to the newborn Child they found in Bethlehem.

"I want to adore Jesus, too," said the three-year-old, and she knelt before the manger.

"Dear Jesus," she began solemnly, "please make me a good Mouseketeer."

Then she laid a candy bar next to the miniature crib.

Unfamiliar Term

When I heard of the incident, I had to admit that I was as confused by the term "Mouseketeer" as the little girl had been by the word "adore."

It was explained to me, however, that the name was associated with a popular television show for children, and that the title was a lot more important to youngsters than designations such as Senator or Representative.

Impressed by the tale of the Wise Men, the child had obviously felt that her own adoration should involve one of the best things in her life—her good-standing as a "Mouseketeer."

Christmas Wish

It would probably help all of us during this season if we too, asked The Almighty to make us good at what we are trying to do.

Furthermore, with less than a month before Congress reconvenes, it would be extremely appropriate if present for Americans of all faiths to ask God to help those of us on Capitol Hill during the crucial months ahead.

That's my Christmas wish—that I, along with my colleagues in both political parties, might be remembered in the prayers of those we represent.

We need such aid to be good men and women, good Americans.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Spiker and son were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Rush.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Schroyer, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hummerson, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Selby were Sunday callers in Uniontown.

S-Sgt. Winston Teets, Dayton, O., spent several days last week with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy VanSickle, of Cleveland, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Friend. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Savage and Beverly were Sunday visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Orval Rush spent Monday in Uniontown.

Darrell Williams and Tony Bruno returned to Baltimore after a week's visit with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Williams.

Free Cattle Testing May End Dec. 31

Maryland dairy and beef cattle may be tested without charge for brucellosis through December 31, 1955, reports Dr. Arthur L. Brueckner, director of the Maryland Live Stock Sanitary Service. This applies only to the initial test. Dr. Brueckner said, and does not apply to any re-testing.

After January 1, individual farmers may have to pay for their own testing, according to Dr. Brueckner. "The basis of the 1956 testing program will depend on the availability of funds," he said.

All herds should have been tested by November 1 and all infected animals must be removed from the herd by the end of December. A brucellosis test is necessary before a farmer can sell his milk.

Plan "X" (test and slaughter) must be signed before a test is made. Authorization for the test can come from the Live Stock Sanitary Service Laboratory or from the official state or federal veterinarian in the farmer's area. The farmer's local veterinarian or county agent should be consulted for more information, Dr. Brueckner added.

Congressman DeWitt S. Hyde - 6th District, Maryland

The holiday season is an appropriate period in which to translate slogans into action. I am thinking in particular of the President's recent proclamation setting aside a special day to emphasize safe driving. An accident-free holiday season is the finest gift we can give ourselves.

Unfortunately at this time of the year there is an increase in preventable accidents of all types, not just on our highways but also in the home and at our places of work. Safety engineers can design the safest of Christmas decorations—they can create tools and places to work where hazards are reduced to a minimum, but it takes the human individual to make safety slogans and devices really work.

I hope that everyone in the 6th Maryland District, in Washington, and throughout the world will take advantage of this season to stress accident prevention. Let us determine that no preventable accident will mar our holiday.

Real and ultimate safety on the highways and in our city streets is a goal that requires a three-fold approach. We need modern, safe automobiles that are designed as "safe containers" for the transportation of human beings; we need driver education—not only through high school training programs for youngsters, but also for adult drivers who need to be taught how to use modern vehicles on high speed turnpikes.

School officials in the 6th Maryland district and in Washington and the local automobile dealers who furnish free of charge the automobiles are to be commended for their part in making possible driver-training courses. I think too, that the American Automobile Association deserves a great deal of credit for originating and planning the high school training courses.

In Washington, existing law requires dealers who furnish public schools with training vehicles to pay sales and excise taxes and registration fees. Last session I introduced legislation which would free automobile firms of these costs while the cars are loaned to our local schools. The measure passed the House and was reported favorably by the Senate District Committee. I look for early action by the Senate.

On My Calendar

On Monday, December 19, I plan to attend the 23rd Annual Christmas Luncheon of the Baltimore Association of Commerce in Baltimore. Mrs. Hyde and I will attend the Antique Watch and Clock Collectors' dinner, Tuesday, December 20. I plan to speak to the group on the subject of Immigration. Mrs. Hyde and I also plan to attend the Christmas party of the Montgomery County Real Estate Board in Bethesda on Wednesday, December 21.

Horse Shoe Run

The local P.T.A. held a spelling match at its last regular meeting. The winners were Mrs. Cecil Evans and Mrs. David Teets.

The Farm Women's club had a Christmas party and exchanged gifts Thursday night.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hauser and family Sunday, December 11, were Mr. and Mrs. Loren Lantz and girls.

Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. George Roth were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Snyder and family, of Cresaptown.

The Farmers Wildlife Club will sponsor a Turkey Shoot, Saturday, December 17, at the club's park in Horse Shoe Run, beginning at 12:30 p. m.

The local school will have its Christmas program on Wednesday evening, December 21.

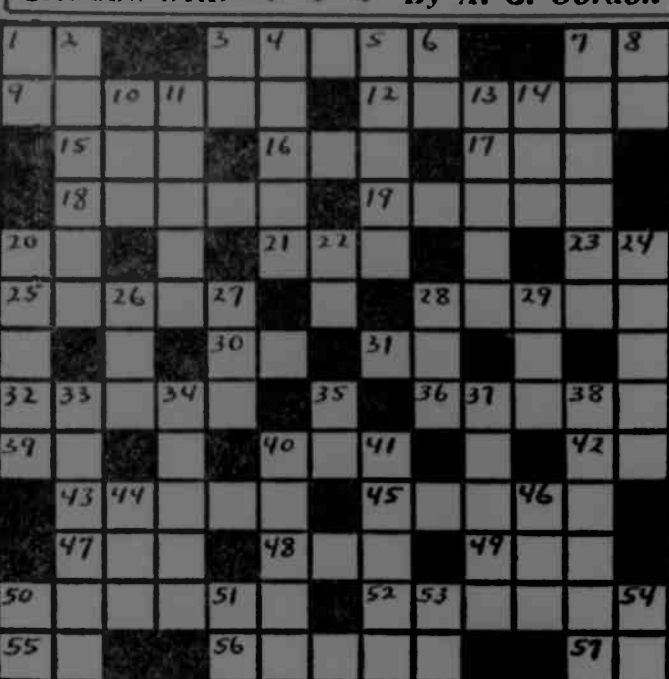

Visiting in the home of Mrs. Nina Schmidt and son last week were her daughter and granddaughters, Justin Schmidt, of the U.S. Army, recently spent a furlough at the home of his mother.

The Texas Methodist church will present its annual Christmas program Saturday night, December 24. The public is invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Lantz and daughters and Mr. and Mrs. Grover Evans and sons were recent shoppers in Uniontown, Pa.

Congressional Viewpoint

Sen. John Marshall Butler

Soviet Road to World Conquest

Like the shot heard around the world, the recent actions of the Russians indicate positively that their campaign for ultimate control of the world advance very successfully, according to plan. While the community of free nations recoils from the mockery of Geneva, the Soviet armada of propagandists and subversive agents rolls on with a pitiful awareness of the part of free peoples, as to the real nature of the menace which would engulf them.

The ominous threat of the international communist conspiracy springs from the declared objectives of its barnstormers—that of global domination and total subversion to its philosophy and its end—the accomplishment of which has followed a definite pattern—a plan, devious in its scope and operation.

First, the overthrow of the Czarist regime in Russia after World War I for the purpose of obtaining a national base for international operations.

Second, in the years prior to World War II, the consolidation of Russia under communist control.

Third, a program of expansion to assure support from surrounding satellite nations.

Fourth, the mastery of Asia by either direct or indirect means—the latter having proved most effective.

Fifth, the mastery of Africa with its vast storehouse of natural resources.

Sixth, the control of Latin America as a prelude to the economic strangulation of the United States and thus the domination of the world.

None of these requires direct military intervention by Russia, on the contrary, results are obtained through the typical Kremlin method of delicate subversion, subtle infiltration, vicious propaganda and speaking diplomacy.

Telegraphing their abiding intention of proceeding through bluff or force, to the final attainment with the explosion of a hydrogen bomb, the Soviets most definitely are the winners, to the point at least, in the long-enduring cold war. With East Germany, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Rumania, Albania, Hungary, Bulgaria, China, Tibet, and the Baltic Countries conquered, with Korea and Indo-China half-conquered, and with unrest agitated in Morocco, Tunisia, Algeria, Libya, France, Italy, West Germany and elsewhere, it must be conceded that the Russians are already within grasp of accomplishing the fourth and fifth phases of their prescribed plan.

As to the sixth step, last summer in a conversation with a United States Senator, the boss of the Soviet Union predicted that the Senator's grandchildren would live to see a Communist America. This remark brings to mind two ageless epigrams—let this be a warning—and, forewarned is to be forearmed.

President Eisenhower laid before Republican congressional leaders a program for the new Congress, based on administration hopes for a balanced budget.

Christmas, 1955

SINCE that wondrous night of long ago, when an angel of the Lord appeared to the startled shepherds tending their flocks, and said, "Fear not, for I bring you good tidings of great joy," Christians have paid homage to Christ, the Son of God, on His natal day. And so, again, as this festive day approaches, let us all pray and give thanks to our Heavenly Father for His great gift to mankind. In our devotions this Christmas, let us thank Him for His blessings upon us and upon our great country. Let us continue to reaffirm our faith in God, and to follow the Golden Rule. Let us pray to Him for Divine Guidance in our daily lives and to give strength and wisdom to our leaders, to further the way towards world peace.

Brucellosis Tests Are Explained

Limited funds are available for testing herds at federal expense that have not been tested in the past five years, it was learned this week. There had been a misunderstanding in county circles, a number of dairymen believing that all testing of herds was free.

Dr. C. A. Turner, federal veterinarian in charge of the State of Maryland, made the announcement that the herd testing at federal expense was only for those not having been tested in the past five years.

Dr. F. D. Custer, local veterinarian, stated that a specific request must be made to the county's accredited veterinarian for this test. The veterinarian then must get an authorization to test the herd and the test must be made within 30 days after authorization.

Dr. Custer said the above procedure was necessary because of the very limited funds available. When these funds are exhausted all cattle owners will be expected to pay for the testing, it was pointed out.

Limited funds also are available to re-test herds that had reactors on the previous test. Authorization for these tests will be made by the laboratory. He said no funds are available for calf-hood vaccination in any herds.

Attend Laboratory Opening on Tuesday

Dr. A. C. Bruckner, state veterinarian, and Dr. Leo Poehna, chief of laboratories, visited the Oakland diagnostic laboratory on Tuesday for the official opening.

Dr. Bruckner expressed approval of the general appearance of the laboratory and the efforts of the County Commissioners and other local persons in getting the building in shape for operation. He stated that some equipment is yet to be received, and will be added as necessary.

The Oakland laboratory is considered equal to the other branch laboratories in the state, this being the sixth one besides the main laboratory at College Park.

A number of visitors came in for the opening, including two high school agriculture classes and their instructors, turkey growers and dairymen.

A European blizzard claimed the lives of ten persons.

A DOUBLE TREAT—Was in store for local youngsters last Saturday afternoon. Not only were hundreds of pounds of candy, fruit, nuts, popcorn and other holiday delicacies distributed under auspices of the Mountain Top Chamber of Commerce, but Santa Claus made his first appearance. Here he is shown immediately following his arrival being interviewed by Newton A. Coplin, president of the Chamber of Commerce. Approximately 2,450 children were present.—Republican Photo.

Democratic Leaders Declare For Mahoney

Some of Garrett county's Democratic leaders have declared their support of George P. Mahoney's candidacy for the Democratic nomination for United States Senate, according to a news release from Mahoney's headquarters in Baltimore.

Among the signers of a joint statement which declared "Mahoney will bring our state back in the fold of the Democratic party, where it belongs," were Mayor Joseph Hinebaugh of Oakland, and Former State Senator Bernard I. Gunder, also of Oakland. In the 1954 gubernatorial primary Gunder was identified with the campaign of Dr. H. C. Byrd, Mahoney's opponent, while Hinebaugh backed Mahoney.

Others who joined in the endorsement, according to the release, are Clarence Spear, of Oakland, chairman of the Democratic State Central committee; Edward Clatterback, Dan Hinebaugh and Wayne DeWitt, Deer Park; Earl Gunder, Elia F. Galletti, Leslie E. Savage and John W. Holman, of Friendsville; George D. Meese, member of the Central committee from Johnson district; Albert Shaffer, Kitzmiller, former Central committeeman; Arthur Humbertson, Mt. Lake Park; and Lawrence Sellers, of Accident, both present members of the Central committee. Asa T. Matthews of Oakland, former Central committeeman, wrote Mahoney assuring him support in the Senate campaign.

Mahoney carried the State's westernmost county in 1954 and also in the 1952 Democratic primary, when he won the party's nomination for the Senate. He lost Garrett in the 1950 gubernatorial primary by a margin of only six votes.

Gas And Oil Bill To Be Questioned

Members of the Legislative Council's committee on preparing suitable gas and oil legislation, received a copy of the bill this week and Allegany county members declared they would try to learn why a common purchaser clause slated to be handled by a separate bill, is included.

Senator Charles M. See, who asked that the common carrier plan be the subject of a separate bill, said he also will investigate to learn why the plan is incorporated in the gas and oil drilling regulation bill.

Delegate Driscoll said the well drilling regulation is item (2) of the Legislative Council's program and that a companion bill, providing that producers of natural gas who own or maintain pipe lines from wells shall be declared common carriers under Public Service regulation, is covered by item 31 (3) of the council's program.

However, when Del. Driscoll studied a draft of the proposed legislation this week it was found that the common purchaser clause was included. It is not to be found in the common carrier proposal.

Senator See said he recommended at meetings of the council subcommittee, that "each bill should stand on its own merits" and that separate bills should be prepared for the drilling regulations and the common carrier plan.

The subcommittee said it is recognized that adequate regulation of gas well drilling is absolutely necessary for the protection of the state and its citizens. Del. Driscoll said the following points listed in the introduction to the gas and oil bill proposal do not include provisions for a common purchaser clause. The points listed are:

Regulation of gas wells by Department of Geology, Mines and Water Resources.

Exemption of gas storage companies from all requirements except obtaining of permits from wells.

Wells to be spaced no nearer than 500 feet to boundaries, except by agreements with adjacent owner, and a less distance on small sized land, with the distance between wells on meeting the boundary distance to be determined by the Department.

Provision for release of all leased land in a pool not receiving royalties after six months.

All gas taken from wells to be metered.

The subcommittee said that in all other respects the bill follows the language of S. R. 219, which became Chapter 613 of the 1955 Acts of the Assembly. This 1955 law had a provision granting the Garrett County Commissioners veto power over any regulations to be effective in that county.

Following a court test of the provision which was held invalid, the entire bill was repealed in 1954. At present regulation is under the water well law.

The disputed clause in the Legislative Council bill, as received, provides that carriers of natural gas shall be common purchasers and must purchase all natural gas in the vicinity of its pipe lines without discrimination. If the common purchaser is also a producer, it is prevented from discrimination in favor of its own production.

Body of Man Found Along Potomac River

The body of a 68-year-old retired coal miner who resided at Potomac Manor in Garrett county, was found along the Potomac River in the Kitzmiller area about noon Sunday.

Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, medical examiner for Garrett county, said the death of Constantine Rad was due to exposure.

The man, who lived alone, was found along the river by Donald Hart and another youth of Kitzmiller who were playing in the area. Hart notified Roy Sowers, constable, who in turn notified the sheriff. Mr. Rad's body was frozen and his clothes were wet when the body was found. He was last seen, according to Sheriff Paul W. Fisher, last Friday night.

Investigating, besides Sheriff Fisher were T. E. Robert D. Henline, of the Maryland State police, Deputy Sheriff James Frantz and Trooper Oliver of the West Virginia State police. There were no signs of bruises on the body, officers stated.

Mr. Rad was born in May, 1887, and had lived at Potomac Manor for the past 12 or 15 years. His wife, Mrs. Anne Philip Jurish Rad, died about two years ago.

The body was taken to the Sharples Funeral home in Blaine, W. Va. Funeral services for Mr. Rad are being conducted at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the Sharples Funeral home in Blaine by Dennis MacPhail, representative of Jehovah's Witnesses. Interment will be in the IOOF cemetery at Elk Garden, W. Va.

Receives Parole From Sentence

Robert Thompson, sentenced to prison for three years in November, 1954, for armed robbery by Chief Judge George Henderson, was paroled during November, it was announced this week by the Department of Parole and Probation.

Thompson was one of 38 persons released.

Thompson was arrested along with Paul Allen Walker, of Boynton, Pa., on a charge of having robbed Arthur Freeman Detrick of $12 at a point near Grantsville.

It was brought out in the testimony at the trial that the two were traveling in an automobile on route in east of Grantsville when they stopped to pick up Detrick. Detrick discovered a gun on the floor of the car as he got in. The pair carried Detrick beyond his destination at Little Crossings but did finally bring him back to that point where they let him out. The pair argued that Detrick was excited and that no armed robbery took place.

The indictment read that Walker and Thompson "deliberately with dangerous and deadly weapon did rob Arthur Freeman Detrick and did violently steal $12."

Thompson is married and the father of two children.

A son was born this morning at the Garrett County Memorial hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Troy R. Guey, Oakland. Mrs. Guey was the former Frances Friend.

The office of Richard L. Davis, clerk of the Circuit court, will be open on Saturday, December 24, until noon, but will be closed on Monday, December 26.

Sentenced to Two Years in House

Jackie Yommer was sentenced to two years in the House of Correction on December 13, for failure to pay $30 per month for the support of his child. Sentence was meted out by Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley in the Garrett County Circuit court.

Yommer pleaded guilty to a charge of bastardy at the September term of court and was given a suspended sentence of two years in the House of Correction at that time, but sentence was suspended upon condition that he pay $30 per month for the support of the child, in addition to hospital and doctor bills.

When it was learned that Yommer had failed to make any payments, State's Attorney S. R. Pagenhardt filed a petition citing contempt of court and he was arrested in Pennsylvania and brought into the circuit court here.

Upon his appearance before the court Yommer declared he had nothing to say, so Judge Fraley ordered that the clerk strike out the suspended sentence in the case and ordered Yommer to be confined in the House of Correction for a period of two years.

Yommer was reported to have had a job in Pennsylvania as a shovel operator with an annual salary in excess of $5,000. Sheriff Paul W. Fisher took him to the House of Correction one day last week.

No Decision On Vote Machines

Lengthy Legal Opinion Filed With Commissioners On Tuesday

A lengthy legal opinion by attorneys to the Board of County Commissioners and the Board of Election Supervisors, W. Dwight Stover and Walter W. Dawson, respectively, has been filed with the Board of County Commissioners.

The opinion again recommends the purchase of 36 Shoup Voting machines since "under the general principle of law and by common recognized practice, unless there is some compelling reason to the contrary, the low bidder is entitled to the award. This is especially true in matter of public interest."

To the knowledge of the two attorneys no compelling reason has been advanced why the low bid should not be accepted and as a result of that the two men reiterated their opinion as to the law in the case.

To Write Attorney General

The Board of County Commissioners took no action at the regular business session on Monday and Tuesday this week. Instead the board asked its attorney, W. Dwight Stover, if he would write to the Attorney General of Maryland for a legal opinion in the case before making a final decision.

The full opinion of Walter W. Dawson and W. Dwight Stover, attorneys, is given in the matter. The Board of County Commissioners and the Board of Supervisors of Elections.

Oakland, Garrett County, Maryland. Dear Sirs:

As attorneys to your respective Boards we have been requested to give you an opinion concerning further proceedings in the purchase of voting machines for Garrett County as provided by law.

The Board of Supervisors of Elections first requested bids for voting machines and bids were submitted by the Automatic Voting Machine Corporation and the Shoup Voting Machine Corporation. That Board then recommended to the Board of County Commissioners the purchase of thirty-six voting machines from the Automatic Voting Machine Corporation. This recommendation was unanimously rejected by the Board of County Commissioners as the bid of "Automatic" was considerably higher in price than the Shoup Voting Machine Corporation. A special meeting was then called for the two Boards, their respective attorneys and clerks. This meeting was called to order by H. D. Swartzentruber, President of the Board of County Commissioners, and it was decided to reject both bids that had been submitted by the voting machine corporations and jointly request new bids for thirty-six machines, the number determined by law.

That's right — you can buy a '56 Buick

This one has moved a lot of folks to change their buying habits. For this strapping sweep of car is a Buick SPECIAL—solid Buick through and through, and sedan-big for six adults.

Yet the dollar difference between this beauty and the well-known smaller cars can be sifted down to a pocketful of pennies. (Actually, this Buick costs less than some models of those very same cars—as the price we show here proves.)

But the difference in brawn and breadth and fun and thrill—that's the clincher for the move to Buick...

Because here, folks find, is so much more sheer automobile for the money—big-car power, big-car ride, big-car performance and big-car room at a small-car price.

It comes from new, record-high power—from a big new 322-cubic-inch V8 engine, the same basic engine that powers the costlier Buicks.

It comes from a new Buick ride—backbone by Buick left, sinewed by stout steel, leveled by all-coil springing, cushioned by triple-oil-volume shock absorbers.

It comes from a new and advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo that brings you brilliant new getaway response and bigger gas mileage in your normal driving range—plus sizzling new full-power safety-surge when you floor the pedal and switch the pitch.

And it comes, of course, from Buick size and solidity and steadiness—and all dressed up in Buick's new sweep-ahead style.

So why not come in and try one on for size?

Drop in this week and borrow a key. What happens from that point on is pure thrill—aided and abetted by low prices that make this the best buy yet.

SEBASTIAN FRANTZ (1732-1805), a native of Germany, was a private in the Albany County, N. Y. militia.

As additional evidence that members of the FRANTZ family were among the early settlers of this country, it should be noted that the first census of the United States, taken in 1790, has listings of BALTZER, GEORGE, GOTTLIER, JACOB, NICHOLAS and PAUL FRANTZ who were residents of Pennsylvania and heads of families at that time. The same census figures for Maryland contain no references to the name of FRANTZ.

The first circuit court in Garrett County convened on May 19, 1873. Included among its grand jurors were JOHN FRANTZ and J. F. FRANTZ.

A treasure trove of antiquities possibly spanning 100 centuries, was being uncovered in Italy.

The progress of Christianity—and our civilization as well—has been accompanied by the far-reaching message of the bells—bells that call the reverent to worship, that herald the approach of a holiday or commemorate a great or blessed event.

But, particularly at Christmastime is the message of the bells most effective. From the echoing ring of the bell in a small mission church to the resounding peal that comes forth from massive cathedral towers, the bells tell of joy and peace and call to the world to come and adore.

Older themselves than the story they tell at Christmas, bells were first used to sound the alarm in fire or tumult. Rich burghers jealously guarded their bells and used them to rally their followers when danger threatened.

Bishop Paulinus of Nola in southern Italy is commonly credited with introducing the first church bells about 431 A. D., when he put up a huge copper kettle on the roof of his church and struck it with a hammer. Before that, a crier had announced services by running through the streets ringing a hand bell.

From Italy, the idea spread to France and thence to England. Not until the 11th Century did bells appear in the towers of German and Swiss churches. Competition among bell casters developed the bells in size, quality of tone and beauty. A founder had to be a metallurgist, designer and musician as well. The race for bigger and better bells went on until a bell was cast in Russia that proved to be too heavy for machinery to lift into place.

Cast in 1773, in Moscow, it is the "Tsar Kolokol." It weighs 180 tons, measures 20 feet in height, 22 feet in diameter and is 23 inches thick. Many costly but futile attempts were made to hoist it into place. China, the mother of many things cast the first great bell in 1408. Weighing 53 tons, it hangs in the Big Bell Temple in Peking. Another large bell, 15 tons, is suspended in the ancient Buddhist temple in Japan. The chiming of St. Michael's in Charleston, S. C., are probably the most traveled bells, having crossed the Atlantic seven times because of ownership changes or to be recast. They last crossed the Atlantic in 1865.

The Spirit of Christmas

Peace on Earth is the seasonal theme. May it have its fruitful beginning in the hearts of each of us this happy Christmas Eve. And may the good will of which the Angels sang at Bethlehem dwell within us not only at Yuletide, but all year long! What we must keep in mind, however, is that the peace

GREEN SUNFISH
(Lepomis cyanellus)

RANGE: Found in almost every State, and plentiful in many waters of Maryland where it is found generally along with the bluegill and other sunfishes; many anglers catch them at Loch Raven and other similar Maryland waters and mistake them for bluegills.

DESCRIPTION: Is similar to the common sunfish or pumpkin seed, but has a much larger mouth than that species and the bluegill; average length around 5 to 6 inches. Rather a dark body with tiny green specks; dark blotch on dorsal and anal fins; white or orange edge on fins; red eye.

BREEDING: Spawning habits somewhat similar to those of other sunfishes; inclined to build nests and good will of the Christmas season is not a one-way blessing.

Old Scrooge, in the version of Dickens' "Christmas Carol," finally found his Christmas happiness in spreading cheer and good-will about him. Through all the years in which he had scoffed and railed at those who sought to find the joy and peace of Christmas, he was shut out from the happiness all around him.

What here applies to individuals is equally applicable in increased measure to society in all its social or political divisions. There would be no problem of world peace, no internal strife within nations or within families or other human organizations, if Old Scrooge's lesson were taken to heart and remembered 365 days of each year. Taken to heart—not so much by the leaders of these groups, but by the people, the individuals who make up those nations or groups, and whose concerted opinions invariably make themselves felt.

To me the great blessing of Christmas is that it prompts us, if only for a few days or a few weeks, to look within ourselves and about us, and to be reminded of the benefits we enjoy, and the responsibilities they entail to those less well situated than ourselves.

To me the great lesson of Christmas is that we receive the good things of the spirit in proportion as we contribute—that we receive the Christmas boon of peace and good-will only to the extent that we strive to spread those blessings by understanding and helpfulness.

To me the great challenge of Christmas is to keep its spirit alive and vibrant, long after the holly and mistletoe have been discarded and we are once again engulfed in the problems and anxieties of the New Year.

Only will true peace of mind be achieved by us as individuals and, ultimately will peace come to the world, when that spirit of good-will which was proclaimed to the shepherds nearly two thousand years ago becomes our rule of life rather than merely a yearly interval of good fellowship to be enjoyed to the fullest for a brief period and then forgotten.

Homer Rodcheaver, 75, hymn writer who traveled sawdust trail with Billy Sunday years ago, died at Warsaw, Ind. He was a native of Preston county.

BY GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College

Dionenes said that the foundation of every nation is the education of its youth. Any observing person can see the evidence on all sides that a nation's strength and its destiny are dependent upon the intellectual capacity (and Christian stature) of its people—in other words, the quantity and quality of education throughout its population. For these reasons every American citizen, young and old, has a direct stake in the health and capacity of our schools and colleges.

Quite often the question has been asked by people with a deep sense of citizenship responsibility: "What should I do to help in the education problem?" And my answer has been something like this:

1. First of all, be sure you know that the primary purpose of American education should be the preparation of our youth for citizenship in our own Republic. Whatever loftier goals may be set by education and the individual himself are purely academic unless the free way of life in our Republic, which now is in jeopardy, is continued. It will continue to be in jeopardy until every child in America is receiving sound citizenship education as a matter of course.

2. Work with other citizens and public school officials toward getting a program of American citizenship education in your schools; and the appointment of teachers who can teach such courses with devotion and enthusiasm. In spite of whatever vast armament strength the U.S.A. may be able to mobilize, the strongest bulwark against those nations who wish to conquer us is an informed citizenry—a population whose members, young and old, understand the spiritual and material advantages of our great nation in comparison with all other nations of the world.

3. Mobilize active support for your educational institutions, including the colleges as well as public schools; and help make the teaching profession attractive to exceptionally capable people. Mark Twain's comment about everybody talking about the weather and nobody doing anything about it is quite true of education; but there has been a great deal more talk than intelligent, dedicated action.

A number of parents have told me they feel rather distantly removed from the institutions of education so far as the academic phase is concerned. These parents are aware of their children's social and perhaps sports activities in connection with schooling. Also they are aware of and sometimes assist in some forms of school homework, and they are interested in the progress of the child as reflected on his report cards. But comparatively few of these parents can claim a personal acquaintanceship with the teachers and school administrators, and few of them know intimately the contents of the daily fare of education given their children. Yet this is, I feel, a vital part of parental responsibility.

THE AMERICAN WAY

By George Peck, Chairman of the Board of the National Labor-Management Foundation and Executive Editor of its official publication, PARTNERS

CAPITALISM—NATURE'S LAW
A competent and skillful dentist doesn't always yank the aching tooth. More often he finds a small spot of decay and proceeds to fill the tooth—a tooth that has given good service over a period of years and which with this minor repair will continue to render good service for many more years.

The communists, the socialists, the planned economists call the same when you pierce their hides, maintaining that Capitalism is decadent, demand that it be yanked out of the American economy. They point to a minor flaw in the very system that has made this country a stand-out in the parade of nations. It does not occur to them that as with the slightly defective tooth, only a bit of filling is necessary.

Nature developed the Capitalist System. Man's predominant urge is to better his lot. Capitalism is the only system by means of which he can realize his ambitions. It is the only economic system yet devised under which the individual who works harder and better can forge ahead of his fellows who work not so hard and so well.

Of course, the anti-Capitalists do not agree that anyone should progress ahead of his fellows. They are so wrong their reasoning is contrary to nature's law. History proves that when men live under some collectivist system, where individual thrift and initiative is unrewarded, there always has been found a deplorably low standard of living and culture.

America has tried her experiments with communistic or socialistic schemes. The early Puritans tried one—there was the Jamestown Plan—the Shakers, Amana and many others. They all failed and why? Simply because the honey bees in the hive eventually objected to the drones participating to an equal degree with them.

Man does not want to be on an equal basis with all his fellows. Only the weak who cannot or will not pull their weight in the boat are content with equal sharing of the wealth. Thus under communism, or socialism, sooner or later, but inevitably, the real workers rebel against giving part of their well-earned gains to those who shirk their responsibilities and the promised idealistic Utopia collapses like a hollow egg-shell.

Nature law simply asserts itself. False economies, like false teeth, cannot do the job as well as an economy which functions along natural lines, permitting man to produce and keep for himself most of what he produces. Many a tooth has been extracted on suspicion that it was beyond repair and endangering health, only for the patient to find his health no better, and that he had sacrificed a tooth in vain. One should be sure the tooth must be pulled before giving it up. By the same token, let's be mighty certain that Capitalism has outlived its usefulness before we discard it.

It was under Capitalism that America achieved prosperity—under Capitalism this nation will go on to greater prosperity. No nation ever has attained real and lasting prosperity except through trade and industry and these can only flourish under Capitalism. All the teachings of history prove that where private property is the most secure and enterprise is the most free, in that place always has been the greatest degree of prosperity.

Call it selfish, if you will, man's greatest urge is the profit motive—it always has been—is now—and always will be. It is biological and will never change permanently.

Man has at times temporarily lost this urge, listened to the visionaries, the theorists and the social experimenters, and relinquished his freedom. Always, there has been a rude awakening—he has found he sold his soul for a mess of pottage.

Capitalism—nature's law—is man's best friend. Its virtues are many and its shortcomings are few. Let's keep it.

Admiral Burke warned of strong Soviet Union seapower which he said was still growing fast.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Too Late To Placate

Whenever it is publicly suggested that their basic political aspiration is to capture and thus gain control of the Government, the Labor bosses of the proposed new amalgamation at once begin to beat their breasts and proclaim the purity of their hearts.

For example, after Senator Goldwater, of Arizona, made that charge several weeks ago the air was full of repudiations and denials. Those who commented on the Goldwater accusations and pointed out the record of the last twenty years to sustain them were alleged to be inspired by anti-labor bias and in the pay of the "interests."

Senator Goldwater is chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee and his statement said the labor bosses, and Governor McKeldin of Maryland.

Now the Goldwater charges have been repeated by an even more important and responsible party figure, Senator William F. Knowland, of California. Senator Knowland is the official Republican

MARYLAND WILDLIFE

CHIPMUNK
(Tamias striatus)

RANGE: Several species found throughout all of Maryland excepting westernmost part; some species also found throughout New Jersey, Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio and part of Pennsylvania.

DESCRIPTION: Length about 9 inches, including tail; well developed cheek pouches which it uses for carrying food; series of black stripes along back, usually 5 in number—3 dark and two buffy; the back is brown or dark gray; the rump is a rich chestnut; throat white.

BREEDING: The young born about 32 days after mating, generally 4 or 5 to a litter, possibly two litters annually.

HABITS: Feeds on plant and animal life including insects, young birds, nuts, vegetables, flower buds; an interesting little animal but can be injurious to gardens and nesting birds; becomes very tame; they hibernate in some sections. Generally range over an area of 4 or 5 acres; like cultivated lands, wood lots, and rocks.

MANAGEMENT: None; they seem to thrive and increase without help; they become a nuisance by destroying gardens and such, when they must be controlled; however they are bright, pretty, attractive little animals, and thus pay back for what little damage they may do.

VALUE: None, except it is a pleasure to see the bright little animals going about their business, moving with great rapidity with their pouches full of roots, nuts or what have you, to be stored in den for future use.

leader in the Senate and repeatedly has been mentioned as a possible Republican presidential candidate if Mr. Eisenhower decides not to run. In a speech on Tuesday in Miami, he said, "They (the CIO and AFL bosses) hope by capturing a great existing party to retain the name, the traditions and the ties and loyalties of generations. There are some in this new labor combine who visualize taking over the whole party, as they have done in the State of Michigan, and making it into the American equivalent of the British Labor party."

"I wonder," continued Senator Knowland, "if free American workmen, many of whom are union members, not by voluntary election but by compulsive economic necessity, will be content to have their collective power placed on the altar of any single political party or any single candidate?"

There are sound reasons for believing that Senator Knowland's question must be answered in the negative. The figures of the 1952 election, along with the 1950 figures of the late Senator Taft's reelection in Ohio, are convincing proof of this. In both of these elections a very large number of union rank and file did not follow their leaders. The real significance of the Knowland-Goldwater statements is that the Republican party leadership seems at last to have recognized that the labor bosses of the new combine are—and have been all the time—securely attached to the Democratic party and that any effort to conciliate these bosses is silly. These speeches make it clear that the Republican organization now knows that the Democrats have conceded all labor-boss demands, and that whatever Democrat may be nominated at San Francisco next year will first have been "cleared" through the labor bosses and stamped as acceptable to them. Not many informed politicians will dispute that. The simple truth is that no candidate for president or vice-president has been nominated in a Democratic convention without the endorsement and consent of the CIO and AFL leaders for years. Nor will any candidate for either place be named in 1956 without that endorsement and consent.

That is exactly why Mr. Stevenson is the "front runner" among Democratic candidates today. His principal backers are Mr. Walter Reuther, of the CIO, and Mr. George Meany, of the AFL. Without them he could not be nominated in 1956. They have been earnestly for him since 1932, when he executed his historic flip-flop on the Taft-Hartley Act. His original position had been that the Taft-Hartley was a good bill but needed certain amendments. It will be recalled that this was precisely the stand taken by Mr. Eisenhower. It then seemed that the Taft-Hartley Act would not be an issue in the campaign. But, under pressure the good Adlai shifted his foot, announced himself for repeal of Taft-Hartley and came to regard it, as did—and do—Messrs. Reuther and Meany, a "slave-labor" law.

It is, of course, true that Gov. Averell Harriman and Senator Estes Kefauver are just as anti-Taft-Hartley as Mr. Stevenson. But the two labor bosses like Mr. Stevenson best and feel more sure of him. The one man now frequently spoken of for the Democratic nomination of whom they do not feel sure at all is Gov. Frank Lausche of Ohio. Governor Lausche, four times elected Governor of Ohio and second question better equipped for the presidency than any other Democratic aspirant, is not liked by the Messrs. Reuther and Meany. In 1930 he helped give them a tremendous trouncing when they ganged up to drive the late Senator Taft "out of public life."

Perhaps they are strong enough to veto his nomination next year. On the other hand, he certainly would come closer to winning than any other Democrat so far mentioned. And these Democrats most awfully want to win next year.

No Decision On

Following this arrangement proposals were sent to the two voting machine corporations requesting bids on thirty-six combination electrically and manually operated machines. Bids were received and again the bid of the Shoup Voting Machine Corporation was lower, however, when the vote of the two Boards was requested three voted "for" and three "against" this machine. Another meeting produced the same results. Therefore, a stalemate has been created which can not long endure if the two Boards meet their responsibility under the law governing the purchase of voting machines before the General Election in 1956.

In a recent opinion of the Attorney General the following statements appear:

"The obvious reason for bid proposals and secret bidding is to prevent any possibility of fraud in the awarding of a contract. If the agency is to bid can properly allow a bidder to change the terms of his bid after all bids have been opened, any advantage that might be obtained through the purchase of property and the awarding of contracts by secret bids would be destroyed."

"To allow a bidder to make a change in any bid after the bids were opened that would in any way affect the price, quoted, would, as stated above, destroy the advantages of secret bidding and not give every bidder a fair and equal chance to obtain the contract."

The applicable law governing the purchase of voting machines follows in part:

Section 92 of Article 33 of the Annotated Code of Maryland (1951 Edition) reads in part as follows: "The Boards of Supervisors of Elections of Baltimore City and of the respective counties shall have power to use voting machines in all elections, general, primary and special, in accordance with the provisions of this Article and under such rules and regulations as said Boards may deem advisable or necessary. The said Boards, with the approval of, and upon such terms as may be agreed to by, the County Commissioners of their respective counties or the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore City, as the case may be, may purchase, rent, lease or otherwise acquire, such number of voting machines as may be required to equip any or all of the polling places in said city or county, as the case may be, and may determine which precincts shall be first equipped therewith."

Section 92, g. of Article 33 of the Annotated Code of Maryland, 1951 Supplement, reads in part as follows: "Beginning with the regular general election in the year 1956 and continuing thereafter, the use of voting machines shall be mandatory in every polling place for every election covered by the provisions of this article. The boards of supervisors of elections and the boards of county commissioners or county councils, including the mayor and city council of Baltimore, in the several political subdivisions shall use the powers conferred upon them by this article, for the acquisition of voting machines prior to the regular election in the year 1956 and shall acquire or have available for use the necessary number of voting machines for use at said general election and at all subsequent primary, general and special elections therein. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to take away from any of the said political subdivisions the powers heretofore conferred for the acquisition and use of voting machines therein, and nothing in this subsection shall be construed to repeal or impair the provisions heretofore enacted for the use of the so-called ballot system in the event of emergency or other unusual circumstances."

In our opinion it would serve no useful purpose to rehearse the details of the numerous meetings and conferences of the two Boards. It is obvious, however, that if the provisions of the law are to be carried out then it is necessary that direct and positive action be taken for the purchase of voting machines. Under the law as passed by the General Assembly in 1955, it is mandatory that voting machines be provided and both Boards, under the law, are to use the powers granted to them by the prevailing statutes.

As a practical measure it occurs to us that both Boards should meet, and following the usual and prescribed methods of conducting bids, accept the lower bid and purchase the machines. It is apparent, however, that the two Boards, acting jointly, are not able to agree. This being the case, it is obvious that acting under the powers granted to the respective Boards under the law, that separate action will be necessary in order to carry out the legal requirements.

Both Boards have certain legal and moral obligations to perform. It is our opinion that the Board of Supervisors of Elections can not purchase voting machines without approval of, and upon such terms as may be agreed to by, the County Commissioners.

Bids have been submitted by the only two manufacturers of voting machines; number of machines required has been determined, price of thirty-six machines is known, terms of purchase are clear, and since both machines have been fully demonstrated it is our opinion that it is the duty of the Board of County Commissioners to determine what will be approved and upon what terms the purchase is to be made. This should be done at a regular meeting of the Board and the action taken should be sent in writing to the Board of Supervisors of Elections to further consider the matter and after so doing report its action to the Board of County Commissioners.

It must be remembered that the Board of County Commissioners must provide by law such sums of money as may be required for the purchase of the machines, pay all interest charges, pay for the maintenance of the machines and provide for such other expenses as may be necessary. The law, in this case, the Board of County Commissioners has more than a passive duty in the matter.

In a previous opinion we advised both Boards:

"The system of competitive bidding is practiced for two reasons: by giving the opportunity to all who produce the same or similar products to bid on the items to be purchased; and, secondly, by giving the purchaser the opportunity of obtaining the benefit of the best price on the items to be purchased."

Under the general principle of law, and by common recognized practice, unless there is some compelling reason to the contrary, the low bidder is entitled to the award. This is especially true in matters of public interest.

To our knowledge no compelling reasons have been advanced why the low bid should not be accepted and therefore we reiterate our opinion as to the law in the instant case.

Respectfully submitted,

Walter W. Dawson
W. Dwight Stover

With Proper Care,
Poinsettia Plant
Will Bloom Again

That popular Christmas plant, the poinsettia, need not be discarded when the holiday is over. The right care can keep it in condition for blooming again next year.

After the leaves fall, put the plant in a cool place—40 to 50 degrees—and water sparingly. About May 1, cut the plant back quite heavily, to remove excess wood and make it more shapely. Shake off the old soil and repot in a mixture of three parts garden loam, one part well-rotted manure and one part leafmold. Use a pot just large enough to hold the mass of roots without crowding and still provide good drainage. Water enough to keep the soil from drying out.

In about another month, when weather is warm, set the potted plant outdoors, submerging the pot in the soil at ground level or a little below. Put it in full sunshine unless the weather is very hot. In that case, give it light shade. When nights cool in the fall, put it in a window where there is good light and air and where temperature is about 60 to 68 degrees, but with no draft. Water regularly so the soil never dries out and use a little liquid fertilizer every week.

Long nights, uninterrupted by even a shaft of artificial light, are needed to bring the poinsettia into flower.

DEER PARK

To Present Play

A pageant "Christmas Is A Miracle" will be presented at the Methodist church in Deer Park on Christmas Eve, December 24, at 8 o'clock.

The play is a story of a little country church whose people have long ago moved on to the large city churches, but whose caretaker keeps the church ready in case someone will come in.

During the play the church bell will ring twice, also the bell will be rung during practice on Thursday and Friday nights. At one time the ringing of the church bell was a fire alarm here, although the town now has a fire siren which is used in case of actual fire.

It Runs Through My Mind

BY POLLY J. HANST

Sure, It's A Vacation!

The college boys with their jaunty carefree air were in the spirit of reunion and let-down. Their conversation was on "their" vacation.

"It's not much of a vacation for you," one of the thoughtful fellows said as he observed the stacks of outgoing cards I was working on.

Sure it's a vacation. One of the very best. What more could one ask than to be able to do things for loved ones. December is my vacation. The time that I get little things done that I've put off all year. For instance bedding gets its "upkeep" for this is the season when the full supply may be in use.

Then the house gets cleaned, all over at the same time. Now any woman knows that does more for the soul than Florida sun.

And cooking gets baked. Old favorites and new ones, always with the thought that I'll bake a few for Susie, Mary or Jim. No special "must" in the chore. Just the grand old urge to bake and give. The fun really starts when one can see that there's a little more time to do a little more.

There's nothing on my mind but Christmas. Nothing runs through my mind but Christmas. That's what I like.

It's a vacation to feel this place alive with bubbling youth. To hear that piano going with six hands on the keys.

I never take time to turn on the radio. But at Christmas time someone manages to dial beautiful programs. The house is full of spirit. Then there's nut cracking, caramel wrapping and tree trimming that bring family together in good spirit. And the whisperings and "don't look there."

There's beauty too. Scarcely do we find a card that is not a work of art. Art when surpasses the written word. It's refreshing to study each one.

In spite of all the rush the things of the spirit are ever present. How thankful we are of that. How necessary it is to have this kind of vacation when we put into focus the real meaning of the angels' chorus, "Glory to God in the highest, Peace on earth, good will toward men."

My Nicest Present

One of the very nicest gifts that I have received in a long time came to me this week, and as a complete surprise. Not only that but from a woman I don't even know.

She, Mrs. Noah Schrock, who wrote a lively message and who had something she wanted to share. A jar of mince meat which looks like the kind Mamma used to make. And like Mamma, I shall save it until all the family arrives, and serve it as our special treat on Christmas eve.

Instead of saying "you shouldn't have done it," I'm going to say, "I'm glad you did" for it got the Christmas spirit moving within me.

Pen Picture of the Christ

Last year I tried to find this story which came to us on a Christmas card, to give to you. I found it recently and because of the physical picture it gives of our Master, I want to share it with you.

"In these days, our days, there appeared a man of great virtue, named Jesus Christ, who is yet living among us, and of the Gentiles is accepted as the prophet of Truth. He raises the dead and cures all manner of diseases.

"A man of stature somewhat tall and comely, such as the beholder may both love and fear. His hair of the color of a chestnut, full ripe; plain to his ears, whence downward it is more orient and curling, and waving about his shoulders. In the midst of his head is a seam, a partition in his hair, after the manner of the Nazarenes. His forehead plain and very wrinkleless; his face without spot or wrinkle, beautiful with a lovely red.

His nose and mouth so formed that nothing can be reprehended. His beard is in color like his hair, not very long but forked; his look innocent and mature. His eyes gray, clear and quick and luminous.

"In reproving he is terrible, his eyes piercing—as with a two-edged sword—the greedy, the selfish and the oppressor, but look with tenderest pity on the weak and erring and sinful. Courteous and fair spoken; pleasant in conversation, mixed with gravity. Many have seen him weep.

"In proportion of body—most excellent—a man for his singular beauty surpassing the children of men."

(Note: This was copied from an original letter of Publius Lentulus, procurator of Judea, to the Senate of the Roman government at Rome as a matter of information.)

I'm rushing and working my head off so I can get through in time to go to town on Christmas

Eve to join the hustle and bustle that I love. It's a part of the Christmas spirit to be able to say "Merry Christmas" to passers by—who more than likely are in town for the very same reason as I.

For all of you who are not in town on Christmas Eve, but are sitting in your rocking chair in front of the fire just waiting for the sound of the hoof on the roof, let me say today, "A very merry Christmas to you all."

Planning Group Meets

Farm Planning Group No. 9 met recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Buckel. Six couples attended. Robert Glatfely was leader of the topic, "Show Me—I'm from Missouri."

Twelve topics for discussion were selected for the meetings in 1956 and covered such subjects as soil fertility bank, legal problems, insurance liability, farm safety check, tax problems, do it yourself helps, compulsory auto inspection, selective service, cooperative marketing and social security.

The group aims to organize another group in its community. During the social period games were played and Christmas jingle gifts exchanged. The January meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Glatfely.

1955-56 Yearbook Sports White Cover With Red Lettering

Mr. Mike Posey, the American yearbook representative, visited Southern High Dec. 9. He brought samples of yearbook covers, color-paddings, etc. He offered advice to the yearbook staff and answered the questions asked him.

The staff decided that this year's "Highlander" will sport a white cover with red lettering. The cover will feature art work by Beverly Winters. The end sheets will contain pictures of our school taken from two different angles by Sam Moore, and a modernistic stripe. It was estimated that the 500 yearbooks will cost $1,735.00. This does not include the cost of photography and other expenses. The first deadline, Dec. 19, has been met. The next deadline is Jan. 19.

Sam Moore, the student photographer, has started work on club pictures.

The theme, "We Are America," will be continued throughout the annual. The art work, photographs and basic ideas will all be centered on that theme.

CHRISTMAS TREE . . . The holiday tree is as important to a good Christmas for the children as is the visit by Santa Claus. Bringing in the tree, like the ancient custom of bringing in the Yule Log, has become an American tradition cherished by the younger generation.

Novel Christmas Decorations Add Value To Presents

With so many gifts to wrap this time of the year, paper, cards, ribbons, seals and other package decorations can add up to quite a sum. By using a little imagination, these costs can be kept at a minimum.

Ends of wallpaper rolls, whether left over from your own walls or bought as odd stock at your local paint store, are especially pretty for large packages. Even newspapers can be used to wrap large packages and the want-ad section is more attractive than the other pages.

Small pieces of aluminum foil or shelf paper from the end of the roll are excellent for wrapping smaller packages. Or if you have a young child who fingerprints, why not wrap gifts in some of his paintings.

White tissue paper can be made quite appealing by spattering it with red or green ink or water with food coloring added.

For seals, cut out colored pictures from magazines, old Christmas cards or even small bits of wrapping paper and paste them on the package. Or you can paste them on a small piece of folded construction paper to make an enclosure card.

Acorns, pine cones or oak leaves, painted or shellacked and tied on top of the package will catch the eye of both young and old.

TALKING TO SANTA . . . It's an old, old story that's new every year for thousands of children, this visiting Santa in the big department store to talk about what's to be in the Christmas stocking. Most always, there's a proud parent standing nearby to do a little prompting if necessary.

It was Christmas in the village of Trenton. Snow-covered rooftops gleamed white in the pale moonlight and the night echoed with the boisterous song of Hessian Mercenaries celebrating the season of peace on earth—celebrating with greater spirit than wisdom. Christmas trees, first to be seen in America, dangled tinsel and toys. The cobbled streets were alive with laughter.

Across the Delaware things were not so merry. Especially did this holiday season of 1776 find little merriment among the soldiers of the Continental Army, under command of George Washington, spending the icy Christmas on the frozen hills of Pennsylvania overlooking the Delaware.

In almost constant retreat since his loss to Lord Howe in the battle of Long Island, Washington was in a desperate situation. Supplies were almost gone. The new year would end the enlistment period for many of his tattered soldiers. England had already promised to pardon all who had taken up arms against the Crown if they would return peacefully to their homes. Washington knew he must taste victory now or never.

By lantern light, he loaded 3400 men, 18 cannon, ammunition, and horses into flat-bottomed boats. With lanterns extinguished, the boats began to make slow progress across the river that was clogged with floating ice blocks.

When the church clock at Trenton struck 7 a. m. a young American officer named Alexander Hamilton looked down upon the town from a high hill where he had managed to set up his artillery. Washington gave the signal and the rumble of the cannon echoed through the silent streets of Trenton.

Caught completely by surprise, the Hessian soldiers flung away their guns and swords and fled for their lives. As the Hessian commander lay dying from a bullet wound, he directed an aide to read a message he had received the night before but had not opened. It warned him of Washington's impending attack.

The village of Trenton and 1,000 prisoners were Washington's prizes. He probably could not foresee at the time that he had given his nation a great Christmas present. His daring attack and surprising victory laid the foundation of independence upon which the nation still grows and prospers.

Congressman De Witt S. Hyde - 6th District, Maryland

Federal aid to education, particularly in the form of direct cash grants for school construction, is to be a major issue during the coming session of Congress. Despite the mounting evidence that states and local communities do not seem willing to undertake a responsibility that is traditionally theirs, any measure providing federal money for school construction faces rough going. Issues of segregation, private school treatment and distribution formulas offer real threats.

It seems to me that we need to meet the issue squarely and debate it strictly on its merits. The founding fathers quite clearly did not intend the public school system to be a federal function. All evidence points to the fact the authors of our Republic's Constitution meant education to be a state or private responsibility.

The public school as it has developed in America has been the responsibility of state and local governments. Each community has cherished its right to decide how its children shall be educated. Any program that transfers a part or all of that right on a nationwide basis to the federal government must bring with it a new concept in our theory of public education.

The issue has come to a head because some communities are finding it increasingly hard to finance new schools and additional teachers under their present tax structure. Much more is involved than just furnishing federal money to help these communities meet their needs. What is involved is the role of the federal government in our public educational system. For it cannot be denied that with federal funds comes federal influence, if not outright control.

I would like to draw attention to one argument in favor of federal aid. It is the one which implies that communities cannot provide for the educational needs of their children under their present tax structure. No fact's have come to light, however, that prove that state and local communities cannot find the necessary money if they would "reasonably reappraise" their tax resources.

I am anxious to hear from my readers on the basic question involved. Shall we break with tradition and embark on a new philosophy of public education? Write to me care of the House Office Building, Washington 25, D. C.

I am convinced our public schools do face an emergency. If the states and local governments won't shoulder the burden then something must be done. I may be obligated to favor an aid program clearly stamped "emergency" and "temporary" which will meet our national needs.

May I take this opportunity of wishing you all a very Merry Christmas.

Salisbury Defeats Northern 56 to 37

Salisbury High school handed Northern High a 56-37 loss at Salisbury last Friday night. Oester led the winners' attack with 19 points. Ross Selby and Joe Bender collected 18 and 12 for Northern. Salisbury led 33 to 16 at the half. It outscored Northern from the field 17 goals to 12 and shot 22 of 47 fouls in comparison to 13 out of 28 for Northern. The Northern Jayvees won the preliminary game 34 to 17.

Children Expect Realistic Toys

Santa's helpers, the toymakers of America, made something like $900 million worth of toys last year, using up a fabulous supply of plastics, paints and lacquers, adhesives and other new materials developed by industrial chemistry.

Toy consumers—America's precocious children—have come to demand a realism in toys that was unheard of a few years ago. If a youngster gets a toy automobile, it must look like one of the latest styles he sees on the highways, a jet airplane must look like the pictures he sees in magazines. Most little girls won't look a second time at any doll that doesn't cry, walk, have washable hair and a wardrobe that ranges from evening clothes to a bikini bathing suit.

Expected to be big hits among toys this Christmas season are all various types of "do-it-yourself" kits for youngsters of all ages. Kits they can use to make practically everything from atomic submarines to 1955 model sports cars. In addition to do-it-yourself packages for advanced children, most manufacturers this year also are furnishing the completely assembled toy for the younger set.

Dig—These Crazy Christmas Gifts

Even Christmas has caught up with the atomic age. A sign of the times is the increasing demand for Geiger counters as Christmas gifts. Manufacturers say people from all over the country are giving as presents the miracle instrument that noses out uranium.

If you're buying a gift for a prospective uranium prospector, you can get him one of these radio-activity detection devices at prices ranging from $24.95 to $2000. Most popular model, manufacturers say, is about the size of a miniature camera and retails for about $35.

Uranium "hounds" are as varied as the instruments they buy. They range from housewives with infants in their arms to geologists and hirsute prospectors—as well as business tycoons, clerks, laborers and society women. An amateur uranium prospectors' club in the East, composed entirely of women, is known as the "Geiger Widows."

Last year gift Geigers were mailed all over the United States. One woman telephoned the New York office of a leading manufacturing firm from Florida to order a $1,995 unit as a Christmas surprise for her husband.

Northern Defeats Alumni 90 to 63

Northern High won its second ball game at the expense of an alumni team Tuesday night 90 to 63.

Ross Selby led the route with 31 points while Ron Glass and Joe Bender had 14 and 10. Mark Trueman, Allan Younkin and Crowe led the alumni with 13, 12 and 12, respectively.

In the lineup for Northern also and their points were Green 7, Spear 8, Schroeder 5, W. Humbertson 2, Helrick 1, Merkey 2, McKenzie 6, C. Humbertson 4. For the alumni: Baker 2, G. Wright 8, Murphy 6, L. Wright 6, Spiker 1. This game is not due to any personal characteristics of the Gov-

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT
Copyright by The Baltimore Sun and reprinted by The Republic by permission.

Unsatisfactory To "Soapy"

An interesting effect of the Eisenhower heart attack and the uncertainty it has wrought in the political plans and prospects of so many ambitious gentlemen in both parties is nowhere better exemplified than in the case of the young Governor of Michigan, the 43-year-old G. Mennen Williams, who has been four times elected to his present office and is generally known the alumni Baker 2, G. Wright 8, Murphy 6, L. Wright 6, Spiker 1. This game is not due to any personal characteristics of the Gov-error, but is based on the fact that the large family fortune he inherited was made out of soap.

Mr. Williams is now a practically undisputed candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination. He may, as he did last time, wind up in the Stevenson camp in August when the convention meets, because he is a very ardent CIO man and a close personal and political friend of Mr. Walter Reuther. At the moment Mr. Reuther is supposed to be favorable to Mr. Stevenson, and certainly the Stevenson strength mainly depends on the CIO in Michigan and, to some extent, in the country. On the other hand, "Soapy" is an out and out CIO man and Mr. Reuther's fair-haired boy. In Michigan the more acute political observers say that the young Governor's presidential ambitions would best be promoted by the renomination and re-election (which they regard as most probable) of Mr. Eisenhower. This would eliminate Mr. Stevenson and greatly promote the prospects of "Soapy" in 1960. If Mr. Stevenson should be elected, "Soapy's" prospect would not be improved, because Adlai certainly would be a candidate to succeed himself four years hence.

In that event Mr. Williams would be faced not with the problem of being too old, he would then only be 53, but with keeping himself in the public eye for the next ten years. One way would be to become a member of the good Adlai's cabinet (preferably Secretary of Labor) inasmuch as so much of his support comes from organized labor sources. Another way suggested is that he might run for the Senate in 1958 against Senator Potter (Republican). A third is that he might become Vice President with Mr. Stevenson. This does not appeal to "Soapy" at all. He very distinctly visualizes himself as a President and not a Vice President as is attested by his recent employment of a very high-grade, first-class publicity man.

The "Soapy" idea in this—so it is said—is to improve the quality of the many speeches for which he is already booked up in the country, at large. It is considered that he needs a little more than denunciation of the Eisenhower record and laudation of organized labor if he is to get very far on the national scene. "Soapy" himself, it is said, recognizes that his speech last year before the Gridiron Club was a pretty bad flop. It was generally regarded as not only uninspired and dull but in somewhat poor taste. This year he is going to make a lot of speeches and they are going to be good enough to wipe out the impression of that Washington performance—good enough, it is hinted, to compare unfavorably to those of the eloquent and sometimes playful Adlai. At any rate, that is the plan. However, even though he does achieve this goal, the basic fact is that the illness of Mr. Eisenhower has left him with a lot of alternatives, none of which he particularly likes.

Already he has somewhat weakened his Stevenson friendship by criticizing the latter's advocacy of "moderation" in campaign language. His—and Adlai's—friend Mr. Reuther, is opposed to "moderation." So is "Give 'Em Hell" Truman and the personally mild-mannered Governor Harriman of New York. The situation has been further complicated for all these Democratic aspirants by the announcement that Gov. Frank Lausche of Ohio let it be known that, while he will enter no primaries, his name will go before the convention as a "favorite-son" candidate. This means, of course, that on labor as well as other issues, the Democrats are going to be divided in their convention along conservative and radical lines. Stevenson, Harriman, Kefauver and Williams are clearly stamped as radicals of varying degrees but all acceptable to the new giant AFL-CIO labor organization as opposed to Governor Lausche, who is conservative, utterly unloved by our labor bosses but possessing a political courage and character that have made him a real national figure and gained him a wide following in the country as a whole. Reflecting upon this state of affairs, it is easy to understand how "Soapy" may be unsatisfied with the situation and uncertain what to do. Nor does it clarify for Adlai, either.

PEACE ON EARTH . . . Music is an important part of Christmas observances everywhere and there is something about the spirit of Christmas that makes young voices sing out loud and clear, with a heart full of joy.

TOYS FOR DAD
The old joke about Dad "monopolizing" Junior's train is ceasing to be a joke, according to some toy producers, who contend that this year there will be toys for adults under some Christmas trees.

Mr. Jay V. Zimmerman, president of the largest hand puppet makers in the world, recently told toy buyers and salesmen that "toys made specifically for adults to play with will eventually exceed the present popularity of children's toys."

This may sound a little unbelievable and optimistic for the toy industry, but Mr. Zimmerman says the theory is neither radical or new. "For centuries," he says, "man has been playing with his children's toys under the guise it was for Junior's sake, but that's a lot of toymaking. They enjoy playing with their kid's toys, but they're too ashamed to admit it."

Right or wrong, several major toy companies are producing specific adult toys this year. We'll just have to wait and see how many Dads receive some of them as presents from Santa.

Right to Work

With the recent merger of the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organization there will be a more concerted effort to see that no more "Right to Work" laws will be passed by any more states, and in fact they may try to exert pressure to repeal some of those laws already on the statute books in 17 states. This should never be allowed.

They have no constitutional authority to even attempt such a thing.

In a recent address at the AFL-CIO convention, Gov. Harriman, of New York, declared: "We must always make clear to everyone in the world that self-determination of nations is the basic principle of our foreign policy everywhere in the free world." James C. Ingebreten, president of Spiritual Mobilization, remarked that it was, of course, "too much to hope that Gov. Harriman would go on and say, as I think he should have, that 'self-determination of individuals ought also to be the basic principle of our domestic policy everywhere in America, subject, of course, to the limitation of no aggression against anyone else'."

But Harriman couldn't say this before an organization that evidently believes the basic principle of our domestic policy should be legalized compulsory union membership with aggression against everyone.

Actually, a workingman in America has a basic right to be a free man unbound to any organization—labor union or any other group. If self-determination is right for nations, why is it wrong for individuals?

You'll find that anyone who upholds a person's right to work regardless of his membership in a union, will be condemned by union organizers as "anti-labor." That is a mis-used word. A CIO official recently declared, "There are more anti-labor professional firms in Southern California than anywhere else in the country." This because it really is easier in Southern California than anywhere else for a person to get a job without being forced to join a monopoly union. But that is not anti-labor.

As Mr. Ingebreten also remarked in a recent article, "To provide employment without forcing employees to knuckle under to goon squads in order to obtain or retain their jobs is pro-labor, not anti-labor. And I think we should insist on this proper use of terms. For the deliberate and habitual wrong use of language is as immoral as any other kind of dishonesty."

We believe Maryland should have a right to work law.

Oakland Postoffice Cancellations Hit High of 120,854

The Oakland postoffice cancellations during the Christmas period from December 10 to December 24, inclusive, hit a new high of 120,854, it was announced this week by Donald M. Browning, postmaster. This is approximately a ten percent increase.

The high day was on the 19th when there were 13,150 cancellations. The records showed that 89,000 two-cent stamps had been sold, exactly the same amount as last year, and that 36,500 three-cent stamps had been sold, a decrease of some 6,000 over the ten-day period.

Stamp sales, postage, etc., for the entire year will probably show a slight increase over 1951, Browning estimated.

Parcel post was particularly heavy this year, and there was a particularly heavy rush over the week-end when the postoffice was officially closed. Terminals at Washington, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati were badly jammed. Browning said the Oakland office received 65 sacks of parcel post on train No. 11 Sunday and Monday also was a heavy day.

Locally the mail was taken care of promptly, Browning said that everything had been cleared from the office on Saturday evening.

To date the Highlanders have defeated Terra Alta 71 to 47, and Beall, but lost a close encounter to Allegany High school, 82 to 74, and then were defeated by Bruce High 74 to 60, and by Valley 68 to 51. All three games were played away from home.

Southern's next home game will be with Elk Garden, a team which has shown surprising strength in this year's games. It will be played in the Southern High gymnasium on Friday, January 6.

After games at Thomas and Parsons on January 10 and 13 Southern will be host to Northern on the 17th, Rowlesburg on the 20th, Bruce High on the 24th, Valley on the 27th, Terra Alta on the 31st and Bayard on February 3 before playing another "away" game.

Places To Close On

Monday, January 2, will be observed as a legal holiday by a number of offices and business places, and will remain closed the entire day.

All county offices will be closed not only on Monday, January 2nd, but on Saturday, December 31, giving a three-day holiday period. One office in the Court House, that of Richard L. Davis, clerk of the Circuit Court, will remain open on Saturday morning but will be closed the entire day on Monday.

Both Oakland banks have announced they will not be open for business on Monday, January 2. The postoffice likewise will remain closed the entire day, although the mail will be distributed to all box holders.

A large number of stores and business places of the town of Oakland will remain closed on Monday. Public schools will reopen for the new year on Tuesday morning, January 3, following the Christmas vacation period.

Tax Installment

Notices Mailed

Fourth quarter installment notices for Federal estimated income taxes have been mailed to taxpayers who are due to make payment on or before January 15. In making a payment, C. I. Fox, district director of internal revenue for the Baltimore district, asked that taxpayers forward the bill with the remittance so that proper credit may be given.

The date for farmers to file a declaration and make payment is January 15. If the full and final payment can be made by February 15 there will be no need to file an original or amended declaration of the estimated tax by January 15.

Cold Snap Broken

The cold snap at the past few days was broken this morning when sleet began to fall.

Saturday was clear and warm but the weather had cooled considerably by Sunday and the mercury continued to drop on Monday and Tuesday. Wednesday morning was the coldest point of the week with the thermometer at 5 above zero. Weather remained cold throughout the day.

A number of explorer scouts with their leader, Robert Long, are spending several days this week at the Snaggy Mountain Rod and Gun club near Swallow Falls. Among them are Douglas Smith, Tom Nally, Billy Moore, Sam Moore, Jack Gnezy, Lonnie Naylor, Bob Montgomery, Don Evans, John Brown and Bruce Swift.

Weather, Floods, Summer Programs Dominate Activities

The birth of the year 1955 in Garrett county was accompanied by a snowfall of 13 inches, and weather continued to dominate the news throughout the month, culminating on January 28 with a record temperature of 26 degrees below zero. This brought the area momentarily into national prominence, with coast-to-coast broadcasters announcing Oakland as the coldest spot in the nation on that date. It was in January, too, that the first suggestion was made for a comprehensive flood survey of the Youghiogheny watershed. This has since been accomplished and some action has already been taken in the Oakland area. But come snow, cold or high water, the inevitable must occur, and did occur, as the County Commissioners fixed the tax rate for the year at $2.00 per hundred dollars assessment, the same as previous years.

February brought with it widespread reports of poverty and suffering throughout the county. George P. Mahoney, perennial political aspirant, created considerable discussion with a dramatic gift of a truckload of potatoes and flour for free distribution to the poor. This was accepted by the County Commissioners and that body later instituted a system for the distribution of government surplus food, which is still in effect.

A freak railroad accident at Oakland found a diesel locomotive and 21 freight cars derailed from an other train. One of Mt. Lake Park's landmarks, "Allenhurst," was completely destroyed by fire late in the month.

March blew in with a miniature tornado causing much damage in the Oakland and Mt. Lake Park area. The March grand jury returned a murder indictment against Hobart DeWitt. He was arrested following the finding of the body of his three-month-old daughter in an unmarked, shallow grave at Sang Run. Later, DeWitt was found guilty of second degree murder and sentenced to fifteen years in the Maryland Penitentiary. The Maryland Assembly was hard at work, too, and several bills of local importance had been introduced. One would place a one cent tax on cigarettes, the proceeds to be used to supplement teacher salaries. Another would compel the use of voting machines, while still others provided for referendum on the question of daylight saving time in the county, and the restoration of whiskey sales.

Circles To Meet

Circles of St. Paul's Methodist church in Oakland will hold their meetings on Wednesday, January 4.

Circle 1, Mrs. H. W. Meese, leader, will meet at the home of Mrs. Stuart Hamill, Jr., at 8 o'clock with Mrs. Playford Ryan assisting.

Circle 2, Mrs. Herbert C. Leighton, leader, will meet at the church at 6:15 for a covered dish dinner.

Circle 3, Mrs. Homer Bennett, co-leader, will meet at the home of Mrs. Ray Teets at 8 o'clock with Mrs. Creigh Teets assisting.

Circle 4, Mrs. S. T. Naylor, leader, will meet at the church at 6:30 for a covered dish dinner.

Seek Sealed Bids

On Selling Farm

Sealed bids are being sought by the County Commissioners and the Board of Governors of the Garrett County Memorial hospital, concerning the sale of the "White Face" farm near McHenry.

The farm was formerly owned by Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. White and was conveyed by them to the Commissioners for the benefit of the hospital by a deed dated December 12. Cattle and farm machinery, etc., were sold recently for a sum in excess of $15,000.

Bids will be received until 2 o'clock p. m., on Monday, January 30, at which time they will be publicly opened and read.

The property contains 552 acres with 184 acres of tillable land, 200 acres of pasture and the balance cut over land.

On the property are a frame dwelling, 33 by 36, a frame barn 50 by 90, another barn 40 by 80, two garages, machine shed, chicken house, corn crib and other usual outbuildings.

The farm is being offered under three plans: 1. without any reservation of mineral, except as to one military lot; 2. with reservation of all mineral; and 3. with reservation of two-thirds of mineral. Bids are to be on a cash basis with thirty days given within which to make payment. The Boards reserve the right to reject any or all bids.

Observe 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lytle quietly observed their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday, December 25, at their home at Selby-post.

They are the parents of two sons, Alvin, who resides in Maryland, and Carl, who resides in Pennsylvania. They have 11 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Lytle were married at the home of the groom's parents by Rev. David Hostetler. Mr. Lytle has been a farmer for many years. Mrs. Lytle's hobby is quilting. Mr. Lytle is not in the best of health at the present time. They have been lifelong residents of Garrett county.

Aurora High Seniors To Run Service Station For Day

Seniors of Aurora High School, Aurora, W. Va., have been invited to operate Whitties Truck Stop, located on Route 50 near the Maryland line in Preston county. They are to operate from twelve noon until midnight, Friday, December 30. The class will receive experience by running the business plus the profits for the day. The profits are to be used for the annual trip of the class.

County Garage Is Mostly Under Roof

About one more day's work will find the County garage completely under roof, it was announced this week. Workmen were engaged yesterday in this activity and need only one more day to finish the job.

Construction on the garage, located on U.S. route 219, just north of Oakland, began the latter part of July. The building is 38 by 128 feet, two story, with construction of concrete block and brick veneer. The cost was expected to run $50,000. Four acres of land were obtained from the Mitchell heirs at $2,000 per acre.

J. D. Swartzentruber, president of the County Commissioners, said this morning there is still some block and brick work yet to be done, but that all the windows are in place, and that workmen have been able to go ahead on electrical wiring and other inside work.

The garage, when completed, will make for improved working conditions in winter give an adequate supply room and result in a saving in machinery expense due to having the equipment sheltered from the weather.

Christmas Seal Sale

Hits $15,498 Mark

The 49th annual Christmas Seal sale of the Allegany-Garrett Tuberculosis association passed the $15,000 mark as of last Friday.

Glenn K. Davis, seal chairman, said the week's receipts totaled $2,308.35 and brought the campaign to the $15,498.37 mark.

This includes $13,642.93 raised from seal sales in Allegany county and $1,855.44 in Garrett county. Last year's campaign brought in $18,300.

Called To Flue Fire

The Oakland Volunteer Fire department was called to Hutton on Tuesday morning about 6:15 as the result of a flue fire at the home of Allen Armstrong. The fire had been extinguished by the time the department arrived.

The blaze was caused by an overheated stove pipe that was too near the outside wall. The damage was slight.

State Income Tax

Forms Being Mailed

Approximately 650,000 Income Tax forms are beginning to be mailed by the Maryland State Income Tax Division of the Comptroller's office, according to J. Millard Tawes, State Comptroller.

The majority of taxpayers will have these forms by early January. Even though the filing deadline is April 15, 1956, the Comptroller's office suggests filing returns as soon as practicable after their receipt. Thus the taxpayer will have behind him the job of filing tax returns and will not have to be looking forward to it for several weeks with concern.

Filing, in many cases, should be easier as numerous taxpayers have already paid six months' taxes on the pay-as-you-go plan, in force since July 1st of this year under the Withholding law passed by the last session of the Maryland legislature.

Comptroller Tawes said that local tax offices throughout the state will have trained workers available to assist in filling out the tax forms. An office is located at 9 Market Street, Cumberland.

Making Most Of Dollar

Is Homemaker Theme

"Making the Most of Your Dollar" is the demonstration for the meetings of Homemakers clubs during January.

There will be a report on Civil Defense and plans for a county survey with members making a report on what they would do in case of an emergency.

Homemakers have been asked by the Civil Defense director to make a survey of the homes in the county to find out the number of people they could "sleep" and "feed" in case of disaster. This already has been done in Oakland and Deer Park. Rev. John J. Atwell, Oakland director, said there was a need for area canteen organizations.

Tailoring workshops are scheduled for Grantsville and Oakland with the one at Grantsville set for January 5, 10 to 3, in the Grantsville Fire hall, and the one at Oakland in the Lutheran church Parish building on January 6, also from 10 to 3.

Miss Ethel Grove, home demonstration agent, said this would be the first advanced clothing work to be given. Homemakers and women in the county who have taken clothing work with the agent would be eligible for the workshop, she stated. It is planned to work with 100 percent wool, making a suit or dress.

Homemaker meetings: Casselman Valley club January 3, 8 p. m., at home of Mrs. Neal Swartz, welder. Mrs. Harold Durst and Mrs. Kenneth Edwards will give the demonstration. Grantsville club, January 4, 1:30, at home of Mrs. Joe Dolan and Mrs. Carrie Beachy. Mrs. Wilford Bils will give the demonstration. Altamont club, January 4, 7 p. m., at the Woods club house. Mrs. Jesse Woods will give the demonstration.

Four-H meetings: During January the clubs will feature various topics. Accident will have clothing remodeling. Bittinger public speaking, Chicasaw, better storage; Monte Vista, clothing, hems; North Glade, clothing, hems; and Ryan's Glade, cake demonstrations. The Ryan's Glade club will meet January 5 at the home of Mrs. Leona Prepp, 7:30 p. m.

Airman Sent To Panama

A 3e Charles W. Wiland, son of Mrs. Beulah V. McGhee, of Grantsville, has arrived in Panama for assignment with the air rescue service as an operations clerk.

He will be on duty with the 28th air rescue squadron, a unit of the world-wide organization dedicated to saving lives. Airman Wiland attended Central High school in Louisa and enlisted in the air force in November, 1951.

Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Engelbach have returned to their home at Chevy Chase after spending several days with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Smouse, Pennington street.

Fish Biologists

Evaluate Deep Creek Fish Data

Fishery biologists with wide experience in several important sport fishing states gathered recently at the Chesapeake Biological Laboratory, Solomons, Md., to digest the mass of fishery data collected at Deep Creek Lake. They decided that an immediate answer was not possible because of the complexity of the problem, but promised that concrete recommendations would be issued in about four weeks.

The professional fishery biologists studied the details and tentative analysis of over eight years of scientific investigations in the Garrett County Lake. The partial results of the September fish suffocation experiment in Hoop Pole Run was an important part of the two-day discussion.

Conducted jointly by Harold J. Eker, fishery biologist of the Maryland Department of Research and Education, and Edwin M. Barry, chief of fish management, Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission, the meeting was devoted to a full review of all the hydrobiological findings to date. The theme was, "How can fishing be improved and what can be done to provide a greater sustained harvest in Deep Creek Lake?"

The discussion centered around several informal reports consisting of the following general subjects: 1. overpopulation of yellow perch in the lake; 2. statistics on fishery success based on creel statistics during the past five years; 3. lack of suitable predators for reducing the super-abundance of perch; 4. how to provide a variety of good fishing for different types of fishermen; and 5. to provide fishing that is most consistent with the natural environment of Deep Creek Lake. The experts drew up on their experiences with lakes similar to Deep Creek Lake in their evaluation of the major problem of coping with the yellow perch, and at the same time providing better sport fishing.

Among the prominent fishery biologists who participated were: Dr. Albert Hazard, formerly director of the Michigan Institute of Fishery Research, and now Assistant Director, Pennsylvania Fish Commission; Dr. Gordon Tremblay, fishery biologist, and Arthur Bradford, Fish Pathologist, Pennsylvania Fish Commission; Dr. Richard Stroud, Executive Director, Sport Fishing Institute, Washington; Robert G. Martin, fish biologist, Virginia Commission of Game and Inland Fish. Also present were eight biologists and fish management specialists from the Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission and the Maryland Department of Research and Education.

A spokesman stated, "The recommendations for immediate action will be submitted to the Commissioners of the Game and Inland Fish Department in about four weeks."

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Pollock, of Philadelphia, Pa., former residents of Oakland, announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Ann, to Mr. Thomas P. Rogan, of Freehold, Pa.

Mr. Rogan was graduated from Penn State university and is employed in the U. S. Social Security office in Reading, Pa.

No date has been set for the wedding.

A winning performance, too, being named honor company for the fourth time at the summer campment at Indiantown Gap, Pa. A Garrett county jury set a price of $72-850 for the Fulcher Smith property at Deep Creek Lake. Condemned by the state for the construction of a public park, the amount of compensation had been in dispute for several months.

The county's schools reopened in September, with more than 4,500 students returning to their classes or attending for the first time. Most of the summer activities were coming to an end. The Country Club team captured the pennant in the newly formed Pony Baseball league. One of the most thorough investigations of fish life ever attempted at Deep Creek Lake found scientists and biologists from all over the state conducting a "suffocation" program. Data from the test is still being tabulated and evaluated.

October was highlighted by the annual Autumn Glory excursion from Washington and Baltimore, with record numbers making the journey to the mountains for a day. For the first time, the excursion was run on two week-ends. Civil Defense workers staged an all-out drill and rescue exercise, the second to be held in the area. The new bridge across the Potomac between Kitzmiller and Blaine was dedicated by Governor McKeldin and other state and county officials. The planned Live Stock Sanitary laboratory opened with the appointment of Donald Geddis as technician. C. M. White returned to the local news with the gift of a large farm at McHenry to the Garrett County Memorial hospital.

November found two county groups deadlocked over the question of purchasing voting machines, mandatory for the 1956 general election. The County Commissioners and the Board of Election Supervisors were tied three to three whether to purchase machines of the Automatic Voting Machine company or the Shoup company. The matter is still undecided. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wildesen were named county winners in the Farming for Better Living program. Six hundred children received the second Salk polio shots. The new National Guard armory was formally dedicated during November. The season's first snowfall amounted to five inches, with zero weather reported.

Big news early in December was the record deer hunting. A new high of 608 bucks was reported for the week Mr. and Mrs. Ross B. L. winners. Events slowed toward the end of the month, as Christmas and its many activities crowded most everything else to the background. Today, thoughts are on the new year beginning Sunday, and its events, as yet unchronicled, will fill these pages for the next 52 weeks.

Army plans to increase its atomic weapons strength in Europe.

Singing of Christmas carols was directed by Foster A. Riggs with Mrs. W. Harold Miller as accompanist. Mr. Riggs also was chairman of the program which was presented by the children of the Rotarians. It included poems by Debra Bender, Steve Bender, Terry L. McKenzie, piano and vocal numbers by Jerry Epstein, Sammy Epstein, Richard McCurdy, Barbara Gartner, Ketter, W. Va., Mrs. Donald Hershberger, Mrs. John Brackey and children, Bobby Lowry, Mrs. Emma Bender and Miss Viola Broadwater. Rotary Ann and guests were presented with gifts and Santa Claus treated the children.

Guests included Dr. and Mrs. Marie Mansueti, Chicago, Miss Ann Smart, Baltimore, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wright, Miss Isabelle Maust, Salisbury, Pa., Willard Gartner, Ketter, W. "Our Growing Edge"

MRS. MARTHA GLOFFELTY

Wishes For A New Year
Last week the staff of this paper wished a Merry Christmas to its twenty thousand readers. I was never quite sure just how many people read this paper, so the number was interesting to me.

Many read the news items in a paper, but do not read columns. I would feel mighty flattered if all twenty thousand read my column. Fact is, I would settle for half that number.

However, I am sure there are many who do, for I receive telephone calls, letters and have many personal contacts that tell me they read and enjoy my column. There are some who do not agree with the things I say and think, and that pleases me, too, for that is the way it should be. Diversity of thought is our strength.

For the year ahead, I am going to make some wishes both for all of you and myself.

First of all, I hope the New Year brings you good health, that priceless state of physical and mental well-being which permits us to work hard at our various tasks, and bounce back from our weariness ready for another day's work.

I would wish for strength and courage to meet the problems that will come to all of us in the year ahead. I would hope to see them in their proper perspective and to solve them in a spirit of love and good will.

Then, I would hope for some challenges for all of us. The kind that would make us re-examine some of our old ideas and attitudes. The challenges that shake us out of our complacency, that bid us rise about our tendencies to be petty, selfish and narrow minded.

I would wish for each one of us to try something new and different, to lift the level of our thinking, our conversations, our conduct. There are many new approaches to old problems in our communities, our county, our nation. I would wish to see us use some imagination in the solving of them.

We have just passed the Christmas season, when once again we heard the Song of the Angels proclaiming the birth of a Savior who came to bring peace to the hearts of men, not just on Christmas, but every day of the year. If we truly believe that, and you know we say that we do, then our every thought and act will be motivated by good will to all men.

To all my readers, I wish a most Happy and Blessed New Year.

luck, but to Frank Clatterbuck, Nickel Plate railroader, it was just a matter of being 'on time.'

"Railroader Frank bagged his first deer, a 10-point buck last Saturday afternoon out in Ashtabula county. It dressed 200 pounds."

"But that isn't the whole story by a long shot. Clatterbuck almost didn't make it as he moaned, 'Oh dear me' twice last week."

"First he tried to get a license locally so he could be among the many deer hunters when the season opened. Three visits to spots where licenses were being sold brought only: 'Sorry, we're sold out.'

"Determined to be in the field Saturday Clatterbuck chanced it and by a squeaker managed to get the last license in Conneaut. That was at 9 a. m."

"Four hours later, Clatterbuck bagged a buck—the first he ever shot in his life. So he was on time in Conneaut, on time in Ashtabula when the 10-pointer appeared."

It Runs Through My Mind

BY POLLY J. HANST

Lazy, Lazy, Lazy

My mind this week is like my appetite—just not sharp. It picks around with this and that idea with nothing taking shape. Since I'm still on vacation I don't see why I should exert myself. My only ambition is to get those twenty shirts ironed, not for the feel of accomplishment but to get them back in laundry cases, completely out of sight so I can sink once more into a soft chair and sit and sit.

Then if I have a mind for it I may think just over so little, I might read from my favorite Christmas present, "The Prophet," by Kahlil Gibran.

That is, if I'm in the mood to read, I'll find something that will appeal to this lazy soul.

I'll skip his chapter on "Speak to me of Children," of which most of you are familiar. "Your children are not your children. They are the sons and daughters of life's longing for itself."

At this season I don't want that I WANT to think that they are my children and at Christmas they will always be under foot.

No, that doesn't fit my mood. My lazy good for nothing mood.

He says something of work. Maybe that will fill me with ambition. "You work that you may keep pace with the earth and the soul of the earth." I don't want to keep pace. Just sit.

"For to be idle is to become a stranger unto the seasons and to step out of life's processions." Just when idleness seems so good I read this! And on to this: "Work is love made visible. And if you cannot work with love but only with distaste, it is better that you should leave your work and sit at the gates of the temple and take alms from those who work with joy."

Today that's not my problem. When I work I work with love. Love isn't the handicap, work's the handicap you know, expended energy.

Now I come across Gibran's ideas about marriage. It's always interesting to see what others think about this subject. Some other time I would think he was wonderful, especially if I were leading a discussion or conducting a workshop. But this week that subject is for us in our own home and I like it as it is.

Though I do love his words: "You were born together and together you shall be forever . . . but let there be spaces in your togetherness . . . stand together yet not too near together."

"For the pillars of the temple stand apart."

Pretty, these words, but I search on to satisfy my lazy good for nothing soul.

— o —

Eureka!

Now I find them. The words that are right for me this day. They do not condemn my lazy mind nor my over-fed body. Neither do they say "for shame" when I look at twenty shirts blowing in the breeze and think that fresh air would be good on them for another day.

It speaks only of prayer . . . " . . . would that you might pray also in the fullness of your joy and in your days of abundance."

That I can do. For the fullness of this year—a wonderful year for us living in America where we have been blessed and blessed.

"I may be lazy but not too lazy to be grateful," I say to myself as I gaze past the decorated tree through the picture window to my beloved hill. Between the hill and me is a clothes line on which hang twenty shirts. Half the world would be thankful for one.

And so when they get ironed, if it isn't with joy for work, it will be with gratitude for abundance—we who live in America.

COME folks liked Mayor Fulcrum, and some didn't, but if election day had been January 2nd, he'd have won by a whopping big margin.

Mollie Nesbitt had lived in Hillcrest nearly eleven years before we found out about her sister Elsie. We heard the news from Mrs. Parker, who seemed a wee bit ashamed for not having discovered it earlier.

"Imagine!" exclaimed the talkative Mrs. Parker, as we wrapped the last of the New Year decorations in the Hillcrest Town Hall. "The poor soul hasn't seen Elsie in more than ten years."

"Why?" asked Mayor Fulcrum. "Mollie says her sister lives out west; guess she just can't afford to buy a round-trip ticket."

"She works at Phil's Diner,"

"She works at Phil's Diner, doesn't she?" mumbled the mayor.

"Doesn't she?" mumbled the mayor, stuffing Christmas cards into his mouth. "Phil gets her, I presume."

"She's always helping someone," said young Mrs. Rogers with a frown, as she reached for the mayor's candy bowl. "Whenever any one of us needs a baby sitter we think of Mollie Nesbitt. When the children want a sucker, or kite string, or pick-a-silver-it's always Mollie Nesbitt."

"Why doesn't she call her sister on the phone?" asked the mayor. Then, turning his back on our little group, he stood off in search of new tidbits.

Good Idea

"No! No!" cried Mrs. Parker as Mrs. Rogers raised the bowl menacingly above her head. "Mrs. Rogers grinned. 'I wouldn't throw it—not really. Besides, I think his humor has a good idea. Why not have Mollie call her sister—at our expense. I think we all owe her a holiday gift.'"

We all heartily agreed. The mayor, or himself said that the plan was a dandy when we told him about it. He promised to write to Elsie to make sure she'd be home when the call came through; it wouldn't be a surprise, or a present, if Elsie weren't at the office end of the line on New Year's Eve.

When Mollie Nesbitt left Phil's Diner on New Year's Eve it was snowing. When she reached home it was snowing harder. By the time she reached the front door to admit our joyous delegation a regular blizzard was under way. We charged the telephone, carrying Mollie with us. She let out a squeal of delight as we told her that she'd soon be talking to Elsie. Her eyes grew bright with anticipation when Mrs. Parker placed the call. Then Mrs. Parker clipped our chatter. Her face was grim as she faced us.

"Martha Weeks says the lines are down. Big snow storm out west. We'll not be able to talk to Elsie tonight."

We were stunned. Mollie sat still for awhile, trying not to look too disappointed. A bit later she trotted into the kitchen for a tray of cookies, but they stuck in our throats.

Company

"Someone's coming up the walk," said Mrs. Parker. "Looks like Mayor Fulcrum—but it's hard to tell with all this snow. It is the mayor—and there's a lady with him!"

Mollie opened the door—then let out a cry that brought us all to our feet. "Elsie! Oh what a wonderful present!" And she threw her arms around her sister's neck. "Happy New Year, mayor!" I cried, grasping his hand warmly. "You sure brightened things up around here. Whatever made you decide to bring Elsie to Hillcrest?"

"Well, I ran into Mollie last week at the post-office, where she was mailing a package to Elsie. She was sending hearing-aid batteries. Thinking that Elsie might be too hard of hearing to carry on a phone conversation, I enclosed a round-trip train ticket in my letter."

"She's not wearing a hearing aid now," I said.

"Never did. The batteries were for Mollie's uncle."

France dispatched 60,000 troops to Algeria scene of fighting between nationalist rebels and security forces.

Gov. Knight, California, said he would be a "favorite son" candidate for Republican presidential nomination in Eisenhower does not seek re-election.

Many People Still Celebrate Feasts By Ancient Calendar

Many people who use the Gregorian calendar still solemnize traditional feasts, including New Year, in accordance with ancient calendars.

The Jews observe a 10-day New Year season at the time of the autumn equinox. The observances begun on Rosh Hashana and end on Yom Kippur. Rosh Hashana commemorates the day of Creation and is also the annual day of judgment, with judgment being irrevocably sealed on Yom Kippur (the Day of Atonement); therefore the spirit of penance dominates the solemnities. Penance is also a feature of Hindu observances, solemnized in accordance with the ancient lunar calendar during the spring equinox.

The Moslem calendar, which dates from 622 A. D., is unique, since the twelve months of the year begin with the approximate new moon without any calculations to keep them geared to the seasons. Thus, the months—and New Years, too—retrograde through the entire year in about 33 years.

LONGEST YEAR

Once there was a year which contained 445 days—or an extra two months.

Numa Pompilius supposedly created the Roman calendar in the seventh century B. C. Although revised several times, the calendar by Julius Caesar's time was two months behind the sun.

When Caesar set his experts to the task of revising the calendar in the 18th century, they found they had to meet the problem of catching up with the sun. So two months were inserted between the month of November and December for the year 46 B. C.

Superstitions, Traditions Mark New Year Scene

Traditions and superstitions have long been a part of the New Year scene around the world.

The Chinese believe one must pay up all their debts if the New Year is to be a successful one. The English, on the other hand, consider it a good idea to start a savings account on January 1, since what you do on the New Year's Day is indicative of what you will do the rest of the year.

One of the most widespread superstitions concerns the "first-footers." The first person to enter a household on New Year's morning. In early days, women and light-haired men were considered "unlucky" first-footers.

Ancient custom in Japan was to scatter tiny masks of Bacchus upon trees and vines, the idea being to impart fertility to every side of the tree to which the masks were turned by the wind.

Peasants in various parts of the world once baked special cakes for the New Year. The cake was dashed against the door and as the family members gathered up the pieces, each of them they prayed that neither hunger nor want should enter the house during the new year.

In olden times some families also sought a glimpse into the New Year by "dipping" into the Bible. The head of the family, with his eyes closed, opened the family Bible and indicated a passage with his finger. The text, read and interpreted, was supposed to be indicative of the luck—good or bad—that would be in store during the twelve months ahead.

Three Famous Americans Born New Year's Day

January 1, perennially celebrated as the start of a new year, is also the birthdate of three famous Americans.

On January 1, 1735, a boy was born in Boston, Mass. He grew up to be a silversmith and engraver, designed and printed the first Continental money and the first official seal of the colonies. An amateur inventor, he discovered a process for rolling sheet copper. But he is most famous for a horse ride he made on the night of April 18, 1775. His name: Paul Revere.

Seventeen years later, in 1752, a girl was born in Philadelphia on the first day of the year. She was Betsy Ross—maker of the first American flag. On the same day was born the great poet—Philip Freneau.

Other events that took place on January 1: George Washington at Cambridge raised for the first time the flag of the United States, 1776; Florida adopted the constitution, 1847; Union of Ireland and Great Britain, 1801; de Sousa discovered Rio de Janeiro, 1531; The United Nations Declaration signed, 1942; the first Tournament of Roses, 1889.

Another famous American born on January 1, 1854 was about $4,173.

THE SANDS OF TIME

Remember that old song which says, "the sands of time are sinking fast"? Whether we like the idea or not, it is most certainly true, and there is nothing we can do about it.

Nothing? That depends on what we mean. Assuredly we can do nothing to stop the sands of time from running through the hour glass of life, but we can do much to make those hours worthwhile, and the Church stands ever ready to help us.

The Church is made up of people like us, working together to spread the message of the gospel. The Church brings comfort to those who sorrow, gives strength to those who are weak. The Church needs us to help carry on its work. When we are busy in the Church helping others, we do not worry over the ceaseless flow of the sands of time.

Are you doing your part in the Church? Do you need its help? Its doors are open, its welcome unchanging. "The sands of time are sinking fast"—how are you spending the days and hours?

Being a Hypocrite

Lesson for January 1, 1956

Nobody ever began his list of New Year's Resolutions with this: "I resolve this year to be a hypocrite." Nobody wants to be a hypocrite, no one loves such a person. As if they were not already detested, they are now hated.

Enough Jesus shot at them his most piercing sarcasm. The pathetic thing is that even the best people can slip into hypocrisy without knowing it. Since Jesus "told off" the hypocrites of Galilee very plainly, we can see just what it is that makes hypocrites what they are, and be warned.

Showy Stuff

Jesus condemned the Pharisees for being concerned with the looks of things most of all. As he put it, they cleaned up the outside of the cup and the platter but the inside was left dirty. They themselves, he said, were like graves over which men walked without knowing they were there. Outside, they were a grassy park. Down under, inside, they were nothing but decay. The other day a bulldozer turned up four little collins under what is now an airport. Nobody had guessed those bodies were under the grass. The first thing any one asked, after "Who were these?" was "Where shall we put them now?" It turned out that the four little bodies, buried a century ago, belonged to one family, and one living relative could be found but she did not even want to look. Let them be put under grass somewhere else, hide them as soon as possible. With these are characters like that. Cover all the dead stuff with something pretty, whatever looks right is right. Keep thinking that way, live that way, and you will be a hypocrite too.

Trifling Stuff

Another count against the Phar

isees was that they spent so much time and energy on little things that they missed the greater things that a truly good life will have. You could see Pharisees out in their back yards counting their run-leavees. Every tenth leaf belonged to the Lord, they said; every tenth bean, every tenth lettuce-leaf, and so on. But leaf-counting took up too much of their time. Justice? The love of God? They had no time for it. They were too busy with minutiae. Now it is good to be conscientious about tithes; Jesus had nothing to say against that in itself. But it is rather interesting that the only times when Jesus mentioned tithing, he condemned the people who did it. Not for doing it, but for supposing that that was the main thing in religion. When Jesus picked out something on which all the "law and the prophets" hang, a kind of nail holding up the rest of the Bible, he picked something big. Love to God and love to one's neighbor.

Old Stuff

Another way to be a hypocrite is to be so much interested in the past that you do not apply religion to the present. In Jesus' vivid language, the hypocrites built the prophets' tombs, but they were children of those who had murdered the prophets, and they were the people who would murder Jesus himself. They honored the prophets of the past; but prophets of the living present they could not see and did not honor. It is an ancient and still strong temptation. There are persons in America who are very proud of ancestors who crossed the ocean to worship God freely, but who themselves will not cross a wet street to go to church. There are persons proud of their revolutionary ancestors, who attack with every weapon of slander any one who has any proposals for change today. Revolution in the 18th century—fine!

Revolution in the twentieth century—horrible! There are people who wish to preserve every line of some historic creed and shut down every one who has the least suggestion of change, they forget that the creed-makers they hoped were themselves, radicals, innovators, dangerous men in the eyes of their time. A church that becomes a preserve of antiquities, a historical society, and nothing more, with nothing to say to now, is a church the Pharisees would have loved. . . . but not Jesus.

At 50—it's using less than 10% of its power and brilliant new getaway response at only part throttle. Not only does it permit you to switch the pitch for full-power safety-surge take-off.

Buick's 1956 power-packed CENTURY hardtops—the 2 door Riviera, Model 66 (at top), and the 4-door Riviera, Model 63.

It also gives you absolute smoothness in acceleration and deceleration like you get in no other car in the world.

Drop in on us this week for a sampling of the best performance yet — and for a first-hand look at what else goes with the best Buick yet.

SEE JACKIE GLEASON ON TV — Every Saturday Evening

You have no qualms about the response at your command. Your power plant has no need to breathe hard—so it saves gas, stays young, lasts longer.

So when you take the wheel of a '56 Buick, you take it easy, and still lead the parade. You know you can call out the reserves with a touch of your toe.

And you find you silk through a whole day's driving with the flowing ease of today's new Variable Pitch Dynaflo.*

It's practically no effort at all for a sprinter to walk.

It's a breeze for a weight-lifter to pick up a child.

And so it is with the 1956 Buicks in cruising — for these are the mightiest powered Buicks yet built.

Take the '56 Buick CENTURY pictured here. It's almost a loaf for this beauty to cruise a superhighway at a legal 50 mph. At that point it's using less than 10% of its pedal-to-the-floor power.

And that's just the reason for the record-high power and compression ratio in your big 322 cubic inch V8 engine. You and your engine can take it easy so much of the time.
